Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, April 20. [To the Editor of The Times:] See by the papers that down in Miami, Fla., they arrested Al Capone's brother on the golf course for vagrancy.

A vagrant is a man that has no visible means of support. If they start enforcing that rule it will mean the death of golf. Maybe they searched him and he didn't have either flask or a gun. That would practically constitute vagrancy with a former Chicago resident. Well, I am going to Oklahoma in the morning. I been sitting here waiting for weeks for somebody to take our census. So I finally got an offer to go there and give 'em in.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

HUNDREDS GO IN MINE TO PERISH

Mexican Workers Descend With Families in Attempt to Get Job Guarantee

MEXICO CITY, April 20. (AP)—The newspaper El Universal today reported that 500 miners and their families have gone down into the depths of the Cinco Minas mine, State of Jalisco, and announced they will refuse to come to the surface until either their jobs are guaranteed to them or they are promised indemnities.

Their leaders said the miners prefer to die of hunger in the depths of the earth rather than lose their jobs without payment of an indemnity.

According to El Universal, the miners took this extraordinary decision after the Jalisco State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration had pronounced in favor of the mining company in a wage dispute with the workers.

The miners telegraphed to the Attorney-General at Mexico City, stating their case. He replied by instructing a Federal agent to investigate and see that justice is done.

Promoter Still Defiant and Plans to Fight Against Trial in Los Angeles

Prosecutor Will Appear in Tacoma Court Wednesday Seeking His Custody

BY ALBERT F. NATHAN
"Times" Staff Representative

SEATTLE, April 20. (Exclusive) No bargains of any kind will be offered S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and now a Federal prisoner at McNeil Island.

This announcement came today from Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Deputy Stewart who are here to arrange with Warden Archer of the United States penitentiary at McNeil Island for the return of the former oil man to Los Angeles for trial on a jury bribery charge.

"Before Lewis left Los Angeles to begin serving his seven-year sentence for mail fraud he proposed to me that he be allowed to take a plea of guilty on the overissue charges against him, then testify in behalf of the State and have the other counts against him dismissed," declared Fitts. "I had three meetings with Lewis each at his own request while he was in the County Jail waiting to be taken to the Federal prison. Just before he left I told him that we would accept his plea of guilty. For some reason best known to himself he declined and then next day was taken north by the United States marshal.

BATTLE IN SIGHT

"Under the orders of the United States Attorney-General, Los Angeles county is to have Lewis for trial on the charge of having bribed a juror in the first Julian over-issue case in 1928 and for this sole purpose. Next Wednesday Mr. Stewart and myself will go into the Federal Court in Tacoma and fight for the custody of Lewis. We feel that it will be only a matter of a very few days before he is on his way south to stand trial.

"My office has no more offers to make Lewis and under the terms on which Lewis is being made available to us we could not use him for a witness if we wished to do so. We are going to put him to trial on the jury bribery charge and feel that conviction will result."

Meanwhile Lewis from his cell in the Federal penitentiary today continued to defy the California authorities and announce his intentions to fight their latest move to a bitter end.

"My attorney, George F. Vanderveer, has already filed a writ to prevent my removal from prison here to California," declared Lewis today. "I am going to fight this thing through to the end and will not give up the legal battle until all hope is gone."

DIFFERENT ACCOUNT

Lewis himself gave a slightly different account of the offer spoken of by Fitts and said to have been made before the former oil man left Los Angeles for McNeil Island.

"Fitts came to me while I was in the County Jail in Los Angeles and offered to dismiss all cases against me if I would make a plea of guilty in the overissue matter and then testify for him as a State's witness," Lewis said today.

"In all, Fitts made the same offer to me three times," Lewis added. "Just before I left Los Angeles I told him that I could not assist him as a witness as my testimony would have to include the Los Angeles stock brokers and not the group now being prosecuted. Then I came North."

At any rate as the situation here now stands Attorney Vanderveer for Lewis and United States Attorney Savage with Assistant United States Attorney McCutcheon, will appear before Federal Judge Cushman at Tacoma Wednesday morning as also will Fitts and Stewart, and Lewis's fate will be settled.

CONDITIONS DETAILED

According to both Savage and McCutcheon, as well as Fitts and Stewart the legal battle will be brief, as they assert the law on the subject has been settled several

FIVE IN ONE FAMILY DIE IN FLAMES

Father and Four Children Lose Lives as Mother and One Son Escape

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—A father and four of his children were burned to death early today when fire of undetermined origin swept their apartment on the upper floor of a two-story brick dwelling in Brooklyn.

The dead were Christopher Johnson, 63 years of age, and his children, Clara, 18, Gladys, 16, Elwood, 14, and Harold, 9.

Mrs. Johnson, 60, suffered severe burns of the body and received a fracture of the skull when she jumped from her bedroom window. The eldest son, Christopher, Jr., 23, also jumped. He suffered severe burns and lacerations of the hand.

Although fire department officials said the fire was not "suspicious," an investigation was begun when it was found the fire apparently started just outside the Johnson apartment.

The bodies of the five victims, trapped in their sleep, were charred beyond recognition.

Freed Captive on Way Home

MEXICO CITY, April 20. (AP)—Leonard B. Cassidy, American employee of the Transcontinental Fruit Company, arrived in Mexico City today on his way home after getting away from a group of men who kidnaped him last Tuesday and released him only after many times threatening to kill him.

Cassidy told the Associated Press he is going straight to Peabody, Mass., for rest and recuperation. After a month's rest at home, he plans to return to his work again in Mexico.

COTTON GIN SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—The State of Sergipe, Brazil, is eager for a cotton-ginning plant. It has offered a premium of $3600 to the first individual, company or association erecting a plant equal to that constructed by the municipality of Sao Paolo.

Salesman Seen Near Scene of Girl's Killing

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Mervin Sisson, traveling salesman held at the Arlington County (Va.) Jail, charged with the murder of Mary Baker, young government clerk, was identified today by a laborer as having been near the scene of the crime on the night of the murder, but police are not convinced that the identification is correct.

Sisson, who has offered an apparently unbreakable alibi, was picked out grom a group of four by Charles Quertermous, foreman of a government dredging crew, which was working a mile or two from where Miss Baker's body was found, as the man from whom he had purchased an overcoat and a watch on the night of the 11th inst., when Miss Baker was killed.

Angeleno Hurt in Chicago Crash

CHICAGO, April 20. (Exclusive) Henry W. Jones of Los Angeles who came to Chicago to attend a beauty trade exposition was injured when the taxicab in which he was riding was struck by a private car this morning. He suffered a three-inch scalp wound.

Fred Ragner, the driver of the automobile, was charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. His companion, Charles Jensen, was charged with disorderly conduct.

The taxi chauffeur said that Ragner was driving on the wrong side of the street.

Texas Today Fetes Victory

DALLAS (Tex.) April 20. THOUSANDS CHEER FOR SPAIN'S KING

New Bull Ring Jammed in Loyalty Demonstration; Speaker Defends Alfonso

MADRID, April 20. (AP)—Monarchial supporters braved disagreeable weather with enthusiasm today when thousands flocked to the new bull ring here to demonstrate their loyalty to the King. The bull ring, seating 26,000, was jammed, many thousands standing in the arena itself.

The streets in the vicinity bore many conspicuous signs saying, "Long live the King!" "Long live Spain." Civilian guards and police were stationed near the bull ring in force to prevent disorders.

Jose Gutierrez Rave, one of the meeting's organizers, in a speech said King Alfonso has been the victim of unfair attacks. He described the ruler as sympathetic toward all his subjects, popular abroad, and "more Spanish than all other Spaniards."

Morilla Deza, labor representative, said a great proportion of Spain's workers want the monarchy to continue.

Thirty Thousand Radicals in Leipsig Demonstration Engage in Riot

LEIPSIG (Germany) April 20. (AP) Three persons were killed and about ten injured in a clash between Communist demonstrators and police this afternoon on the Augustus Platz, in the center of the city. A police captain was among the dead.

About 30,000 Communists gathered on the Augustus Platz, a spacious square, for a convention of Communist youth, and the fighting broke out when the police began to put a cordon about the side streets.

The police captain was killed outright and another policeman died from wounds, after an exchange of shots. One Communist was killed.

The police later succeeded in restoring order.

L INDBERGHS SET RECORD IN FLIGHT TO NEW YORK

Hawks's Coast-to-Coast Mark Cut in High Altitude Trip Made in Speed Experiment

NEW YORK, April 20. (Exclusive)—Tearing across country at an average speed of 180 miles an hour in an experimental "high altitude" flight, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh today pushed a Lockheed Sirius plane from Glendale, Cal., to Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in 14h. 45m. 32s., elapsed time. They landed at 11:11 o'clock tonight, clipping 3h. 15m. 36s. from the record set last July by Capt. Frank M. Hawks in another Lockheed monoplane.

The Lindberghs' flight was unique in that it was pursued at altitudes ranging from 10,000 feet to 20,000 feet above the ground, never lower. It was a test of the theory that express and passenger plane service can be greatly speeded if the planes fly in the higher reaches where the air is thinner and the resistance correspondingly less than at lower altitudes.

It was a complete triumph in every way, and Mrs. Lindbergh shared the honors with her husband because she did not ride merely as a passenger, but acted as navigator as well, guiding her husband in the trackless lane by "shooting the stars" with an aviation sextant. This aid was invaluable since the plane all through the flight was far too high for ordinary ground observation.

FEW SEE SHIP

On most of the route thousands craned their necks and strained their ears in vain for an audible or visible sign of the plane's passing. The only time the ship was observed in its rocket-like dash from coast to coast was at 10:40 p.m. when the thunder of its Wasp motor was heard over Allentown, Pa. By that time the ship had been brought down to normal flying altitudes, since the goal was near.

Five thousand men and women waited in the light-drenched field near Garden City all through the evening, for the chance of seeing Col. Lindbergh set a new record. They were not disappointed and they showed their appreciation by cheering wildly and honking their automobile horns as the pilot set the bullet-shaped, low-winged ship on the field in a neat three-point landing.

MORE EXPERIMENTS NEEDED

Col. Lindbergh told reporters after he landed that the record-breaking flight does not definitely establish the theory that flying at the greater heights is a better method for more efficient express and passenger plane service. He said he is pleased with the general results, but that further experiments will be necessary and that he will undertake the experiments.

"The flight was purely experimental," Col. Lindbergh said, "a flight testing the theory that greater speed and efficiency can be obtained by taking advantage of better weather conditions in the higher altitudes.

"I encountered no exceptional winds during the flight. At times we had winds that were slightly advantageous and at other times we ran into head winds that impeded us, although only slightly. All in all, we encountered no exceptional weather.

FOGS DODGED

"We were compelled, several times, to deviate as much as 100 miles from the plotted course in order to get around small areas of cloud and fog. We made the entire flight at altitudes varying from 14,000 feet to 15,500, Mrs. Lindbergh acting as copilot and navigator throughout the trip. She used the navigation sextant to take observations to keep us on our course."

"I suppose," an interviewer ventured, "that you feel elated at having broken the speed record."

"I want to make it plain," answered Col. Lindbergh, "that I really did not break the transcontinental speed record, despite the fact that our elapsed time was less than the time taken by Capt. Hawks on his transcontinental flight. The reason for that is that we made one stop while Capt. Hawks's flight was nonstop."

HAWKS GREETS FLYERS

Capt. Hawks, who was on the field to greet the Lindberghs, does not hold the same view and told the reporters later that there is no doubt of the Lindberghs having set a new record.

"We followed the transcontinental air-mail route all the way from Los Angeles to Wichita, where we landed for gasoline," Col. Lindbergh said. "But after leaving Wichita we were compelled several times to alter our course because of weather conditions. That held true as far as Cleveland. There we hit fog and turned north, following the trans-

T HREE DIE IN GANG WAR

Men Shot Down in Massacre

Two "Tough Joint" Owners and Bartender Found Bullet Riddled

Sedan With Several Men Flees Scene of Early Morning Foray

CHICAGO, April 20. (Exclusive) Two owners and the bartender of a South Side saloon were shot and killed in their resort at 4 o'clock this morning in what probably will come to be known as the unsolved Easter Sunday massacre. The circumstances surrounding this latest outburst from gangland contain all the elements of this peculiar form of assassination familiar to Chicago. Police are busy theorizing and reconstructing the crime. Col. Calvin Goddard, ballistic expert, is examining the bullets removed from the bodies and hopes to trace them to their weapon and its wielder.

The slain men were Walter Wakefield, 29 years of age, who rose from the prosaic occupation of drug clerk to part owner of the Blue Hour saloon; Frank Del Ray, 33, alias Del Re and Dire, known to police as bootlegger, racketeer, terrorist and all-around hoodlum, and Joseph Special, 28, said to be Del Ray's brother-in-law. Del Ray was Wakefield's partner and Special acted as bartender.

LARGE CAR SEEN

The shooting awakened John Canino and his wife, who live in a flat above the saloon. Canino ran to the window in time to see a large black sedan with several men in it start from the corner and vanish. He ran across the street to a garage and called police.

When detectives arrived they found Wakefield behind the bar in front of the cash register. Apparently he had been shot through the back of the head as he was counting $65 which still lay beside the register neatly piled. This, incidentally, eliminated robbery as a motive for the crime.

The body of Special, who had been shot four times, lay beside a stove near the entrance of a rear room. Beneath him was the shattered plaster of paris image of a saint and an open penknife. It is assumed he rushed from the rear room at the sound of the first shots, armed with what weapons he could find, bent on attacking the killer.

Del Ray's body was found near the front door. He had been shot as he attempted to flee.

According to police, Wakefield and Del Ray were workers for Daniel Serritella, Capone lieutenant in the primary committeeman fight in the First Ward.

BAD REPUTATION

The killer or killers must have been known to the saloon-keepers to be admitted after the place had closed for the night.

The saloon long has held a vicious reputation. Five years ago two men fought a death duel there. One was Jimmy Vinci, driver of the death car in the assassination of "Mossy" Enright, union labor leader; the other, Joe Granatta, one of the earliest and deadliest of Chicago's gangland machine gunners.

The Blue Hour was closed for a while. It reopened with Del Ray sharing ownership with Johnny Genaro, brother of "Peppi" Genaro, notorious gunman. Johnny was

BERMAN STILL MISSING

Early Surrender to Government Regarded Certainly; Appearance in Court Today Problematical

That Jacob Berman, State's star witness in the Julian cases, will surrender to Federal authorities within the next few days to begin a seven-year sentence at McNeil Island penitentiary, as foretold exclusively in Sunday's issue of The Times, became a practical certainty last night.

Attorney Otto Christensen, Berman's lawyer, returning to Los Angeles after nearly two days' absence, admitted that he had made a trip to San Francisco and while in the northern city had arranged with Federal authorities there that the mandate necessary for Berman's transportation to McNeil will be issued today.

"I can't make any definite statement on what Berman intends to do at this time, other than to say that he is considering turning himself over to the United States authorities," said Christensen.

Asked whether Berman will be on hand in Superior Judge Wilson's court this morning when the first of the Julian trials is scheduled to be called, Attorney Christensen was noncommittal.

In the meantime, however, efforts to locate Berman in Los Angeles failed and rumor was that he had left the city with no intention of returning.

If the missing man surrenders himself to the Federal authorities, as is expected, it will constitute one of the most vital moves in the Julian cases so far. Berman's testimony was largely responsible for the indictment of nearly half a hundred defendants already named in the Julian cases and his testimony in court has been relied upon by the District Attorney for convictions. Granted immunity in several cases, he was regarded as the State's star witness until Superior Judge McComb resurrected an old indictment against him recently and set trial on the charge of forgery and embezzlement within the next few weeks. It is to escape trial on this indictment that Berman is

TYPHOON SWEEPS ISLAND

Fourteen Philippine Towns Razed by Wind; Damage Heavy With Life Loss Unknown

MANILA (P. I.) April 20. (AP)—A destructive typhoon swept fourteen towns on the Island of Leyte Friday, virtually demolishing the communities of Tolosa and Dulag on the east coast. Thousands were made homeless and the number of dead and injured is not ascertainable.

First reports of the disaster reached Manila forty-eight hours later when Gov. De La Cruz of Leyte wired the American Red Cross here: "Please obtain immediate aid for thousands homeless people, especially food, clothing and building materials."

The typhoon was of small area but of unusual intensity. It came as a surprise to Weather Bureau officials as such storms rarely come at this season of the year in the Philippines.

The Leyte Governor's message described cocoanut trees in the devastated areas as "standing like candles with their tops blown off." The entire crop was destroyed.

Many towns in the devastated region have been completely cut off with telephone and telegraph wires down. The death toll may be large and official reports of destruction cannot be completed in less than a week or more.

Gov.-Gen. Davis, who has been making a trip in the Bontoc region with his daughter, Cynthia, had not been informed of the disaster today. He is expected to return to Manila tomorrow.

The Red Cross has taken action toward organizing the provincial forces of Leyte and Samar and has arranged to send doctors, nurses and relief supplies on the first vessel to leave Manila.

continental air-mail route to New Jersey."

The distance covered in the flight was approximately 2700 miles.

Col. Lindbergh said he and Mrs. Lindbergh will remain in New York for an indefinite period.

TWENTY-TWO MINUTE STOP MADE AT WICHITA

WICHITA (Kan.) April 20. (AP)—Nosing their low-winged monoplane due east into an area of rains and low ceilings, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh left here at 2:42 p.m. today after a twenty-two-minute refueling stop on their high altitude flight from Glendale, Cal., to New York.

Col. Lindbergh said he expected to land at Roosevelt Field in eight hours, completing the coast-to-coast trip in fifteen hours.

Official timers of the National Aeronautic Association, Col. N. O. O'Dell and Wilbur Neeley, announced the Lindberghs had covered the 1249 miles from Glendale at an average speed of 180 miles an hour. This, they said, indicated the Lindberghs would exceed considerably the record established by Capt. Frank M. Hawks July 23, when he flew from Los Angeles to New York in 17 hours, 45 minutes.

SHIP HEAVILY LADEN

Heavily laden, the Lockheed Sirius rose slowly into a northwest wind after taxiing about half a mile and then swung about over a crowd of 5000 at the municipal airport to continue the hop on which Col. Lindbergh sought to demonstrate the possibilities of high flying for fast express and passenger ships.

The Lindberghs landed here at 2:20:30 p.m., central standard time. They had left Grand Central Airport at Glendale approximately seven hours before, 5:26:20 a.m., Pacific Coast time.

The motor was not stopped. The plane took on 245 gallons of gasoline and fourteen gallons of oil. Col. Lindbergh, encumbered by his heavy flying suit, stood in the front cockpit to direct the work. Then he leaped to the ground, his face flushed and smiling, to receive weather reports. Mrs. Lindbergh, the navigator, did not descend.

HIGH ALTITUDE KEPT

The noted flyer said he kept the ship at an altitude above 10,000 feet on practically the entire trip. Mrs. Lindbergh said she was having a good time acting as her husband's navigating assistant. The flyer said he expected to fly at altitudes of from 10,000 to 20,000 feet on the remainder of the trip.

S. P. Peterson, United States Weather Bureau forecaster here, told Col. Lindbergh of bad weather ahead on the flight. The flyer had to pass through a storm area extending from Northern Illinois to Northern Louisiana, Mr. Peterson explained, with low ceilings at Kansas City and St. Louis.

Col. Lindbergh, however, explained that in flying at high altitudes he expected to pass above the storm.

PAIR AT FIELD HALF HOUR BEFORE STARTING FOR EAST

Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from Grand Central Air Terminal at 5:26:20 a.m. yesterday for New York.

Both wore their electrically heated flying suits, developed by Dr. R. R. Charles of Los Angeles. They went to the field a half-hour before the take-off. The motor idled while Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh heard final instructions on the course mapped for them by Harold Gatty of Los Angeles, who taught Mrs. Lindbergh the Weems system of astronomical navigation during the last three weeks.

The Lockheed ship, powered by a 425-horsepower Wasp motor, had 447 gallons of gasoline aboard when it took off. Col. Lindbergh made the ship fly itself off the ground by getting up a high speed after a long run down the field.

Gives $3.50 Truss To Ruptured Men

Pay No Money, Now or Ever, For This Truss, Says Doctor-Inventor

Kansas City, Mo.—In line with today's science, an easy non-surgical method, proved superior for reducible rupture, is the notable invention of Dr. Andrew Kaiser, 1818 Koch Building, 2906 Main Street, Kansas City, Mo. It has no elastic belt, no leg straps, no spring bands, no gouging pads, no sticking plaster discs or straps. Its extraordinary success is proved in the relief reported by hundreds of former sufferers—results after no benefit from previous years of truss wearing. It is the ambition of Dr. Kaiser to have every one with reducible rupture enjoy the pleasing aid of his invention and his company will send it on trial to any one who writes him. No cost unless desired for its reasonable price after the trial. Each one making the trial at once will be given a $3.50 truss, no money ever to be paid for it. Take advantage of this offer. GUEST DIES IN FIRE SET TO BEDROOM

Ex-Member of Shipping Board Victim of Blaze Caused by Cigarette

CHICAGO, April 20. (Exclusive) Donald F. Washburn, prominent in New York affairs and former member of the United States Shipping Board at Kansas City, was burned to death early this morning in the some of Richard P. Matthiesen in Winnotka, where he was a guest.

At about 2 o'clock Mr. Matthiesen was awakened by a thumping noise, apparently coming from Mr. Washburn's room. As he started to investigate he encountered acrid smoke seeping in the door of Mr. Washburn's room. Opening the door he found the entire room ablaze. Mr. Washburn was lying on the floor, his night clothes burning. Risking his life and suffering serious burns, Mr. Matthiesen fought his way through the flames and smoke and dragged out the body of his guest. Mr. Matthiesen called the fire department.

The flames were quickly subdued and an ambulance took Mr. Washburn to a hospital in Evanston. He was unconscious from the fumes of burning celluloid articles on the dresser. A pulmotor was applied but he died in a few hours without regaining consciousness long enough to explain the tragedy.

Investigation of his room indicated that he had placed a lighted cigarette on the dresser and forgotten it when he retired. The cigarette burned through the dresser scarf and ignited the celluloid articles, which flashed up quickly, communicating the flames to the curtains and draperies.

SLAYING OF BANKER LAID TO ACCIDENT

Omaha Newspaper Says Suspect Confesses Part in Nebraska Tragedy

OMAHA, April 26. (AP)—The World Herald says that James A. Davis, 57-year-old laborer of Ralston, Neb., told representatives of the newspaper tonight that the slaying of Oscar J. Milius, suburban banker, was deliberately planned, but that his death was actually accidental.

Davis, the World Herald says, admitted that he was with Milius nearly all the morning of March 1 at the time of the automobile accident in which the latter was burned fatally, and that he actually carried Milius a large part of the four miles to his (Milius's) home.

The paper further declares that Davis, a depositor in the bank of which Milius was president when it failed more than a year ago, has confessed that he wrote threatening letters which were sent to Milius and two others, but that he had done so at the dictation of an accomplice.

The accomplice, Davis is asserted to have told newspaper men, was the instigator of the plot against Milius, who died of his burns in a local hospital a week ago.

WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE BY SLASHING ARTERIES

Cutting both wrists and her throat with a knife at her apartment, 1262 South Crenshaw Boulevard, last night, Miss Marian Ritsches, 33 years of age, is at the point of death at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. She was found by C. Coyne, a neighbor, who notified the police. She left a note which indicated that she was grieving over the absence of her mother, who is in Seattle.

JAPANESE DIET MEETING TODAY

Special Session Compulsory After Election

Party's Majority, However, Safe From Assaults

TOKIO, April 21. (Monday) (AP) The Imperial Diet convened this morning in extraordinary session which, through no design of the Hamaguchi Cabinet, is expected to provide a national sounding board for its enemies' bitter criticism of its acceptance of the London naval limitation agreement.

The assault on the government's position will come mainly from the Seiyukai, main opposition party in the House of Representatives, and influential Conservative elements in the House of Peers. It is not believed, however, that these oratorical attacks, although bitter and supported by the powerful naval clique outside the Parliament, can essentially weaken the Cabinet's political position or swerve it materially from the course of conciliation and agreement with the Anglo-Saxon powers already charted by Premier Yuko Hamaguchi and his Foreign Minister, Baron Kijuro Shidehara.

MINISTRY INTRENCHED

The Hamaguchi Ministry is powerfully intrenched in the Parliament by reason of the landslide victory won by its party, the Minseito, in the general election of February 20. That contest converted a Minseito minority in the lower house to a majority of seventy-six over all other groups, the party strengths being as follows:

Minseito (government,) 271; Seiyukai (chief opposition,) 173; Proletarian parties, 5; Business Men's party, 7; Kakushin Club, 2; Independents, 8. Total, 466.

The two houses met today only for organization. On Wednesday the formal opening will be held in the presence of the Emperor and then the Peers and Representatives will turn to oratory and legislation. The session is to last about three weeks.

NEW COMPLEXION

This session, the Diet's fifty-eighth since its establishment in 1890, is, of course, the first for the new House of Representatives elected in the February landslide. The fifty-seventh Diet was dissolved January 21 because Premier Hamaguchi was determined to go to the electorate in search of a majority in the lower house to support his program of retrenchment, return to the gold standard, reduced budget balanced without loans and thrift in private and public life.

The present session was convoked solely in compliance with the constitutional requirement that an extraordinary sitting be held within five months of a dissolution. It was not called to debate naval limitation and the government probably will be glad to have that troublesome topic barred from the agenda.

CHANCE TO HIT

The opportunity, however, is too tempting for the Seiyukai and other government critics to give up. They will seek to capitalize the already keen public interest in the developments at London and the fairly widespread opposition to the concessions Japan has made in the naval conference to assail the government with charges of "surrendering" national interests at American and British "dictation."

The Diet's chief job this session, from the government's point of view, is to pass supplementary estimates totaling 39,000,000 yen, which, added to the main working budget already in operation for the fiscal year 1930-31, which began the 1st inst., makes a total budget of 1,606,000,000 yen, or 76,000,000 yen less than the 1929-30 estimates. Important projects to be introduced by the Cabinet are an increase of 10,000,000 yen in the national grants for elementary education, schemes for unemployment relief, rationalization of industry and encouragement of home industries.

Four Arrested as Communists

MEXICO CITY, April 20. (AP)—A Cuban, a Frenchman and two Hungarians, all asserted Communists, were put in jail today charged with interrupting Good Friday services in the Profesa Temple, temporary cathedral of Mexico City. The four men were caught in the act of cutting the wires of a loud speaker while the priest in charge was delivering a sermon.

Police intervention saved them from the congregation.

Man Held for Woman's Death

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—A porter in a telephone company building at Long Island City was arrested today charged with homicide in the death of a telephone operator in the building last night.

The porter, James Hughes, 26 years of age, of Flushing, was held in $10,000 bail after another telephone operator charged he kicked Mrs. Stephanie Werner, 22, into an elevator shaft after attempting to kiss her. Mrs. Werner died of her injuries.

PACT PREAMBLE TEXT DISCLOSED

Arkansas had the microphone tonight. His address, coming as it did from the Democratic leader in the United States Senate, attracted more than usual interest in the American delegation. He received many congratulations for the graphic and straightforward manner in which he outlined the problems and results of the London conference.

On Tuesday night, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania will in turn broadcast home his views on the conference.

RESULTS ANALYZED

Senator Robinson, beginning by outlining the primary objectives of the American delegation when it arrived in England, coldly analyzed the degree to which these objectives had been realized. Though he made no mention of his own important role in the negotiations, it was clear he is satisfied with the results of the conference and is convinced that great progress has been made toward international disarmament.

Frankly stating that the five-power pact is not a complete success, he dwelt on the differences between France and Italy held to be largely responsible for the situation. He admitted that attempts to negotiate the five-power treaty were probably unduly prolonged in the effort to solve the French security problem.

However, he emphatically said that the American delegation has made it plain that the United States will not join any European security pact, and added that it has not been asked to do so.

His approval of the London treaty as it stands was couched in his statement that "the provisions in which all five powers join, while less comprehensive than those entered into by the United States, Great Britain and Japan, include a battleship holiday and restriction of the use of submarines, which in themselves are achievements of magnitude and value."

He concluded his address by discussing, category by category, the three-power agreement forming the backbone of the treaty.

TOKIO FORWARDS INSTRUCTIONS TO SIGN

TOKIO, April 20. (AP)—Formal instructions to sign the London naval pact on behalf of Japan were sent today to Reijiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation in London.

After the text had been carefully examined by Premier Hamaguchi and Foreign Minister Shidehara, and other high officials, it was decided there was no need to revise the document.

Before approving the treaty draft Premier Hamaguchi and the Foreign Minister conferred with other high officials for four hours. After the conference the Premier issued a statement for the press.

"We carefully discussed the text of the treaty and found no necessity of revision," the Premier said to the Rengo News Agency. "The Foreign Office will immediately cable M. Wakatsuki instructions to sign. On receipt of M. Wakatsuki's report that the treaty is signed I shall make a further statement regarding the London conference."

Observers believe the Premier's promised statement on the conference will be designed as a reply to attacks on the government's course which the political opposition, including the large navy group and other conservatives, are expected to launch next week, when Parliamentary session opens.

Foreign Minister Shidehara also is expected to make a statement either directly to the press or early in the parliamentary session which begins tomorrow.

STYLES CHANGE IN AIR FIGHTING

Knightly Tilts Above Clouds Out for Next War

Army Planes in North Show Most Modern Tactics

Uncanny Precision of Ships' Formations Impressive

BY MAJ. C. C. MOSELEY

Formerly pilot Twenty-seventh Squadron, First Pursuit Group, A.E.F., now vice-president and western manager Curtiss-Wright Flying Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—To thousands of visitors returned here this Easter Sunday for ground inspection of the 135 army planes taking part in yesterday's air show, the most spectacular phase of the entire thrilling performance was the uncanny precision of its formations.

No less was this impressive to the expert observer, to commercial pilots, and to former war birds who, like myself, have not kept up with the development of military tactics in the air. The tightness of Saturday's formations was positively breathtaking, such masterly cohesion a thing of artistry. Even in sheer vertical plunges when, traveling at 250 miles an hour, the pursuit hawks pounced down upon the great Keystone and Condor bombers, the integrity of their alignment was preserved without deviation. Army Air Corps planes now wheel, deploy, and maneuver with manual of arms exactitude with which the movement of large troops bodies is directed. They even land as complete units.

DUELS THING OF PAST

"Maintain formation at all costs," is the watchword now. Which indicates, as I see it, that the romance of knightly tilting above the clouds is out for the next war. There may be a few isolated "dog fights" among stragglers lost from their comrades, but individual aerial combat is a thing of the past.

In numbers there is not only strength and great concentration of fire, but protection. Woe to the foolhardy pilot who dives into a formation's enfilading crossfire unsupported. And in this vital problem of protection, it was America that went a step further by dispatching organized pursuit groups as convoys for bombing, observation, and attack planes. Adoption of this tactical practice was brought about during closing days of the war when one fatal October morning a squadron of fourteen De Havilands, first day bombardment group, were set upon by German pursuit planes and literally cut to pieces. Only two returned to their bases, with twelve ships shot down and most of them in flames. It was this disaster from which originated the term "flaming coffins."

LOSSES CUT DOWN

It is significant that prior to the adoption of protected escorts for day bombardment, losses of 70 per cent had been registered in American air operations on the Meuse-Argonne front. Without parachutes, but little machine-gun protection, and deadly slow, day bombardment squadrons virtually were suicide missions. By the employment of guarding pursuit groups, the American losses were cut to 10 per cent.

Today's bombing ships, equipped with heavy armament, flying tight formations and well protected by fighters above, should function with deadly efficiency.

SCHEDULE CHANGED FOR DEMONSTRATION HERE

The schedule of the Army Air Corps demonstration at United Airport next Saturday and Sunday has been changed to bring the 170 airplanes of the provisional wing to Southern California twenty-four hours earlier, according to a decision made in Sacramento last night.

The night bombing demonstration in which twenty-eight bombardment planes will fly over Los Angeles dropping flares will occur Friday night instead of Saturday night, according to the new program. The provisional wing will leave Sacramento on Friday morning, arriving at March Field early in the afternoon. The mock attack on Los Angeles will start after sunset, while twenty-eight bombing planes are en route to United Airport, where a short demonstration will be given. The bombers will return to March Field Friday night and the entire fleet will fly to United Airport Saturday morning.

The demonstration of war maneuvers will take place between 2 and 5:30 p.m. Saturday and the evening will be spent in entertaining the 400 officers and men.

WILBUR SOUNDS PLEA FOR INDIAN

Secretary on Redio Stresses Need for New Laws

Legislation to Lighten Yoke of Supervision Urged

Wants Red Man Side-by-Side With Other Citizens

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur declared in a radio address tonight that "plain, common sense administration of the affairs of the Indian is not possible under present conditions, since much that should be done by administration is done by legislation."

The Secretary, who, upon becoming a member of the Hoover Cabinet, inaugurated a policy of gradually weaning the Indian from governmental guardianship, said there is a real opportunity at the present time for "constructive legislation by Congress which should open the way to more efficient operation of the problems of the Indian."

"We must view the position of the government as that of a trustee caring for the person and the property of a ward but as a trustee it must be the endeavor of the government to secure the gradual transfer of the ward of all of the normal functions of American citizenship," he said.

Citing proposed measures calling for the establishment of a court of Indian claims, the lifting of encumberances from Indian lands and the co-operation of governmental with State agencies, Wilbur advocated such legislation to gradually lessen Federal supervision and increase the responsibility of the States in which the Indians reside.

"These are but samples of the types of legislation required if we are to make good in our various Indian policies," he said. "We need to give the Indian the advantages of modern organization and modern business. We need to make his land as productive as possible and let him share in the process of production.

"The present situation is unsound and will remain so until the Indian takes place side by side with the rest of our citizenship, with the normal self-respect that goes with self-support. Our whole program should be to give him increasing opportunities and independence as rapidly as he can be trained."

BUILDING PICKS UP STRIDE AGAIN

April Expected to Reveal Year's First Gains

Steady Increase Since January Shown

Residences Responsible for Main Part of Loss

WASHINGTON, April 20. (Exclusive)—Reports on building in the first quarter of 1930 show a steady increase in contracts awarded since January 1. Building construction in the United States amounts normally to about $8,000,000,000 a year. This is more than the gross operating revenue of all railroads in the country and approximately twice the value of automobile production. With a decrease in total construction work in recent years, with a relatively large share of its output given over to wages, and with many other industries depending on it, building construction was naturally seized upon last fall as the corner-stone of renewed business activity.

The Commerce Department has compiled figures on contracts to build, based on the reports of the F. W. Dodge Company, for the first three months of this year. In January, 1930, they were 21 per cent behind January, 1929; in February, 12 per cent below February, 1929; and in March, 5 per cent below March, 1929. If this trend has continued more construction is being undertaken this month than in April a year ago.

DECLINE ANALYZED

The decline in total construction in the first quarter of this year was due primarily to a bad showing in residential housing. Public buildings, public works and utilities all showed striking increases. Public works and utilities, second only to residential housing in importance, made a peace-time record Contracts awarded in this field amounted to $303,000,00, which is 55 per cent above the figure for the same quarter last year and 20 per cent higher than in any previous peace-time quarter. More contracts for public buildings and private institutions also were let in the first quarter of 1930 than in any similar peace-time period in recent years.

In commercial building contracts amounted to 15 per cent less in the first quarter of 1930 than in the same quarter of 1929, but were 6 per cent higher in March than in March, 1929. And in industrial building where the three months' comparison showed a decline of 17 per cent the figure for March was 33 per cent higher than for March of last year.

RESIDENCES OFF

Residential building, which normally accounts for about one-third of all construction, in the first quarter of 1930 was almost 50 per cent below that of the same quarter in 1929. And 1929 was a poor year for residential construction. Apartment-houses were 63 per cent behind; real-estate development 60 per cent; two-family houses 49 per cent, and dwellings 29 per cent. Hotel construction showed an increase of 29 per cent. To some extent residential building is being retarded because a surplus of it was created in the ten-year period after the war. Also, many people who demand improved living quarters in periods of prosperity endure antiquated housing in time of depression. Again, the Wall-street collapse kept many people from going through with new residential projects, which were hence thrown on the market.

On the other hand, while stock market prices were rising, loans for new housing were hard to obtain. There are no data yet available on how accessible they have now become, but it is known that savings bank and building and loan association funds are again increasing.

HER TALE OF KILLING SPOUSE FOUND TRUE

Belle Chenoweth

CHICAGO, April 20. (Exclusive) A Coroner's jury has ordered Mrs. Belle Chenoweth held to the grand jury on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Chenoweth, according to police, recently reported to them that she believed her husband was planning to poison her. Investigation, police say, showed the belief groundless.

Last Thursday Mrs. Chenoweth is said to have informed her attorney that she had killed her husband. The attorney refused to believe the woman but after she had left his office, he asked the police to investigate. They found the husband shot to death at his home.

Two More Die of Trichinosis

PLACERVILLE, April 20. (AP)—Two more victims of trichinosis were claimed here today when Irene Maar, 25 years of age, and Louise Wunschell, 16, died from the effects of eating home-made salami at a picnic several weeks ago. Today's deaths brought the toll to five.

The other victims were Mrs. Louis Wunschell, 45, her daughter, Frieda, 13, and George A. Wunschell, her brother-in-law. With seventeen others they became ill after a fete in Western Eldorado county.

Other Maternal Claimant to Ask Jury Trial

PORTLAND (Or.) April 20. (AP)—From out of seven babies, all girls and attired uniformly, Miss Geraldine Watson, 21 years of age, of Los Angeles today picked the infant to which she and Mrs. George F. Schaefer, Portland, claim parentage.

Arriving here to combat the claims of Mrs. Schaefer that she gave birth to the baby in a Portland hospital, Miss Watson, who is asserted to have given birth to the infant in Los Angeles and then abandoned it in a hotel, was taken directly to a home where the baby has been cared for under a court order.

Without great delay, Miss Watson pointed to a dimple-cheeked, chubby and fair-haired infant and exclaimed: "That's my baby. I could pick her out of 100."

Miss Watson was accompanied to Portland from Los Angeles by Miss Martha Randall, Portland police woman, who was detailed by the court to investigate the double claims for possession of the infant. The hospital physician denied that Mrs. Schaefer gave birth to the baby, but the Portland woman insisted she is the mother of Georgia Jane, the baby.

Mrs. Schaefer's attorney announced yesterday that a jury trial will be asked when Mrs. Shaefer and Miss Watson appear in court tomorrow to iron out their maternal differences.

BERMAN MAY ENTER PRISON

Attorney Admits Arranging for Transportation

Hahn Will Charge Wilson With Prejudice

Four Brokers Face Bribe Inquiry Today

MAZE OF COMPLICATIONS

While the Berman matter was developing, further complications also loomed last night in the already much-tangled Julian case.

Outstanding in the maze of rumor, report and conjecture that surrounds the situation were these facts:

(1.) Attorney S. S. Hahn, representing defendants in two cases scheduled for trial in Superior Judge Wilson's court this morning, announced yesterday that he will file an affidavit of prejudice against Judge Wilson. This action automatically will stay trial for some weeks.

(2.) Dep. Dist.-Atty. Shelley, who left on a mysterious trip north Friday night in the Julian case, was still absent and the definite nature of his trip unannounced.

Three cases are scheduled for trial in Judge Wilson's court this morning and last night there apparently were at least two pertinent circumstances that will cause a postponement.

OTHER CASES

When Attorney Hahn files his affidavit of prejudice he automatically will disqualify Judge Wilson, temporarily, at least, from further action in the cases of John B. Groves, former juror asserted to have accepted a bribe, and of Louis Krause, Jacob Berman and Louis Berman, indicted on the assertion that they conspired to bribe Groves and another juror.

The remaining case is, that of Frank Grider, the other juror indicted. Grider is represented by Attorneys Jud Rush and William B. Beirne, neither of whom has announced what action he will take in court this morning. If, however, as seems very possible, Jacob Berman is not on hand as the main State's witness, it will be impossible to bring the case to trial.

Berman was promised immunity in these cases by the grand jury which heard his testimony, but since that time was ordered arrested by Superior Judge McComb.

BROKERS' CASES

Along with the other developments, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison is scheduled today to question four brokers reported also to have been victimized by persons assertedly extorting money from them in exchange for permits to sell stock.

The names of the four brokers were furnished the District Attorney's office by J. H. Roth, broker, whose testimony before the grand jury recently led to the indictment of former Corporation Commissioner Friedlander and Charles Crawford, politician.

Also today considerable activity is expected on the part of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon in subpoenaeing a large number of new witnesses to appear at the next session of the grand jury tomorrow morning. The inquisitorial body is scheduled to continue its investigation of the Julian and associated matters that already has resulted in the indictment of more than fifty persons.

ITALO EX-OFFICIAL PLANS TO VISIT FITTS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Alfred G. Wilkes, former general manager of Italo Petroleum Corporation, left tonight for Los Angeles, where he expects to discuss affairs of that company with Dist.-Atty. Fitts. Wilkes declared that up to a late hour today he had neither seen nor heard from any deputy of Fitts, although dispatches Saturday told of the coming of a deputy here by plane to talk to Wilkes and Paul Masoni, former Italo secretary, concerning stock-selling permits granted that concern during the incumbency of J. M. Friedlander, former Corporation Commissioner.

times by the United States Supreme Court.

Fitts and Stewart arrived here Saturday at noon following a secret trip from Los Angeles and served Warden Archer with a writ of habeas corpus ad prosequendum. The latter notified the Los Angeles prosecutor that he had been ordered by the United States Attorney-General to honor the writ and that Lewis will be returned to Los Angeles for trial.

According to the conditions imposed by Washington (D. C.) officials, Lewis is to remain in the custody of the representatives of the warden at all times, all expenses of guards and railroad fare to be supplied by Los Angeles county, and Lewis to appear in the southern city for the sole purpose of the bribery trial.

Bishop Sticks to Accused Son

NEW YORK, April 20. (Exclusive)—Rt. Rev. James Mathew Maxon, Episcopal Bishop of Tennessee, arrived here today and sent word to his 21-year-old son, James, Jr., in the West Side Jail that he will "stick to the last ditch" to defend the student.

The son is confined in the jail without bail on a charge of homicide as a result of a liquor-crazed brawl in a rooming-house in West End avenue during which the son is accused of having killed David Paynter, 73 years of age, fellow-lodger, by beating him over the head with a chair.

WOMAN DIES IN CRASH

WATSONVILLE, April 20. (AP)—Mrs. Lavina Jennings, 45 years of age, wife of Byron A. Jennings, local blacksmith, was killed today in a collision between the automobile in which she was riding and another on the Santa Cruz highway, two miles north of here.

ECLIPSE OF SUN SPORTING EVENT

Astronomers Bet Heavily on Getting Picture

Cameras Set to Shoot Tiny, Speeding Shadow

Moon Valleys May Spoil Chance of Success

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) April 20. (AP)—Of all the gambling chances taken by American astronomers to photograph a sun's eclipse, the biggest one comes a week hence.

This time a joker—some valleys a miles deep on the edge of the moon—is added to the usual pack of uncertainties likely to spoil sight of an eclipse after thousands of dollars have been spent in preparation.

Possibly never before have the valleys on the moon threatened to interfere directly with man's earthly plans, because the eclipse which will sweep over the far west about noon Monday, the 28th inst., is of a rare kind.

TINY, MOVING TARGET

It is exceedingly small, a black shadow, round as a dollar, only half a mile across, traveling nearly 1600 miles an hour, its total land path about 1000 miles, from just north of San Francisco to the Montana State line—at best a tiny target to shoot at through the usual cloud barrages. It lasts barely more than one second at one place.

In addition, its exact position is in doubt, due to infinitesimal uncertainties about motions of sun, moon and earth, such as the occasional alteration of the length of a day by one-three hundredth of a second. Hence astronomers are setting up their cameras in a wide belt, hoping that one will catch the single black second at its center.

VALLEYS MAY INTERFERE

But the valleys of the Moon may undo all this preparation. The authorities for this are Dr. Ernest W. Brown of Yale, president of the American Astronomical Society, and Dr. Willard J. Fisher of Harvard Astronomical Observatory.

This eclipse is tiny because the moon just barely covers the sun's face. If a mile-deep valley happens to lie exactly on the edge of the moon—called by astronomers the moon's limb—light shining earthward through this trough, Dr. Brown says, is likely to interfere with the expected half-mile-wide shadow. He says in the official scientific publication, Science, that it may result in a complete absence of totality anywhere.

"We have plenty of evidence," he says, "of valleys on the limb of the moon a mile or more deep and of mountains even higher than this amount. But our knowledge of their exact position at the time of the eclipse is not sufficient to enable us to use it for a prediction."

PATH OF TOTALITY

The eclipse will be visible throughout the United States. Denver will get a three-quarters shadow, Chicago more than half, New York about half, Atlanta one-third, and Florida one-quarter. The path of totality runs through Nevada, a tip of Oregon and across Idaho.

From there on the center of the eclipse is annular—that is, ring-shaped, a rim of sun showing all around the moon's black disc. This annular spectacle will sweep across Montana into Canada, across Hudson Bay, and Labrador.

There will be another total eclipse of the sun this year, October 21, visible only in the South Pacific Ocean, mostly over water.

TWO SHOT IN BATTLE AT BORDER

Officer and Asserted Smuggler Wounded in Clash Near Douglas

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) April 20. (AP)—Edward J. Leahy, mounted inspector of the United States customs border patrol, is in a hospital tonight with a bullet wound in his right leg and another in his abdomen, the result of the first serious clash between customs patrolmen and smugglers to take place here in several years.

Leahy and his companion patrol officer, Jack Meadows, were lying in the flats this morning west of Douglas, not more than a quarter of a mile from Agua Prieta and their own inspection station when a party of fifteen smugglers appeared. The officers called upon them to surrender, and a gun battle ensued.

Meadows, a veteran officer, shot one of the smugglers in the legs. The man is being held under guard in a hospital. Meadows carried his wounded comrade to a car they had hidden in the brush and rushed him to medical aid.

Deputy Collector of Customs Edward M. Specht declined a statement pending an investigation. Physicians at the hospital said they expect Leahy to recover.

Alexander, president of the National Industrial Conference Board, 247 Park avenue, in the semiannual report on world economic conditions just issued by the conference board.

WHAT IS REAL REFRIGERATION

WHAT do you want your refrigerator to do? Keep foods amply cold—surely! But keep them appetizing in appearance and deliciously fresh in taste too—with their juices and flavor preserved.

For such a thorough refrigeration job—the cheapest, most dependable, safest—in fact the ONLY refrigerant is ICE, especially if you have one of the ultra-modern scientific ice refrigerators now on sale by The Union Ice Company.

You'll be especially interested in the new one-door ice refrigerator, which combines greater beauty with latest developments (larger food storage ... baked enamel finish ... more available ice and food compartments). 1930 Ice Refrigerators are not merely more efficient and sanitary ... they're tremendously attractive with their modern lines and gleaming white or pastel finish.

HALF OLD TIME PRICES — only $30 to $70 — Easy terms: And a liberal allowance on your old box! Why spend more for an extravagant substitute for ice refrigeration—and get less. Remember! Only ICE does a thorough refrigeration job.

"STOP THE CLEAN RED, WHITE AND BLUE TRUCK FOR SATISFACTORY ICE SERVICE"... A background of 50 years of courteous dealing with the public gives The Union Ice Company and its delivery salesmen a true knowledge of the words "ICE SERVICE."

HOOVER JOINS IN EASTER RITES

President Attends Church of Quaker Faith

First Lady Kept Home by Wrenched Back

Large Congregation Hears Resurrection Story

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—President Hoover sat in his pew of the Irving-street Friends Meeting-house this morning to meditate and hear expressions on the spiritual significance of Easter.

In the quiet dignity of the little church, unornamented and undecorated except by a large vase of Easter lilies before the pulpit, the Chief Executive joined in the long familiar services of the orthodox Quaker faith. Mrs. Hoover, who painfully wrenched her back a week ago, remained in her room today.

RESURRECTION PORTRAYED

The services opened with a period of silent meditation while warm sunshine suffused through the brown-stained windows. After a prayer by Dr. Augustus T. Murray and another period of meditation, a woman minister among the seven with the pastor on the platform spoke briefly on the resurrection. There was another period of meditation, then Dr. Murray portrayed simply, in resonant voice, the story of the resurrection.

The President sat quietly as the minister outlined different conceptions of the resurrection and of Christ's words: "He that believeth in Me has life." At first, Dr. Murray said, some of the disciples believed in physical resurrection, then later came the realization that resurrection was beyond corporeal life—"that we are to find Him in our own lives and in our own souls." The pastor read from Whittier, to concluded with the poet's lines that "He is his own best evidence, his witness is within."

ALL SEATS FILLED

The congregation, filling every available seat, including an anteroom at the side and two rows of chairs back of the seven rows of pews comprising the center section, sang one hymn to piano accompaniment. There was no chorus.

Another minister of those who spoke briefly told of a tiny and beautiful old church in Philadelphia maintained through the kindness of a donor who urged that everyone should give one-tenth of his fortune "to make happier others less fortunate than they."

"Is that not finer than any sermon?" the minister asked.

He wished that everyone "would take so seriously their Christianity or their Quakerism or whatever they wish to call it that our neighbors may say they lived that we might live more abundantly."

After a final period of silent meditation, the benediction was asked and the hour's services ended.

EDUCATION TAKEN TO STUDENTS

Traveling Schoolhouse Uses Railroad to Visit Mexican Children

MONTERREY (Mex.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Through the co-operation of the National Railways of Mexico, a traveling school for the benefit of poor children of small communities on the lines of that system in the State of Nuevo Leon has been placed in operation by Prof. Andres Asuna of Monterrey, State Superintendent of Education. The school is made up of several box cars, some of which are fitted with desks and other schoolroom equipment, others carrying school supplies, and one box car fitted up as the home of the traveling teacher. The railroad furnishes free of charge the box cars, engine and train crew. The itinerant school is moved up and down the lines, stopping at the little towns two or three times a week for a day's instruction for the children who flock in from their homes within a radius of several miles. The school affords accommodation for approximately 150 pupils.

In some towns the traveling teacher is able to obtain voluntary aid from persons who have had more or less education. It was stated by Prof. Osuna that this novel method of bringing the fundamentals of education within reach of hundreds of children who otherwise would be denied any schooling is proving a great success.

China Revives Civil Service

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Civil service as the guage of ability for holding responsible positions is being revived in China, say dispatches to Dr. Henry K. Chang, Chinese Consul-General.

The national government has inaugurated a revival of the system in a mandate calling upon all civic officials in Nanking to take civil service examinations to determine their merits. The Nanking edict is said to be the forerunner of a general practice.

GRASSHOPPERS GET LOTS OF FRESH AIR

DES MOINES, April 20. (AP)—Apparently nature was intent upon giving tissues of insects the advantage of "out doors" environment so far as fresh air is concerned, says a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. L. S. Ross and Royal L. Tassell of Drake University.

They explain how well nature succeeded in grasshoppers in which they find a "rich provision" of hair-like air tubes penetrating into parts of the insect's body.

EAST ALSO GREETS SUNRISE

New York's Easter Pageants, Indoors and Out, Followed by Fifth-Avenue Style Parade

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—With the rising of the sun New York began its celebration of Easter today—a celebration of chants and pageants that stretched from the dingy pavements of the Bowery to the candle-lighted altars of Fifth-avenue cathedrals, fragrant with incense and the perfume of a thousand lilies.

The first of the Easter observances began with a mass at 2:30 a.m. at St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church and with the sunrise scores of chimes and choirs throughout the city joined in the age-old chant: "Christ is risen! Hallelujah!"

Thousands of New Yorkers rose to attend out-of-door services on the grounds of Columbia University, New York University and in Washington Square.

HOBOS CLOWN

With the close of the morning services in the churches the throngs poured onto Fifth avenue for the Easter parade and here the Bowery's threadbare garments mingled with Park avenue's new spring fashions as "Mr. Zero," led about seventy-five of his hobo followers past St. Patrick's Cathedral at the parade's height. Some of these latter wore faded silk hats and swallowtail coats.

The fashionable paraders appeared in colorful array before a battery of cameras that lined the curbs—and as usual it was the feminine contingent that held the eye.

Women's knees are to remain in hiding if this spring's fashions are any indication, for all the skirts displayed today were from three to seven inches below the knee and even in line.

Milady's accessories were the outstanding note in her array. She carried a colorful silk handkerchief trailing from her handbag to match the lining of her coat; her hatband was of the same material as her frock; necklace and earrings sounded the color note of her ensemble.

COLORS FAVORED

Black and blue were her favored shades, while beige, green and gray followed a close second and shades of orange-red were noticeable.

Suits were little in evidence despite style predictions and the warm day. Instead the fashionable woman wore a coat, caped or furred—often both—a one-color crepe frock of the same color or a print reflecting its tint. Her hat, nine times out of ten, was of novelty straw with a brim almost poke-bonnet in design and untrimmed except for a ribbon band or pin Her shoes and bag were generally of the same color while on her shoulders she wore one of the ribboned bouquets of orchids, gardenias of sweet peas.

FIRST MAIL CARRIER ON JOB IN PARK

Yosemite Inaugurates New Service for Those Living in Valley

YOSEMITE, April 20. (Exclusive) The first mail-carrier service in the history of Yosemite National Park will be inaugurated here May 1, according to an announcement made by F. C. Alexander, postmaster.

The new service of both mail and parcel-post delivery is for residents living on the floor of Yosemite Valley and the offices of the National Park Service and the Yosemite Park and Curry Company. The delivery system will start with one carrier and others will be added if necessary to facilitate the distribution of mail.

This service will eventually be extended to the public camp grounds in which a ranger is in charge. Postmaster Alexander stresses the fact that all campers whether or not expecting mail should make a practice of inquiring at the general-delivery window once each day as hundreds of unclaimed letters are returned through failure of addressees to call for them. Notices of undelivered telegrams are also sent to the postoffice.

During the summer months there are postoffices located at Camp Curry, Yosemite Lodge and the New Village. In winter, the first two named offices are closed and mail and parcel post are delivered through postoffice boxes and general delivery at the New Village office. The mail-carrier service, if proven successful, will be continued both summer and winter.

BANDED SEA-MEW MAKES LONG TRIP

BELEM DE PARA, April 20. (AP) After flying from the United States to Brazil a sea-mew fell exhausted at Lgarape-Mirim near the lower Amazon recently.

It died soon after being found.

On one of its legs was a band requesting that the United States Biological Survey be notified and this was done. The bird's number was 33-1210.

MOSCOW'S DEVOUT GO UNMOCKED

Easter Rites Conducted Without Interference by Antireligious Groups

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times.]

MOSCOW, April 20. (Exclusive)—The threatened antireligious demonstration did not occur in Moscow last night and there were no "Godless" processions accompanied by ribald songs and mockery of sacred rites. Doubtless, an order had been given, which constitutes no insignificant measure of the change that has come in the past two months.

Although many of Moscow's innumerable churches are closed or diverted to other than religious uses many still are open, and from the great central cathedral built to commemorate the victory over Napoleon down to a tiny fane with painted domes and minarets in a quiet side street they presented an unwonted spectacle of crowded worship. In contrast to previous years there was no hooliganism, drunkenness or attempt at interference.

Yet, it was a subdued and melancholy Easter service in the Moscow churches, which used to ring forth with the sounding of the bells while gorgeously robed priests and gilded banners accounced the glad news that Christ had risen. The holy mother Moscow, the city of churches, vibrated and echoed with the pealing bells during the Easter week in the olden days, and as midnight struck from the Kremlin Tower processions moved out from every church in the city in a leftward circle to seek, according to the ancient symbolism, the Savior's body, and then returned to the church door, where the choir sang loud and triumphant, "Christ Is Risen, Christ is Here, Among Us," and the worshipers embraced each other.

This year the bells were silent throughout Moscow.

YAQUIS CLOSE EASTER DANCE

Indian Celebration Lasts for Entire Week

Ceremonies Mix Christian and Pagan Rites

Burning of Judas Climax to Weird Observance

TUCSON, April 20. (Exclusive)—With a quaint mixture of Christian impressiveness and pagan abandon, the Yaqui Indians of this vicinity today terminated their week-long Easter dance of death, a rite they instituted years ago when the Spanish padres told them the story of Calvary.

The weird wailing of wrinkled squaws mingled incessantly with the monotonous throb of the tom-toms as the strange celebration drew to a close and devout tribes made their way back to the settlements.

The dance began a week ago and continued without interruption daily and nightly, reinforcements replacing each tiring group in carrying on the tribal simulation of the Crucifixion and Resurrection. After a circuit of the improvised Stations of the Cross on Good Friday, the anticlimax was reached yesterday when Judas Iscariot was burned in effigy.

Decayed Teeth Often Cause Serious Organic Diseases

By DR. PAINLESS PARKER
Founder of the E. R. PARKER SYSTEM

Ignorance is one great cause why people neglect their teeth. They do not know that a decayed tooth may poison the whole body, yet such is the case.

A small hole in a tooth, which can hardly be seen or felt, may, if neglected, lead to very serious illness. Decay eats away the tooth till the pulp, or inside, of the tooth becomes diseased. This may cause no pain, but all the time diseased matter is passing with the food into the stomach. Then the root is infected, and poisonous pus forms, which the blood carries to all parts of the body.

Physicians recognize today that disease of the heart, brain, lungs, blood, kidneys, stomach, and other organs may be caused by decayed teeth.

Why, then, keep a breeding place for disease in your mouth?

Dentists who use the E. R. Parker System have offices equipped with X-Ray machines and other modern appliances for determining hidden pus pockets and other diseased conditions of the teeth. When diseased conditions are found, the conditions can usually be corrected without extraction of teeth—that is, if attended to promptly.

Why not consult your nearest dentist who uses the Parker System? Examination free.

"What's He Up to Now in Europe?" Diplomats Ask

Bethlen's Rome Visit Causes Flood of Speculation

Hungarian Premier Admits Discussion of Outlook

VIENNA, April 20. (Exclusive)—Count Stephen Bethlen, Prime Minister and firm ruler over the kingless kingdom of Hungary, returned to Budapest last week from his visit to Rome and simultaneously diplomats who preside at the foreign offices at every capital in Central Europe and the Balkans lifted their ears from the ground, where they had been firmly glued for the week, and asked almost in one accord:

"What is Premier Mussolini up to now in Eastern Europe?"

LITTLE DIVULGED

Prime Minister Bethlen divulged little. He admitted he talked things over with Il Duce and that they agreed to "continue the policy of hearty friendship between Hungary and Italy."

"Naturally we discussed the general political conditions in Central Europe," said Count Bethlen, "but that was all and any journalist who adds to that is inventing things."

Then he launched into staunch praise of Italian Fascism, which showed, he said, "how a country can raise through the power of will and love of work."

But how far is Italy prepared to back up Hungary and Bulgaria, not to mention Austria, with whom she recently negotiated a treaty of friendship against the Little Entente, composed of Czecho-Slovakia, Jugo-Slavia and Rumania, backed up as they are by French gold, French enterprise and the Paris government itself?

FEAR ENGENDERED

This is the question every little chancellory in Central Europe and the Balkans is asking today, and with some nervousness, for whatever else may have been the result of Premier Mussolini's policy in Eastern Europe, one thing is certain and that is it has engendered fear, especially in Prague, Belgrade and Bucharest.

It was from these capitals, which are closely linked in a military alliance against Hungary, that most of the protests came last week against the manner in which Count Bethlen and Premier Mussolini are joining hands, "at the expense of peace" in Eastern Europe.

One paper, obviously inspired by the government, warned "that it would be folly to try to effect a settlement in Central Europe without the co-operation of the Little Entente."

SUSPICION EXPRESSED

The press in Belgrade and Bucharest expressed a guarded suspicion that the meeting of Bethlen and Mussolini will do no good and might do harm to the tranquillity of the Danube state alone.

Despite the fears and jealousies that the nations of the Little Entente have fanned, it is hinted here by France, which has no desire to see Italy's influence in the Balkans augmented, that reliable information divulges Bethlen's latest flirtation with Il Duce was a tame affair.

Count Bethlen is said unofficially to have thanked the Italian leader, as did Chancellor Johann Schober in behalf of Austria, for Italy's aid in helping Hungary at The Hague reparations conference. He also obtained promise of Italian backing for floating an international loan of $105,000,000 and discussed the general terms of a new trade treaty with Italy made necessary by recent commercial agreements Italy made with Rumania and Austria.

AID PLEDGED

He particularly pledged Hungary's aid in helping Italy develop the former Hungarian port of Fiume which the poet Gabriel D'Annunzio seized for Rome. By getting Hungary to route all of its maritime goods by way of Fiume, Italy is said to expect to hamper the development of the Greek port of Saloniki, where Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria have free zones, but use them little.

Finally Count Bethlen is reported to have discussed the general situation regarding a treaty revision, which Hungary never ceases to demand in the name of 3,500,000 Hungarians and their rich lands transferred by the Allies into Czecho-Slovakia, Rumania and Jugo-Slavia.

That Rome has occasionally flirted with Magyars for the remaining part of their old territory is well known, but Count Bethlen realizes better that, even with Italian backing, nothing can be done about this now—not as long as the Little Entente is encouraged by France and talks of war at every whisper of changing treaty frontiers.

ENGLAND ALERT

But while France and Italy struggle to maintain their respective influences in the Balkans, Great Britain is not sleeping at the post. This week, it was learned today, the British Minister at Sofia, R. A. C. Sperling, will visit Belgrade, Bucharest, Athens and Ankara to pay a personal visit to his diplomatic colleagues, and also to bring about a settlement of the outstanding problems between Bulgaria and her neighbors.

In Belgrade he will push negotiations, already instigated by the British government between Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria, concerning their efforts to clean up the Macedonians, whose raiding parties into Serbian territory during the last two months have resulted in a heavy loss of life.

In Bucharest he will try to settle the differences between Rumania and Bulgaria over the harsh treatment of the Bulgarian population in Rumania Dobruja, which Rumania took from Bulgaria after the second Balkan War. The British Minister's principal task at Athens will be to bring a solution to the damage claims of Bulgaria and Greece resulting from the war.

GOOD FORTUNE ARRIVES ON WINGS OF TRAGEDY

ST. PAUL, April 20. (AP)—Good fortune has flown on the black wings of tragedy into the squalid home of a 60-year-old St. Paul woman.

Impoverished for nearly thirty years, Miss Justine Clements learned today that she is to receive $20,000 from the estate of her only brother, Ferdinand Clements, a former St. Paul chef.

He was wounded fatally, on the 8th inst., during an altercation at Perris, Cal. Bullets fired at him by an old friend, Constable John Pike of Perris, ended his life.

The sister, a native of France and unable to speak English, has lived alone in the basement of a house here for several years. Occasional work as a laundress kept her in food and clothing. She paid no rent.

She was told of her brother's death and the inheritance, which will be paid at the rate of $100 a month, by Charles Villaume, a friend, who was notified through a newspaper clipping sent him by friends in Riverside.

Four Negroes at Baptismal Rites Drown in River

ST. LOUIS, April 20. (AP)—Four negroes, a preacher, two deacons and a 13-year-old girl, were drowned this afternoon in the Mississippi River during an Easter baptismal service. Another negro, a deacon, escaped drowning in an attempted rescue.

The four were swept away in the river current when they lost their footing soon after wading out into the stream on the levee here to baptize the girl, the only baptismal candidate for the ceremony. A crowd of about fifty other negroes saw the drownings.

The victims were Rev. Robert C. Williams, pastor of the Hopewell Misionary Baptist Church; Deacons Joseph McGee and Henry Turner and Viola Lewis.

BAY CITY METHODISTS OPEN CHURCH IN HOTEL

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—The doors of the new Temple Methodist Church in the William Taylor Hotel building were thrown open to its congregation today for Easter services. Every pew in the church was occupied, while the lobby and organ loft were crowded with well-dressed parishioners who went to attend the opening services of San Francisco's newest temple. Rev. Walter John Sherman, pastor, opened the services with a sermon on "What Man Can Look on Death Unterrified?" The church, which occupies three floors of the building, was decorated with lilies and special choir music was provided.

DOOM MENACES KANCHOW, CHINA

City Besieged by Army of Red Marauders

Death Promised Foreigners for Stubborn Defense

Country Ravaged With Fire and Sword of Foe

SHANGHAI, April 20. (AP)—A letter received here today from a missionary in the besieged city of Kanchow, Kiangsi Province, said a situation of anarchy prevails in the district under a bandit regime engaging in wholesale carnage and plunder.

The letter said Reds who have besieged the city for weeks consider foreigners within the walls responsible for the strong resistance of Chinese soldiery. The bandits are quoted as promising to execute every foreigner in Kanchow "as soon as the city is captured."

STUBBORN DEFENSE

While machine gunners and riflemen on the city's walls kept up a stubborn resistance, the bandits are described as dividing their time between the siege of the city and plunder of the countryside.

The wealthy classes especially are said to have suffered from the bandits' hatred. In one village thirty-five landowners were shot as a warning to others to surrender their property without resistance.

Villages have been looted and many hostages, including numerous young women, kidnaped. Many of the latter are described as contemplating suicide when opportunity offered.

SOVIETS ORGANIZED

Foreign mission stations in South Kiangsi were attacked and the lands confiscated. Title deeds were destroyed after the missionaries fled and the captors organized communal governments, the missionary's letter said.

An acute food shortage is predicted because the fields are not planted.

"It is only a matter of time until the entire South Kiangsi passes from government control," the letter concluded. "The future is indeed black."

PROVINCE OVERRUN

Advices from Chekiang Province said upward of 20,000 bandits had overrun the Chekiang - Anhwei provincial borders, killing hundreds and exacting thousands of dollars from the people. Canton dispatches said Kwangtung bandits have become so emboldened they are moving about as military units, capturing constantly increasing areas, establishing their own governments and levying their own taxes.

Virtually the entire province of Kiangsu north of the Yangtze River continues bandit-scoured despite sporadic opposition of the government.

ITALY WANTS MONEY

The Italian Minister to China, now in Canton, demanded that the Kwangtung authorities pay 100,000 Mexican dollars indemnity for the recent slaying by bandits of two Italian missionaries in North Kwangtung.

Provincial officials replied the Nationalist government at Nanking is responsible for indemnities.

Wealthy Texas Woman Strikes Oil on Ranch

CORPUS CHRISTI (Tex.) April 20, (Exclusive)—Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier of Austin has brought in an oil well upon her ranch in Duval county. The pay was encountered at 2874 feet. No gauge has been made of the flow, but it is estimated at about 1000 barrels daily. Mrs. Sevier is operating on her own account and has leased none of her land.

She has already brought in several large gas wells upon the ranch. She is one of the wealthiest women in Texas. Some years ago she purchased outright the historic Alamo in San Antonio and donated it to the State.

American Toy Exports Grow

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—The "Made in United States" mark on toys is becoming more familiar to boys and girls throughout the world.

According to the Department of Commerce, a steady growth in American-made toys sold abroad has been made the past few years, climaxed in 1929 when exports amounted to $3,933,749.

The United States, however, imported more toys than it exported. The total from abroad totaled $5,129,058.

Recovering from its post-war slump, Germany is again the United States' leading competitor in the toy trade.

STATE GROUPS WILL CONFER IN DISPUTE

MADISON (Wis.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Gov. Kohler announced today that a conference has been called between Wisconsin and Texas committees in an attempt to settle differences between the two States resulting from the Real Estate Board's action in barring the sale of Texas land in this State. The decision was announced following a conference between Gov. Kohler, E. H. Grootemaat, W. E. Webster, A. T. Uehling, Senator Mehigan, Ralph Runge and William Doll of the Real Estate Board; Carl Johnson, F. J. Clausen and George F. Kull of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' Association.

PORT RULE TO EXTEND

SHANGHAI, April 20. (Exclusive) Jurisdiction of the Shanghai maritime customs administration is to be extended to Changchiatang Harbor in the upper reaches of the Whangpoo River, east of Woosung, as one of the steps in developing the facilities of the port of Shanghai.

IRISH PRESIDENT'S SONS CARRY PEAT TO SCHOOL

CARNA (Ireland) April 20. (AP)—The two young sons of President Cosgrave, Michael, 11 years of age, and Liam, 9, take two pieces of peat sod with them every day to school in conformity with an old Connemara custom of heating the school with fuel brought by the pupils.

The boys enrolled in the national school here to learn the Irish language. Galway is the heart of the Irish nationalism and old and young speak the native Gaelic.

Police Trucks Heavily Armed

NEW YORK, April 20. (Exclusive) Any doubt the Communists may have had that the big green emergency trucks of the New York police department, which attended the recent Red activities at Union Square and City Hall, contained tear gas bombs, machine guns and rifles, was dispelled when it was disclosed these weapons are listed as required equipment—for the trucks.

General order No. 20, issued the 12th inst., from the office of Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, reveals nineteen such trucks are scattered through the city for reserve duty, each carrying six tear gas bombs, six smoke bombs, a Thompson submachine gun with 1200 rounds of ammunition, two .44 Winchester rifles and a Remington .12 gauge shotgun.

Bay Teachers May Get More Pay Next Year

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Increases for school teachers in San Francisco county, approved by the executive committee of the Board of Education, will boost the budget $360,000 for the coming fiscal year if adopted by the entire board, as expected. The budget with the increases, will total $11,240,000. Increases range from $100 for beginners to $1200 a year for veterans of twenty years' service and a $2000 boost to $12,000 annually for Supt. Gwynn.

Low Summer Fares East
Starting May 22... with this Extra Privilege offered only by Southern Pacific

SOUTHERN PACIFIC'S greatly reduced summer roundtrip fares to all eastern points will be in effect May 22 to September 30. (Return limit, October 31.)

And instead of but one route east, Southern Pacific offers you your choice of four! Four smooth steel-ways across the continent. Go east one Southern Pacific way—come back another at no added cost. Pick the cities you want to visit. Lift the natural wonders you want to see. Then link them all in one glorious "vacation trip of a lifetime."

Thus it's easy to double the interest and variety of your journey—see parts of America new to you. For each route is different. Each brings romance, adventure, new sights to see—with every mile. And remember—only Southern Pacific offers you this extra privilege of choice of routes.

Choose from These Four

GOLDEN STATE ROUTE: The direct line to Chicago, via Phoenix, El Paso, Kansas City. No train in the world finer than the "Golden State Limited" 61¼-hour flyer to Chicago. Two other fast trains, the "Apache" and "Californian."

SUNSET ROUTE: Via Phoenix, El Paso, San Antonio, Houston and New Orleans. The far-famed "Sunset Limited" (only two nights to New Orleans) and the "Argonaut." Then choice of trains to midwest or east. Or Southern Pacific steamship to New York, at no extra cost (berth and meals included, also.)

OVERLAND ROUTE: Lake Tahoe Line, via San Francisco, across Great Salt Lake by rail, Omaha, Chicago. "San Francisco Overland Limited," 58-hour transcontinental aristocrat. Also "Gold Coast Limited" and "Pacific Limited." Through Pullman daily, Los Angeles to Chicago, via San Francisco. SHASTA ROUTE (Fares slightly higher this way): Through California, past glorious mountain and lake scenery, to Portland. Then east through Canada or along our northern boundary. Through train daily, Los Angeles to Portland, or choice of trains via San Francisco.

Take advantage of this variety and contrast to get the most out of your trip. Stop over anywhere you wish. Wherever you want to go, Southern Pacific and connections can take you.

TOWN IN ARKANSAS RULED BY FEMININITY

Affairs of the town of Yellville, Ark., have been intrusted to women. These women, who are reputed to rule with an iron hand, took over the reins of government following the annual election. The new officers are, upper row, left to right: Mrs. Alma Berry, Mrs. A. A. Thompson, Mrs. Abbie Cowdrey, Mrs. M. O. Hutchinson and Mrs. H. R. Record, aldermen; lower row, left to right, Miss Beta Carson, Treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Walton, Mayor, and Mrs. Lena Nowlin, Recorder. [P. & A. Photo] conference adopted a resolution urging lawyers to help Gandhi's movement by all possible means, and to be ready to suspend practice when called upon to do so by the all-India Congress Committee.

GANDHI CAMPAIGN STRENGTHENS HIS CAUSE

BOMBAY (India) April 20. (AP)—After two weeks of campaigning against the government salt monopoly as part of the Nationalist civil disobedience movement, Mahatma Ghandi, in the opinion of observers with long experience in Indian affairs, has decidedly gained ground for the Nationalist cause.

While the Mahatma himself remains in the Gujerat district, confining his activities to a comparatively small area, disorder is increasing in other districts throughout India. This is particularly true in Bengal, where reports from various centers show that anti-British feeling is spreading rapidly.

VOLUNTEERS SCALDED

Events today in the campaign were chiefly confined to a big demonstration against the salt law in Bombay, but there were a number of arrests in all parts of India.

There was an absence of disorders on a large scale, which had shown a disquieting tendency to increase during the past week, but minor disturbing incidents were numerous, and it is on this that observers base their apprehensive forecasts.

The "Nationalist war council" issued a statement this evening about illegal salt-manufacturing activities in Bombay, declaring that "the attack has been launched on seven fronts in the city." According to the war council, the Indian police met the attack with increased activity. It was said they carried out six successive raids on one salt factory, and the war council's statement declared that jars containing boiling brine were overturned and several volunteers scalded.

VIOLATORS IN MARCH

After a week spent chiefly in carrying Gandhi's message from door to door, inveighing against foreign cloth and liquor, several hundred civil disobedience volunteers, including women and children, went in a procession to the seashore today and returned with jars of sea water for the illegal manufacture of salt.

Several minor leaders of the campaign were arrested and in the suburbs of Bombay, and Kedareshwar Sen Gupta, a man of considerable standing, was arrested at his Bombay residence. No reason for his arrest was given.

Mayor J. M. Sen Gupta of Calcutta, has suffered several arrests and imprisonment sentences.

Salvation Army Officers to Be Commissioned

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—A class of sixty-three cadets will be officially commissioned as officers for the Salvation Army by Commissioner Adam Gifford at the graduating exercises of the Western Territorial Training College at San Francisco Friday night, the 25th inst.

Cadets from the eleven Pacific Coast States and the Hawaiian Islands who have been in training at the college since last September will be commissioned and assigned to corps and Salvation Army institutions throughout the area.

Graduating officers from Los Angeles and vicinity include:

James Fraser, Cecil Day, Stewart Kelso, Nola Champion, Dorothy Dodd Dowell, Annetta Godden, all of Los Angeles; George Hill, Ventura; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Duncan, San Pedro, and Clara Carter, Long Beach.

Leading Fruits to Be Studied

BERKELEY, April 20. (Exclusive) The two leading fruit industries of California will comprise the subjects of the major courses offered in the eight weeks summer session in subtropical horticulture, to be held at the citrus experiment station at Riverside, June 14 to August 9.

From its leading fruit industry in point of acreage approximately 670,000, California produces by far the greater part of the grapes consumed in the United States and receives an annual return of approximately $50,000,000.

Second in acreage, but first in value of production, is the citrus industry which returns approximately $100,000,000 from 75,000 acres.

DAYLIGHT-SAVING TIME STARTS NEXT SUNDAY

NEW YORK, April 20. (Exclusive) Daylight saving becomes effective in almost all of New York State next Sunday at 2 a.m., when clocks will be moved forward an hour and left there until 2 a.m. on Sunday, September 28, when daylight saving ends. Throughout the State, 181 cities and villages—including every large city—will change with New York City. Sixteen States will adopt daylight saving in some form this year.

PARK EDUCATION SERVICE GROWS

Statistics Disclose Advance Forced by Demands

Yellowstone Leads in Extent of This Line of Work

Thousands Take Advantage of Instruction Offered

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 20. (Exclusive)—That the word "education" has no terrors for national park visitors is proved by a review of the achievements of the first decade of educational activities in these parks. A statistical analysis of the development of this type of work in the Yellowstone, largest of the parks, under the administration of the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior, reveals a popular demand for this service that cannot be denied and that has forced expansion of educational activities.

The three main divisions of park educational work are the conducting of trips of varying duration by nature guides or ranger naturalists, who explain the objects of natural history encountered along the way; the giving of lectures in the hotels and lodges and at the camp fires, at which the history of the park and its scientific features are discussed in popular, nontechnical terms, and the establishment of museums of park exhibits.

In 1920 the first year that any co-ordinated educational or explanational work was undertaken in the national park system there were two employees on the educational staff in Yellowstone Park. That year the park had a total of 79,777 visitors and the educational staff reported that a total of 21,022 persons, or 26 per cent of the total visitors, took advantage of the field trips, the lectures and the museum service. This means that each of the two members of the staff served 10,511 persons. The next year, with a slight increase to 81,651 visitors, the educational staff, augmented to five, served 30,000 people, or 6000 for each ranger naturalist. Each year since then, with a constantly increasing visiting list, there has been an even greater increase in visitors using the educational facilities.

ARCHITECTS TO MEET

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The twelfth international congress of architects will be held in Budapest, September 8 to 14.

DANES NOT IMPRESSED BY KAISER AND GRETA GARBO

COPENHAGEN, April 20. (AP)—Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany and Greta Garbo, the movie star, may travel together, but it makes no difference to the passport officials of Denmark.

A Swedish citizen and his daughter coming to Denmark the other day tested the Scandinavian passport regulations by signing the Kaiser's and Greta's names on their tickets.

They solemnly presented these credentials to the Danish officials and also to the Swedish officials when they returned and were just as solemnly ushered into both countries with no questions asked.

The Danish Foreign Minister, Dr. P. Munch, has proposed that all passports be abolished among the three Scandinavian countries. He says the system is kept alive only by those having passport jobs.

Machine Gunners Rob Taxi Office

CHICAGO, April 20. (Exclusive) Seventy persons, officials, drivers, cleaners and others in the big garage of the Yellow Cab Company on the West Side of the city, were terrorized by six gangsters, armed with machine guns early this morning.

Matthew Kurtz, the cashier, was assembling the money turned in for the night by various drivers. One of the bandits ordered Kurtz to open the door of his wire cage, but the cashier refused. A burst of gun fire from a machine gun caused him to change his mind, however, and he opened the door. The bandits scooped up $6000 and departed, warning all their victims to make no outcry.

Young Nephew Accompanies Chicago Gangster

"Broken No Law in Florida," Declares Vice Baron

MIAMI (Fla.) April 20. (AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago racketeer and gang leader, arrived here today from the Windy City to spend two weeks at his palatial home on Palm Island. He was accompanied by his 13-year-old nephew.

Capone, talking freely with newspaper men, announced that a tentative agreement had been reached with Federal authorities regarding the settlement of his income-tax payment, in which a suit is pending against him.

"I have no interest in politics, either in Chicago or Miami," he said, "and I am here for a rest, which I think I deserve. All I want is a fair break. I have done nothing in violation of the law in Miami and will not. All I wish is to be left alone and enjoy the home which I have purchased here."

LIGHT SHED ON DISEASE CAUSE

U. C. Entomologist Uncovers Health Information

Insect Carriers Exposed by Stanley B. Freeborn

Tularemia, Yellow Fever, Malaria Studied

DAVIS, April 20. (Exclusive)—New knowledge regarding the transmission of disease by insects is set forth by Stanley B. Freeborn, associate professor of entomology at the University of California's college of agriculture, in a summary prepared for the State Department of Public Health.

Tularemia, the strange disease caused by bacteria discovered in Tulare county, is now known to be carried not only by the deer fly, but by ticks, rabbit lice, mouse lice and squirrel fleas. In addition it has been shown the disease may be contracted by direct contact in various ways, particularly with the fur or entrails of infected rabbits and other animals including squirrels, sheep, mice and quail.

In yellow fever, the discovery that certain monkeys are subject to the disease has led to the additional disclosure that seven species of mosquito instead of one may be held responsible for transmitting the disease. Also, three scientists, Drs. Stokes, Young and Noguchi lost their lives while experimenting in Africa, but demonstrated that the blood of an infected monkey is capable of infecting a human being merely by coming in contact with his skin. An open wound or abraded spot is not necessary.

In the case of malaria he points out that its control has been increased by the discovery that intentional infection with the disease frequently serves to allay the much more dangerous trouble, general paresis or softing of the brain. Discovery of a new synthetic drug, plasmochin, also has suggested the possibility that it may be easier to control malaria by treating humans than by killing mosquitoes.

TOKIO PAIR DEPART ON WORLD TRIP

Imperial Newlyweds Will Spend Year in Travel, Visiting United States

YOKOHAMA (Japan) April 21. (Monday) (AP)—Japan's imperial newlyweds, Prince and Princess Takamatsu, sailed from this port on the Kashima Maru this afternoon bound for Europe by way of the Suez Canal, beginning a honeymoon journey to last more than a year and to circle the globe. Visits to most of the courts of Europe and probably also to the President of the United States will be made before the couple return to Japan about the end of May, 1931.

Most of the month of April, next year, will be spent in the United States, according to the present provisional schedule. The imperial pair expect to visit Washington, where it is likely they will be guests of President and Mrs. Hoover, and after that to see most of the "tourist" sights of America—Broadway, Niagara Falls, Chicago, the Grand Canyon and the rest. Ten days probably will be spent in Canada before they sail from some Pacific Coast port for home early in May.

Twenty-nine Sentenced in Ukraine Court

KHARKOV (Ukraine) April 20. (AP)—Sentences totaling 173 years were meted out by the Supreme Court here today to twenty-nine persons charged with attempting to restore the capitalistic regime in the soviet Ukraine.

Prof. Serge Efumov, former president of the Ukrainian Academy of Sciences; former Premier Chekhovsky, and former Foreign Minister Nikosvky, both members of the government set up by Gen. Simon Petulara in 1919, and one other defendant received ten years each. The remaining defendants were condemned to terms of imprisonment ranging from three to eight years.

Nine others were liberated on probation and seven others were banished from the Ukraine.

Industrial and Financial Chiefs From East Here

Charles S. Mott, well known in financial circles in the East and a director of General Motors Corporation, and D. G. Dahlberg, founder and president of the Celotex Company of Chicago, came to Los Angeles yesterday to meet the French liner Wyoming, on board of which were Dahlberg's family returning from France. Mott has been sojourning on an Arizona ranch for several weeks, while Dahlberg came from Chicago by airplane and train.

Mrs. Dahlberg was accompanied on the trip by her daughter, Alma Lee, and Miss Muriel Allan of Detroit. She announced that her novel "Dagger," soon will be off the press. The party expects to stay at the Biltmore until Wednesday.

Head of London Police Resigns

LONDON, April 22. (AP)—(Monday) — Several London morning newspapers announced today that Viscount Byng has resigned his post of commissioner of the metropolitan police.

Lord Byng is still in South Africa, where he went in February to recuperate from a serious illness, and nothing official could be obtained to confirm or deny the reoprt of his resignation. Earlier reports of his intention to resign were denied.

CHICAGOANS ARRIVE ON FAIR TOUR

Group of Four Officials, and Wives, Here to Boost 1933 Exposition

Four Chicagoans well known in Illinois politics, accompanied by their wives, arrived in Los Angeles last night on business connected with the World's Fair to be held in Chicago in 1933. The men are Patrick F. Sullivan, recently a successful candidate in the primaries for sanitary district trustee; J. J. Horan and W. J. Rooney, other members of the commission, and John Jacob, secretary.

The party will complete a tour of the world before the actual construction work on the World's Fair site begins. They left Chicago in a private car and arrived at San Diego yesterday morning, and then motored to Los Angeles.

According to Sullivan it is the purpose of Chicago to interest every city in the world in the coming fair and civic and industrial leaders all over the world are being organized to make the event a success.

"We have had some pretty bad weather back there and this is the first time we have had a chance to take our coats off with the windows open," Sullivan asserted. "We will be in Los Angeles four days and then will go to San Francisco."

Mrs. Francis Murphy of 1912 Rimpau Boulevard is the widow of Mrs. Sullivan's brother, who died here three years ago.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

NEW PORT GAIN DEEMED LIKELY

Shipping Man Talks About Fruit Dispatch Prospect

Valley Producers Expected to Shift to Water Service

Huge Cargo of Frozen Eggs Arrives From Overseas

BY WALDO DRAKE

Express freight traffic out of the port to New York is expected to be materially increased by transfer of Imperial Valley and Arizona fresh fruit and vegetable shipments from overland rail dispatch to the coast-to-coast water route. This was revealed at the port yesterday by L. E. Archer, Pacific Coast manager of the Panama-Pacific Line, on his return from a survey of Southwest shipping and production centers.

Mr. Archer said he was highly impressed by the huge quantities of perishable products grown in the Imperial Valley and Western Arizona areas, as well as by growers' plans for future development.

"That country offers a great opportunity to the Panama-Pacific Line, or any line in intercoastal express trade, if we can educate the shippers to the advantages of shipping their fruits and vegetables by water," he declared. "Facilities for handling refrigerated cargo on the electric liners, California, Virginia and Pennsylvania, enable us to handle a great part of this business just as expeditiously and as economically as transcontinental rail lines.

"I was astounded by the enormous quantities of lettuce, cantaloupes, grapefruit and other commodities shipped annually out of Imperial Valley alone, while future development of the Roosevelt and Coolidge Dam areas will afford further opportunities to ship lines."

LINER BRINGS FROZEN EGGS AND FISH

One of the largest shipments of frozen eggs ever brought to the port came in yesterday noon aboard the Dollar trans-Pacific liner President Taft, from China.

The shipment totaled 10,000 cases, comprising a large item in the vessel's 2000-ton load for the port, other items of which were 200 tons of frozen tuna, rubber, hemp and oriental cargo.

The liner disembarked twenty-six passengers and will sail today at noon after lifting 1800 tons of Southland cargo, and embarking a score of passengers.

Her two-year charter to the American Mail Line completed, the I.M.M. freighter Montauk departed for the east coast yesterday with a lumber cargo to the account of the Blanchard Lumber Company.

The Montana, which also has been under a two-year charter to the American Mail Line, also is fixed for a voyage to the Atlantic with lumber for the Blanchard interests. The vessel at present is loading at Gray's Harbor, Wash.

Capt. James Allen, coast skipper, has assumed command of the Hammond lumber carrier Missoula, succeeding the late Capt. George Kimball, who died recently.

Capt. Kimball commanded the Missoula on her first voyage to this coast, and took the vessel on several long trips, including one to Japan, one to Australia and several to South American ports.

The local Mackay Radio station reports the North German Lloyd liner Columbus speeding toward the port on her world cruise, due to arrive 4 p.m. next Friday, carrying a Raymond & Whitcomb tour party of 300.

Williams, Dimond & Co. are local agents for the North German Lloyd, and the liner, largest ship yet to call here, will berth at Berths 232 A and B, terminals of the Dollar Line.

During her twenty-hour visit, the Columbus will load 33,000 barrels of California bunker oil.

F. C. Lang, well known in the California transportation field and until recently local head of the Criswell Travel Service, has been named head of the tour department of the Peck-Judah Travel Bureau here. The Criswell offices recently gained the services of Howard Adams, formerly district passenger agent of the French Line.

Roger Marchetti, attorney and yachtsman, who recently purchased from Stuart Haldorn the eight-meter racing sloop Monidah, has renamed her Il Duce and is having the yacht reconditioned and rerigged at the Harbor Boatbuilding Company plant. Work will include installation of a Falcon motor.

Bernard Waite, United States Deputy Commissioner of Customs at Washington, will leave for San Francisco this afternoon after a week's survey of customs facilities in this area. He made similar inspections of customs offices along the Mexican border and will return to Washington from San Francisco.

Gaelic Nine Plays Bruins and Trojans

The St. Mary's College Galloping Gaels will send their baseball team south this week to play the two local entries in the California Intercollegiate Baseball League. The boys from Moraga play the U.C.L.A. Bruins tomorrow and Wednesday afternoons on the Westwood diamond, and the Southern California Trojans on Friday and Saturday p.m.'s at Bovard Field.

The Bruins will be fighting to get out of the cellar position in the league standings, and the Thundering Herd nine will be struggling for the championship flag, so four red-hot ball games are predicted. The Westwooders lost to St. Mary's up north, and the Trojans defeated the Gaels at Moraga.

MIDWICK POLOISTS LOSE

Santa Barbara Riders Defeat Local Four by 11-to-9 Score in Cup Game

BY FRANK ROCHE

Midwick Country Club horsemen led by Neil McCarthy, polo-minded barrister, were just a little bit tardy in uncovering the best of their mallet tricks yesterday at the Purple Field and as a result Long Jim Colt and his Santa Barbara squad rode off with their second straight victory over the local players.

The score was 11 to 9 but that does not really tell the story of the game as Midwick spotted the visitors five goals as a handicap and all but caught the Channel City four with a furious rally in the last half of the struggle.

JIM COLT

Midwick was caught napping in the opening four chukkers of the game. The Purple riders seemed badly disorganized in the first half of the game while Santa Barbara with Colt showing the way played a nicely balanced game adding four goals to their five handicap. Midwick only scored once during the opening half. Jim Spalding tallied this goal in the second chukker.

When the Purple four rode into the paddock between halves Carleton Burke and Elmer Boeseke gave them a little tip on a switch in their line-ups and when they came out for the fifth chukker Howland Paddock was playing back and little Gordon Cronkhite at No. 3. Then Midwick team began to click. They rode as fast as a ninety-mile gale scoring four goals before the Santa Barbara players could get organized. In the next chukker the Midwick four again tallied two goals with their furious riding. Cronkhite and McCarthy stood out with their play. Spalding and Paddock were also going like a house afire.

It seemed as though Midwick was going to catch the invaders so fast did they set the pace but Colt proved himself the five-goaler he is by saving the situation in the seventh chukker by sending a ball across for a tally when it was most needed. Jackson, the No. 1 man on Santa Barbara, also scored in this chukker, giving the invaders a three-goal lead.

In the last chukker Gordon Cronkhite tallied for Midwick but the Santa Barbara team withstood a number of determined thrusts at their goal line until time was called. Mrs. James Colt presented the cups to the winning four.

COLT IS STAR

Jim Colt was the high-point man of the game. This lanky polo person scored five goals for his team. Jackson scored the other one and

FAVORITES ADVANCE TO SEMIFINALS OF ANNUAL LAKESIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Frank C. Stevens, Jr., youthful Southern California golfer who will leave within a short time for Europe to play in the British amateur and open championships, yesterday advanced to the semifinals round of the Lakeside Country Club championship.

FRANK STEVENS JR

Stevens, one of the most promising prospects in this section, eliminated Bob Beekman in the quarter-final round, 4 and 2.

In the semifinals, which will be played on Saturday, Stevens faces the defending champion, Richard Keene, who yesterday won from Frank Greve, 1 up. Greve, a 16-handicap man, has been one of the outstanding surprises of the tournament. In the first round he eliminated L. M. Thomas, and yesterday gave Keene a hard match.

Harry Wesbrook of Annandale and Lakeside won his way into the semifinal round with a hard won victory over Huntley Gordon, 1 up. He faces George Trembly on Saturday.

Trembly, who was unable to play his first-round match on Saturday, won a double victory yesterday. He defeated Horace Love, 4 and 3, and then repeated by the same score over George Marshall in the quarterfinals.

Finals of the Lakeside championship are scheduled for Sunday.

HARVARD GOLFERS TRIM BRUIN FRESHMEN

The Harvard Military Academy golf team won its first victory of the season on Saturday, defeating the University of California at Los Angeles frosh team, 9½ to 5½. Clark Somers of the Los Angeles Country Club, Bruin star, shot a 73. Henry Mortimer of Harvard registered a 74.

GOLFERS PRACTICE AT RIVIERA TODAY

Entrants in the Riviera Country Club invitation tournament which starts tomorrow with an eighteen-hole qualifying round will be allowed a practice round today, according to Bill Huber, chairman of the tournament committee.

GIRARD TOURNAMENT IN SECOND ROUND

Second-round matches are scheduled to be played this week-end in the annual Girard Country Club championship. Following are the results:

Jack Gaines defeated L. D. Stahl, 1 up on the nineteenth hole; L. P. Ferguson defeated Tony Kander, 2 and 1; O. Sebastian defeated R. Priess, 1 up; Bill Jack defeated Karl Wurzburg, 2 and 1; Charles Cullom defeated E. L. Brewer, 1 up; Wilbur Johnson defeated Victor Girard, 1 up; Smith Cullom defeated C. HOLLYWOODERS STALL OFF DEFEAT IN FINAL CLASH

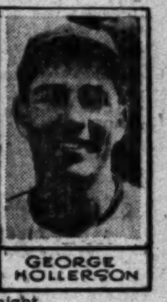
Seraphs in Front When Contest is Called in Fourth; Hulvey's Hit Settles First Tilt

BY BOB RAY

After Hank Hulvey's pinch single in the tenth inning had given Hollywood a 4-to-3 victory over Jack Lelivelt's Angels in the opener, Skipper Oscar Vitt went to great pains in the nightcap to disprove that popular old saying about he who hesitates being lost.

The Sheiks hesitated so long during that final game that it had to be called at the end of four innings because of the 5 o'clock time limit, thus leaving the Seraphs with a 5-to-4 lead that didn't mean a thing inasmuch as the tilt hadn't gone the required five innings to make it a contest. The time limit was necessary because the Stars had to catch a 6 o'clock train for Seattle last night.



GEORGE HOLLERSON

And so the Stars had all the best of yesterday's program, winning one game and preventing themselves from losing the other. Of course, there were many fans present at Wrigley Field who didn't appreciate the Sheiks' stalling tactics, but I suppose it's baseball even if it isn't sportsmanlike (the latter being a word sometimes connected with athletics.)

Some 13,000 fans got a real thrill out of the opener, to win which Skipper Vitt had to resort to something akin to magic. Vitt pulled everything out of that Hollywood dugout but the customary rabbit that all magicians are supposed to have, the Star manager resorting to pinch-hitters, pinch - runners and various other forms of asserted strategy until the official scorer became blue in the face. In the meantime, Lelivelt was countering with more strategy, but Vitt won the game in the eighth when Hulvey delivered his winning single.

Vitt got a hunch to send Hulvey in to hit in the tenth after Mike Maloney had two strikes on

BERGER IN STAR ROLE FOR BRAVES

Former Angel Flychaser Homes With Sacks Full to Beat Brooklyn

BROOKLYN (N. Y.) April 20. (AP)—Walter Berger's hard hitting gave the Braves the deciding spark to make it two straight over Brooklyn this afternoon by the score of 7 to 2. His home run with the bases filled in the seventh climaxed a six-run rally. Two errors by Walter Gilbert paved the way for Watson Clark's downfall in that frame.

WALTER BERGER

Seibold went the route for Boston and kept Brooklyn's nine hits judiciously scattered. A capacity crowd of 30,000 witnessed the game.

SHEIKS LIFT SOCCER CUP BY WIN OVER MAGYARS

The Hollywood Sheiks lifted the Los Angeles soccer cup by defeating a hard-fighting Magyar eleven, 4 goals to 3 in a wild game at Loyola Field yesterday. The game was a hot battle all the way through, but the climax was reached a few seconds before game time when Hollywood's winning goal was scored under protest.

With the score tied at 3 to 3 the fans were sitting back for an extra-time contest when Hollywood was awarded a corner kick fifteen seconds before game time. The entire Hollywood team gathered around the Magyar goal and Jimmy McDill's perfectly placed kick finally ended up in the Hungarian net. Referee Ives ruled the goal to count, but Magyar officials and players claimed that Jimmy Teed, Sheik center half, had fisted the oval into the net. As soon as the game was over it was necessary to give Ives police protection en route to the training quarters.

Paul Dosa, Magyar manager, announced that his club will protest, although a referee's decision is final, according to Bill Simpson, league prexy.

Hollywood was forced to come from behind to tie the count as the aggressive Magyars took

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—A capacity Sunday crowd of 45,000 watched the Giants defeat the Phillies again, by the score of 2 to 1.

Glover Cleveland Alexander made his 1930 start but was quite wild and hit pretty freely, while Carl Hubbell, the Giants' left-hander let the Phillies down with four hits, two of which were made by Tommy Thevenow, shortstop.

Travis Jackson's sacrifice fly sent in Leach with the first Giant run in the third, while Mel Ott's initial homer accounted for the winning run in the fifth inning. Thompson's double scored Thevenow with the only Phils' run in the seventh. Score:

SOLONS ANNEX

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—The New York Yankees dropped their fourth straight game here this afternoon losing to the Senators, 6-3. A two-bagger and a triple by Goose Goslin featured the stick work of either club. Though the Yankees tied the count at 3-all in the eighth, the Senators came back with three runs in their half to win. Lloyd Brown went the distance for the Nationals, holding the Yankees down to eight scattered hits.

Zachary, starting pitcher for New York, was treated roughly by Washington bats, and was retired for Rhodes. He fared no better and Sherid was called to finish the game. Score:

TRIBE ON TOP

DETROIT, April 20. (AP)—Willis Hudlin blanked the Detroit Tigers here today, while a Cleveland pinch batsman drove in the runs which won the game, 2 to 0.

Detroit threatened several times, but Hudlin was master of the situation on these occasions.

Burnett batted for Goldman in the seventh after Falk, Hodapp and Luke Sewell had singled and drove out a two-bagger, scoring Falk and Hodapp. Score:

CHAMPS WIN

BOSTON, April 20. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 3, before 25,000 persons at Braves Field here today, coming from behind with a three-run rally in the seventh inning which proved the deciding factor of the game. In this inning, the Athletics bunched five of their ten hits off Danny MacFayden who went the distance for Boston.

While Simmons failed to fatten his unusually large early season home-run record, his double in the first inning drove in one run and a sacrifice fly in the seventh added another. Score:

Indians Drop Double Bill to Oakland

OAKLAND, April 20. (AP)—The Oakland Oaks won a double-header from the Seattle Indians today to coast into a series win, six games out of seven. Oakland took the morning game, 9 to 6, and the nightcap, 9 to 5.

Oakland gathered thirteen bingles from House and Kunz in the morning session while Seattle found Edwards and Pearson for 12. The afternoon game was another free-hitting affair with Seattle trotting out four hurlers in an effort to stop the Oaks who relied on Craghead throughout.

LORD NORTHESK IS ROUGHLY HANDLED

PARIS, April 20. (Exclusive)—Lord Northesk, who was formerly engaged to Peggy Hopkins Joyce, and was recently married in London to a Greek heiress, Mme. Betty Vlasto, who is a cousin of Didi Vlasto, the tennis player, was knocked out for twenty-five minutes today during a football game between the Scottish and French racing club.

A French forward butted the noble Lord in the stomach and he fell to the ground writhing in pain until a doctor was summoned.

MISSES FIERY DEATH

WALT MAY IS RACE VICTOR

by Triplett, the Belvedere bad boy, who drove a great race in taking second, and Quinn, who also drove a nice 100 laps for third money. Kenealy was fourth and Phil Pardee fifth.

The main event got under way, Kenealy piloting his Padre Special into first place. Trailing him were May, Quinn, Stubblefield and Triplett in that order. Kenealy lost the lead at the quarter mark and steadily dropped far behind. From that point May took the initial spot and was never headed, although he was pushed hard from start to finish.

Stubby Stubblefield was threatening the leaders from third place when his mount developed magneto trouble, and quit the grind.

The Italian Helmet dash was also won by May, in 58.8s. Kenealy and Quinn, the other entrants, were badly beaten by the speedy local youngster.

Earl Hovendon outdistanced the field to win the twenty-lap consolation race in 10m. 28s. Jimmie Sharp led Al Gordon to the line for second place.

Kelly Petillo overlooked an excellent opportunity to become a hero when his mount caught on fire on the back stretch. Petillo promptly jumped from his flaming chariot leaving it to carom wildly down the straightaway. The driverless mount nosed its way through the fence before the oncoming drivers swept by. Petillo was slightly burned and scratched as a result of his experience.

Ducks Twice Defeated by Solon Outfit

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (AP)—Sacramento defeated Portland in two games today to win the series five games to two. The morning game at Stockton was won in the fourth inning when the Senators scored twelve times. The score was 12 to 3. The afternoon game was won, 6 to 3. Fullerton, Cascarella, and Ortman drew the pasting in the big morning frame, which saw seventeen batsmen come up in an orgy of scoring, hitting, walks, balks, errors and hit batsmen. The nightcap was all Tom Flynn, the young southpaw having a decided edge over Bloomer of the Beavers. Ward's homer with one on broke a deadlock and won the afternoon game. Scores:

FRANKIE DIAZ AND JIMMY FOX REMATCHED

Frankie Diaz and Jimmy Fox were yesterday rematched by Promoter Carlo Curtis for the main event at the Saturday night club this week. They are lightweights. A short time ago they fought at Hollywood and stole the show. Knockdowns were scored on both sides.

Sandy Garrison Casanova and Bob Newton packed the Main-street arena last Saturday night. Newton was knocked out in the second round after a great fight.

Other results last Saturday night were: Frank Rowsey held Jack Charvez to a draw in the semi; Bobby Flores beat James Thompson; William Kasababian stopped Joe Parra in four; Manuel Davilo knocked out Andy Brooks in three, and Frankie Manns decisioned Ralph Torres.

STEWART CHOSEN TO CAPTAIN SWIM TEAM

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) April 20. — Hugh F. Stewart, Jr., of Pasadena, Cal., has been elected captain of the varsity swimming team at Williams College for next year. He is a member of the junior class. For two seasons he has been a member of the Purple team, starring in the breast-stroke event and also competing in the medley.

Stewart is the second California boy to be named captain of a varsity team at Williams College, Dave Williams of Santa Barbara having led the Little Three championship football eleven which represented the college last fall.

MARSHALL WILL OPEN TRAINING

Youngster Starts Work for Championship Bout

EVERETT MARSHALL.

Everett Marshall will start training today for his finish title mat battle with "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, world's mat king, at Wrigley Field, Monday, May 5.

The young challenger, who has been resting since his sensational victory over Ed "Strangler" Lewis, plans to work out on the ocean front at Long Beach today and tomorrow. Beginning Wednesday he expects to do all of his training until next Monday at the Pacific Coast Club of that city.

Marshall's final week of training is scheduled for one of the local gymnasiums. In that final week Marshall hopes to perfect all of the defenses and counter-holds he plans to use on Sonnenberg in this bout.

At the present time Marshall is attempting to sign one of the good heavyweights Sonnenberg has defeated to get a true line on the title-holder's grips, tricks and holds. He expects to use only light trainers in his workouts this week to build up his speed.

The Glendale mat star weighed 222 pounds yesterday, while Sonnenberg is reported at slightly more than 200 pounds. The challenger hopes to bring his weight down to 215 in an effort to attain lightning speed when he steps into the ring for his first chance at the world's title.

SHEIKS LIFT SOCCER CUP

the lead right at the start. Johnny Tucker, center forward, scored the first goal and followed this up with another before Hollywood tallied. The latter point was scored on Andy Walker's converted penalty after Barber handled the ball.

The interval score remained at 2 to 1. The Magyars ran up their total to 3 soon after the first half ended when Bell's long kick was accidentally put in the net by Hawkins, Sheik fullback. Ernie Copeland, who was shifted to center forward by Hollywood, scored a pair of beautiful goals to tie things up and with only a fraction of a minute remaining the winning goal was scored.

It is probable that Ives's decision will stand and Hollywood will hold the trophy. The Sheiks are in the finals of the California cup play and play the first game of the State championship next Sunday at San Francisco. The second game will be played here instead of the first.

In the preliminary game at Loyola yesterday the fast and aggressive Pasadena A.C.C. eleven scored an impressive 4-to-3 victory over the Los Angeles Scots.

TROJANS RESUME PRACTICE

Southern California Football Aspirants Take Up Spring Drill After Short Lay-off

Spring football practice, to be resumed after a week's Easter vacation today at the University of Southern California under Coach Howard Jones, will be extended an extra week this season and instead of closing on May 9 will be continued until May 16. The extension of the season will enable three football prospects, Garrett Arbelbide, Ralph Wilcox and Orville Mohler, who are now on the varsity baseball team to get in one week of spring football work as the Trojan diamond season comes to a close on May 10.

While spring practice will cover a longer period than at first planned by Coach Jones, the Trojan mentor said today that workouts will be light and will be held only three or four times a week. Spring work thus far has consisted almost entirely in running over new formations and new plays and this type of training will continue for the next few weeks, according to Coach Jones.

HOWARD JONES

George Kirkwood, Rupert Black and Eugene Ridings, who have been playing on the freshman baseball team, which ended its season just before the spring vacation, will report for football practice for the first time today. Kirkwood, who played right half on the Trojan frosh eleven last fall, will be used at quarter during the spring work, while Black will be tried out at one of the tackle positions and Ridings will be used at fullback.

Kirkwood is considered one of the brightest of the S.C. prospects coming up from the freshman squad. He proved to be a splendid punter last fall, and although he was not used much in ball carrying or passing, it is expected that he will do well in the triple-threat quarterback spot. If he shows up well at the signal-calling job, it will give Southern California a trio of good quarterback prospects in Marshall Duffield, Mohler and Kirkwood.

Norton Victor in Trapshoot

J. B. Norton, a Class C shooter, won the shoot held at the Los Angeles Gun Club yesterday, piling up the good score of 96x100. Fred Martie and V. H. Goodman tied for second honors with a score of 95 each. Yesterday's trophy winners were Norton, Martie, Goodman and Thurston.

A registered club shoot will be held on the club traps next Saturday and Sunday, it was announced.

The Ladies' Crusade

ALMOST everything has happened in international sport except this—no American girl or American woman has ever won the women's golf championship of Great Britain. This championship so far has been the one unscalable rampart in sport.

Travis and Sweetser have won the men's British golf amateur. Jones, Hagen and others have won the British open. Vardon and Ray have won the United States open. Hilton won the United States amateur. Dorothy Campbell, now Mrs. Hurd, came across to win the women's United States championship. So did Miss Dodd or Miss Ravenscroft. But although Misses Marion Hollins, Edith Cummings, Alexa Stirling, Glenna Collett and many others have tried to take the British women's golf championship by storm, they have always failed. France has been able to break through when Miss Wethered or Miss Leitch was resting, but no golfing niece of Uncle Sam could get that far.

Glenna Collett, one of the best of all the women golfers, has found Joyce Wethered too much for her in her last two starts. In their last thirty-six-hole meeting a year ago at St. Andrews Miss Collett went out in 34 to stand 6 up, but still she could not beat back the brilliant counter-charge of the British star.

The British have seen their tennis stars wiped out at Wimbledon. They have watched their Phil Scotts with much depression. They have seen Jones and Hagen take away their open. They saw Sweetser win at Muirfield after they had surrounded and captured Bobby Jones. But they have yet to see any feminine golfer from the United States win this one cup, which so far they have defended with rare skill and courage.

The Next Mobilization

So the next invasion, headed by Miss Glenna Collett, the women's golf champion of the United States, takes on added interest.

Miss Maureen Orcutt has already sailed but Miss Collett will hold her mobilization today at Knollwood, up in Westchester, and give the big gathering one more working round before embarking Tuesday for one more try.

There will be a team match next week, two days after arrival, with ten picked British selections, but the main party will take place from May 12 to May 17 at Formby, Eng., a rugged seaside test that will be a new golfing experience for many of the invaders.

While Joyce Wethered, the brilliant British star, will not report to defend her title, there are still eight or ten British women who will have to be reckoned with, not forgetting Miss Molly Gourlay, the captain of the British team. Horton Smith, for example, thinks their ten best golfers a trifle stronger than our ten best, although Miss Wethered is the only one any expert could name to outrank Miss Collett, who recently proved that her game was still on edge by winning the north and south from a strong field.

The American Squad

This should be the strongest squad of women golfers the United States ever sent abroad. There will be about sixteen and only a few of the leaders will be missing. The best chance to win belongs to Glenna Collett. In the first place Miss Collett has won the United States title four times. In the second place this will be her fourth invasion. In the third place it took Joyce Wethered to stop her on two occasions, and Joyce Wethered is rated as the finest woman golfer that ever played—a better golfer than her brother, Roger, who is captain of the British Walker Cup team.

Outside of the United States champion four of the strongest entries will be Maureen Orcutt, Helen Hicks, Virginia Van Wie and Edith Quier. The latter recently defeated Miss Hicks and Miss Van Wie at Pinehurst in the north and south and carried Miss Collett to the final green which shows that she is no golfing morning glory.

This will be the first British test for Helen Hicks, the young Long Island star who is on her way to a championship. Miss Hicks is now Canadian champion and she is also winner of the first seventy-two-hole medal test held for women in this country. First invasions have rarely made good in golf, but this young long-hitting star may prove to be an exception. She has a fine golfing temperament and by nature is a high-class competitor.

Misses Collett, Hicks, Van Wie and Orcutt are four of the finest golfers we have while Miss Quier and one or two others are not far away. If the British can roll back this invasion, with Joyce Wethered away from the firing line of Formby, it may be a long time before the lioness is caged again.

Hitting the Ball

Who is the longest hitter in the group? Misses Collett, Orcutt and Hicks can all belt the ball for astonishing distances, but for a steady average Miss Collett is still a trifle longer than any of the others. She won't hit up to Bobby and a lot of others, but she will outhit many a first class male golfer with drives that range between 220 and 240 yards. And this doesn't mean down hill over a baked course with a following wind. It means normal conditions.

Miss Orcutt, Miss Van Wie and Miss Hicks are just about as long. They take a slash at the ball that means business.

There are few golfers who transfer their weight as effectively as Miss Collett. She comes to the tip of her left toe on the back swing but she has the knack of getting this left foot back in place in a hurry before the hands and arms start the down swing. The left leg is there to hit against when the hands whip the club head on its way, which happens to be one of the important fundamentals. If that left side isn't ready to support the down swing something of an annoying nature is sure to happen.

This will be the first British invasion on the part of Mrs. Hill, another fine golfer, Miss Van Wie, Miss Hicks and Miss Quier. But they are all good match play golfers who must be reckoned with, even over the strange conditions that will confront them at Formby, a championship test near Hoylake, just outside of Liverpool. It is rugged golf country and it calls for hitting.

Even without Miss Wethered the British have at least ten high-class golfers ready so the war should be an even thing with no advantage on either side. But it will be the best chance an American girl has yet had to bring the last uncaptured trophy home.

JUNIOR OLYMPIC GAMES Training Tips

BY SIG NYLANDER

Member Junior Olympic Games Advisory Board

Checking of form during the early stages of training is one of the important factors which make the young athlete. Taking the different events individually, here are a few points of form that should be checked:

BASKETBALL FREE THROW: (1.) Position of feet should allow maximum relaxation. (2.) Ball should be thrown with the minimum amount of effort. (3.) Height should be sought after. (4.) Ball's progress through the air should have very little motion: i. e., a "dead" ball should be thrown. (5.) Careful aim should be made with arms extended and eyes sighted over the top of ball. (6.) After the best position has been secured someone should toss ball back in order that this position may be maintained throughout the twenty throws. (7.) Regulation ball properly inflated should be used at all times.

BASEBALL THROW FOR DISTANCE: (1.) Throw for distance should never be attempted until contestant has properly warmed up by playing catch. (2.) Throws for distance should never be attempted more than two or three times during the week. (3.) Standing throw should be perfected before an attempt is made running. (4.) Baseball throw is a test of co-ordination, so be certain that you are using a maximum amount of the muscles of the arm, elbow, leg and back in the throw. (5.) Ball should be heaved overhand and over the tips of the fingers and never underhand or sideways. (6.) Do not practice with a nonregulation ball or a ball lighter than regulation.

STANDING BROAD JUMP: (1.) Be careful to jump into pit where ground or sand has been turned over to soften fall. (2.) Bring arms up sharply at same time that jump is made. (3.) Bring knees up and extend feet forward. (4.) Falling back will be prevented following through on each jump, having head and arms forward when lighting. (5.) Secure spring from entire foot and not from the ball of the foot only. (6.) Keep head and eyes up when jumping. (7.) Jumping from a rubber mat on take-off board will secure better traction.

SEVENTY-FIVE-YARD DASH: (1.) Warm up by jogging before attempting any starts or runs for time. (2.) Dig starting holes of sufficient depth to insure good take-off on starts. (3.) Keep head and eyes up when starting and do not watch the starter. (4.) Take five or six quick steps with high knee action at start and incline body forward. (5.) Keep chin in and never bring head back when running. (6.) Practice rotary action of arms at all times whether running or walking. (7.) Keep relaxed at all times.

CHINNING: (1.) Practice for form at frequent intervals without attempting maximum number of chins. (2.) Chinning over twenty-five or thirty times hardly worth the effort. (3.) Chin rapidly, but with an even rhythm. (4.) Come down fast after every chin with hardly any resistance. (5.) Arms should be fully extended after every chin. (6.) Do not chin too high. (7.) Massage arms, shoulders and hands before and after chinning. (8.) Lower part of body should be completely relaxed while chinning, otherwise there is a waste of energy.

Student executives can assist in the progress of the young athletes by checking the above points during the contestants' training period. Post the Junior Olympic Games Training Tips on bulletin board so that all contestants may avail themselves of the information.

OILERS TO TAKE ON BALLARDS

Vancouver Puck Champs Defend Recently Won Ice Laurels

Marty Carroll's Vancouver Ballards, who are claiming the Pacific Coast amateur ice-hockey title, will defend their laurels tonight at the Palais De Glace when they skate out against the Shell Oilers in the first of a three-game series.

Other games are booked for Thursday and Saturday nights and managers of both teams have agreed that Allen Cup rules will govern the play-off. This means that the team having the highest-point total will be declared the winner.

The Vancouver brigade, a fast but none-too-heavy aggregation, handed a trimming to the Gilmore Oilers, champions of one league, in a recent series here and now are being called upon to prove their right to the title by lacing the Shell Oilers.

However, it is considered at least an even bet in local hockey ranks that the Shells will turn back the boys from the Pacific Northwest.

Main strength in the local squad will be packed in the forward line, which includes three of the fastest skating pucksters ever to appear here. That trio is composed of Johnny Curran, left wing; Buster Smith at center and Bert Clark at right wing. All are speed skaters as well as top-notch amateur stick handlers.

ROVERS CAPTURE GAME

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. — A bunch of San Francisco high school boys, who call themselves the Rovers, today fought their way into the final round of the California soccer football race by defeating the Western Pacific eleven of Sacramento, 4 to 3.

FOUR TROJAN TENNIS STARS ENTER ANNUAL OJAI TOURNEY

Four University of Southern California players have been entered in the Ojai Tennis championships April 24, 25 and 26, it was announced today by Director of Athletics Bill Hunter. They are Jack De Lara, who will play in the men's singles; Bob Gates, who will pair up with De Lara in the men's doubles, and Mary Greef and Helen Marlowe, who will play in the women's singles.

There is a possibility that Miss Greef may have to withdraw from the tourney just before the championships open as she has been elected to the Wightman Cup team which plays in England this year and she will have to leave this city about May 1.

While Miss Greef is in Europe representing Uncle Sam, feminine tennis honors for Southern California will be left in the hands of Miss Marlowe, a freshman, who is present Southern California junior champion and second ranking junior player in the United States.

NORTHERN POWER BOATS ARRIVE TODAY FOR RACE

Power cruisers arriving from the north today will join Southern California's great fleet and make ready for the longest open-ocean performance handicap race in the country this season, starting from Long Beach Thursday morning and ending at San Francisco Sunday afternoon. The charted distance is 446.1 nautical miles.

The race committee of the Long Beach Yacht Club, sponsoring the event together with the St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco and the Santa Barbara Yacht Club, believes that twenty-five boats will cross the starting line. Twenty-one signed entries from seven different clubs had been received last night.

W. H. Ford's Araquita, George Kohn's Felicia of the St. Francis Yacht Club, and J. Mairma's Folly of the Corinthian Yacht Club are three Bay City yachts expected at the local port today. Three more may come south tomorrow, according to a wire received last night by General Chairman D. M. Callis.

J. H. Sickle's Seal is a San Diego entry and E. E. Converse's Enoa and C. B. Mitchell's Sea Bee will fly the burgees of the Santa Barbara Yacht Club in the long grind. Dream Boat, to be piloted by Harry Wilson, who recently made a record run from San Francisco to Los Angeles; Carl Goetz's Blue Boy, J. R. Sturgis's Valeria and Edwin Loeb's Missawit, will race under colors of the California Yacht Club. Rear-Commodore Arthur L. Macrate who won the event last year in Hermana, heads ten craft that will fly the yellow-and-black pennants of the Long Beach Yacht Club. They are Brownia Bee, Edna, Kenmar, Doris O, Enoa, Wanderer, Lucky B, Arbutus III, Ethne and Rosita, all well-known power cruisers.

Paul Franklin Johnson piloting Seyelyn, who lost the long race by three seconds last year, has again entered under the flag of the Balboa Yacht Club.

The race is scheduled to start at 9 a.m., Thursday, off the Pacific Coast Club, and overnight anchorages will be made at Santa Barbara and Monterey.

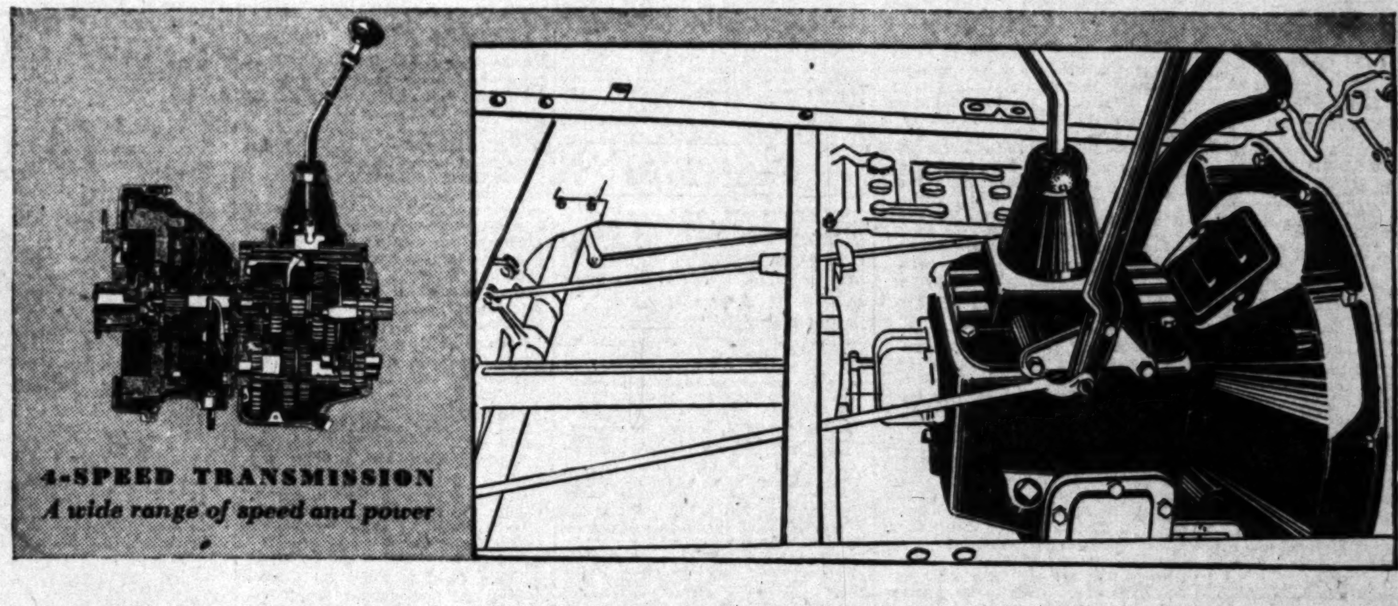
New features of the FORD TRUCK improve its performance



4-SPEED TRANSMISSION
A wide range of speed and power

THE STRENGTH and simplicity of the Ford truck chassis provide a high degree of reliability, insuring long, satisfactory service, with marked economy. Of equal importance is the ability of the truck to do hard work easily, quickly and safely.

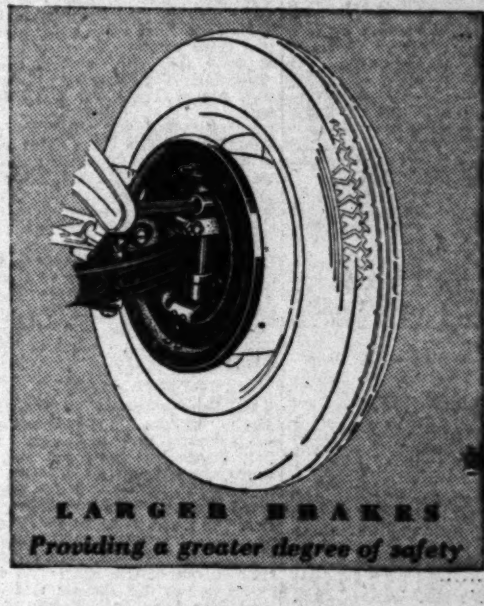
Many features of the Ford truck add to its capable performance. Among them is the 4-speed transmission, which gives a wide, flexible range of speed and power. This is of special value for pulling heavy loads out of pits, and for economical operation when greater speed is desirable.

An unusual degree of safety is provided by the brakes. They are of the mechanical type, internal expanding, and all are fully enclosed.

Brakes on the front wheels have been enlarged to the same size as those on the rear, giving increased braking area. The redesigned controls operate with greater efficiency.

Other features which you will find of exceptional value are the new rear axle, which has a spiral bevel gear of special design, with straddle-mounted pinion; the large-sized opening provided in the transmission for power take-off mounting, for use with hoists and other equipment; and the dual rear wheels which can be installed at small additional cost.

Balloon tires of one size are used throughout with the dual equipment, so that all six steel disc wheels and tires are interchangeable all around. Only one spare need be carried.



LARGER BRAKES
Providing a greater degree of safety

In addition to the Ford 1½-ton truck chassis, there is a commercial-car chassis to meet light-delivery requirements. A wide range of body-types is available for each model.

1½-ton truck chassis, $520
With Stake body and closed cab $675
With Panel body $800
With Express body and closed cab $665
With Platform body and closed cab $660
(f. o. b. Detroit, plus freight and delivery). Dual Rear Wheels optional for $25.

Heavyweight Fistic Tournament Will Get Under Way at Olympic Tomorrow Ni

MAX BAER AND OWENS TANGLE

Big Fellows Cop Spotlight in Olympic Ring

Armand Emanuel Will Battle Maloney Next Week

Outdoor Shot May be Staged Following Tourney

BY KAY OWE

Promoter Jack Doyle opens a heavyweight tournament this week at the Olympic which will rival the one staged twenty years ago when Luther McCarthy was discovered. An outdoor show is practically assured of materializing following these eliminations. With the heavyweight situation in chaos the Pacific Coast is producing several real threats.

JACK DOYLE

Max Baer, who has knocked down nineteen opponents for a total of sixty-six times and stopped all but two or three of them, takes the acid test Tuesday night when he meets the never-before flattened Ernie Owens.

The week following Armand Emanuel boxes Jim Maloney, one of the ranking big men of the East.

The Olympic is also said to have signed Frankie Campbell and Les Kennedy for the second week in May. The survivors of the Baer-Owens and Emanuel-Maloney bouts may clash in the Olympic and the winner taking Campbell in the ball park, providing Frankie can stop the tough longshoreman, Kennedy.

And further ahead George Godfrey will probably be shown here against Leon (Bombo) Chevalier, the negro who went six heats with the highly publicized giant, Primo Carnera.

Whether Godfrey could be edged into the local tournament or not is problematical. There is a great difference in size between the Black Shadow and the Baers, Emanuels and Campbells.

Baer and Owens will probably be even money tomorrow night. Fans are interested in Baer because of his sensational kayo record. If the German youngster with only nineteen fights as his sole experience can knock out or even knock down a seasoned heavyweight like Owens he would become a tremendous card overnight here.

Mike Hector and Walter Dunham, middleweights, clash in the six-round semi-wind-up. The special event will probably come close to stealing the show if Baer doesn't deliver up to expectations. It features Hans Berkie, a 190-pound German just over from Hamburg, Germany, and Pat Hayward, Tom Kennedy's wild Irishman not long away from Cork, Ireland.

CARROLL, MALONEY'S MANAGER, DUE TODAY

Jim Maloney's manager, Dan Carroll, will arrive here today from Boston to take charge of the "strong boy's" training for the Armand Emanuel fight in the Olympic the 29th inst.

Carroll is known in the East as the "Bill Duffy" of Boston. He is bringing several eastern boys to add to his stable here. They expect to make Los Angeles headquarters for the next three months.

Maloney, who is one of the ranking heavies of the East, is making his first start here in the shape of a rematch. Emanuel met Maloney in Boston and was credited with losing by a knockout, which later proved to have been a foul blow.

Emanuel's stock has soared since he began fighting as a 190-pounder. He whipped Jack Gagnon in Boston just prior to the Maloney shot. Gagnon knocked out Tuffy Griffiths the other night to become famous overnight.

SHEIKS WIN AND STALL

Hulvey's Pinch-Single Beats Angels in Tenth of Opener, 4-3; Time Limit Halts Nightcap

him and looked like a cinch victim for the necessary third strike. The winning run was on third, another Star was on first and there were two out when Hulvey took Maloney's place at the plate. You've heard of guys being born with two strikes on them—well, Hank didn't seem to mind being stuck in to the game with two strikes on him. In fact, all Hankus-Pankus did was to punch a single over Sigafoos's head and drive Dud Lee, who had run for Bassler, in from third with the winning run.

The opener was a hurling duel between George Hollerson and Ed Baecht. Hollerson was the steadier of the two and deserved the victory. The Angels were held to eight hits in the ten rounds, while the Stars pecked Baecht's offerings for thirteen safeties.

The Stars had to put over a run in the ninth to keep in the ball game after the Angels had scored one in the first half to apparently cinch the contest.

Although they didn't score a victory yesterday, the Angels took the series, four out of six, and retained their hold on first place.

GETS FINAL TALLY

Hollywood got its final run in the fourth on Catina's double and Sigafoods's fumble of Carlyle's grounder.

Neither side was able to score in the first four rounds, although the Sheiks came mighty close to a run in the fourth. After Heath and Green had both gone out on drives to Harper, Bassler slapped a double to left center. Hollerson followed with a solid single to left, but Moore whipped the ball to Haney, whose relay to Hannah caught Bassler by a couple of feet at the plate.

Los Angeles finally broke the spell in the first of the fifth and touched Hollerson for a run. With one away, Jigger Statz crashed a line drive to center that went for two bases. Dittmar followed with a single to center that scored Statz and Carl continued on to second when Carlyle fumbled the ball. Hannah worked Hollerson for a walk, but Baecht hit into a double play, Catina to Brannon to Heath, and the rally was over.

Hollywood came right back with a pair of tallies in its half of the fifth to step out in front for a few moments. Catina began things by drawing a pass and Gazella sacrificed him to second. Dittmar made a great stop to hold Brannon's hit to an infield safety and also made a hurried but vain attempt to head Catina off at third. Carlyle followed with his third straight hit, a double to left, and Catina romped across the plate. Rumler's sacrifice line drive to Statz brought Brannon in from third to make the count 2 to 1 for the Sheiks. Heath was purposely walked and the strategy panned out successfully when Green was fooled on a called third strike.

COUNT TIED

Ray Jacobs tied the count in the Angel seventh when he lofted one of Hollerson's offerings over the left center-field barrier for a home run. Incidentally that poke stretched Jacobs' string to thirteen consecutive games in which he has hit safely. After two were out Dittmar got a double and Hannah was purposely passed, but Hollerson retired Baecht on an infield chance to Catina to bring the round to a close.

Baecht had to do a lot of tall pitching to get out of a jam in the eighth after the Sheiks had advanced a man to third with but one out, but the Angel hurler managed to hurl his way out of danger. Mickey Heath opened the round with a double to center and Green promptly bunted him to third. Bassler was purposely walked. Hollerson hit a high bounder that Haney jumped up and snagged and then threw to Hannah to get Heath at home. Statz captured Catina's fly for the third out.

The Angels' scored what looked as though it would be the winning run in their half of the ninth but later events proved otherwise. Harper singled for a starter and was bunted to second by Jacobs. Statz again delivered in the pinch with a drive between Rumler and Carlyle that went for three bases, Harper scoring. Dittmar was purposely walked. With the squeeze sign on, Hannah missed his bunt and Statz was trapped between third and home, Dittmar making his way to third while the rundown was in progress. Vitt then ordered Hannah purposely walked to get at Baecht, whose grounder to Brannan forced Truck for the third out.

But the lead was short-lived, the Sheiks tying the score once more in their half of the ninth. After Yde, batting for Gazella, had skied to Moore for the first out, Brannan doubled into the right-field corner. Carlyle followed with his fourth hit, a double to left, and Brannon scampered across the rubber with the tying tally. Rumler was purposely walked and Baecht made the strategy work by fanning Heath and retiring Severeid, who batted for Green, on a foul fly to Hannah.

PULLS MAGIC

Hollerson disposed of the Angels in the tenth, but Baecht wasn't so fortunate and the Stars won out. Bassler's fourth hit was a single. Hollerson, missed his attempted sacrifice but Bassler crossed up the boys by stealing second. That was a signal for Vitt to put on his great magician act of pulling pinch-hitters and pinch-runners out of the Hollywood dugout. Lee ran for Bassler and was bunted to third by Hollerson. After Catina had missed one strike, Vitt got a hunch and pulled Shellenback out to bat for the shortstop. Lelivelt countered by ordering Shellenback walked. That brought Maloney, who had replaced Gazella on third, to the bat. Mike got a couple of strikes and the Sheik skipper promptly brought Hank Hulvey out to bat for Maloney. After a couple of low pitches, Baecht put one over and Hulvey lined it over Sigafoos's head to bring Lee in with the winning run.

SECOND GAME FARCE

That second game was a farce before it was over, what with the Stars trying to stall until the time limit arrived and the Angels doing their best to get out in order to hurry the contest through.

Jim Turner and Augie Walsh, the starting hurlers, both failed to last through the second inning, being replaced by Hulvey and Sheriff Peters.

The Angels apparently cinched the game in the second when they pounded across all five of their runs. Statz's single, Dittmar's freak homer under the gate in left field, Brannon's error, Haney's hit and Moore's circuit clout into the bleachers accounted for the Seraph scores. Hulvey replaced Turner in time to pitch to Moore and his first pitch resulted in the home run.

Walsh blew up in the Hollywood half of the second and three runs came in before Peters got the side out. Green singled and Severeid walked to open the frame, but Sigafoos took Turners's line drive and doubled Green off second. When Catina and Gazella singled to fill the bases, Lelivelt lifted Walsh and sent in Peters. Brannon's hit down the left-field line got by Moore for a double and Severeid, Catina and Gazella scored to put the Sheiks in the ball game. Carlyle walked but Peters tossed out Rumler to end the inning.

Foul Tips

Los Angeles fans are having a tough time trying to get to see a double-header at Wrigley Field. Last Sunday it rained out the second Angel-Portland game, while yesterday the Stars stalled until the time limit was up to prevent the nightcap from going long enough to be called a contest.

Outfielder Frank Wetzel was yesterday released by the Stars, who also announced the sale of Infielder Mike Maloney to the Miami club of the Arizona League.

Inasmuch as the second game was an official contest, Ray Jacobs's string of games in which he has hit safely is intact at twelve. Jacobs has hit safely in every game since the season opened, his home run in the seventh inning being his safety in the opener.

The Sacramento Senators arrive here tomorrow to open a seven-game series against the Angels. Lelivelt has Art Delaney and Berly Horne available for mound duty, with the former probably being selected to start.

Carl Dittmar has been on a terrific hitting spree. In Saturday's and Sunday's games Ditty clicked out a home run, two doubles and four singles in nine times at bat.

Jim Turner, rookie Hollywood hurler, tried to continue his feud with Statz in the second inning of the opener by trying to bean Jigger. Statz hit the next pitch for a terrific clout that Heath knocked down for an infield hit. And then Jigger showed up the busher some more by stealing second on him.

Speaking of Statz, the Hollywood fans booed him when he came to the plate in the fifth and ninth innings of the first game. Both times Jigger delivered hits for the benefit of his Hollywood rooters, one being a double and the other a triple.

Glenn Gabler, young Los Angeles pitcher, is walking on air these days. The Angel hurler's wife presented him with a baby girl at Long Beach last Thursday night. Both Mrs. and Miss Gabler are doing nicely, but Glenn is still pretty excited.

The Hollywood Stars open the season for Seattle fans against the Indians tomorrow. They take a special train from Portland in order to arrive in time for the game.

RECORD ENTRY LIST FOR PREPS

Close to 950 Track-and-Field Athletes Scheduled to Compete in Annual Southern California Preliminaries at Housh Field, L. A. High, Saturday

More Southland prep athletes will compete in the annual Southern California track-and-field preliminaries next Saturday afternoon at Housh Field, L.A. High, than ever before in the history of the event.

EDDIE LEAHY

Last year in the neighborhood of 750 were in the meet. Saturday, according to an announcement made by Seth Van Patten, director of athletics for the southern section of the C.I.F. close to 1000 short-pantied youngsters will be cavorting around at Housh Field.

Although the entry list was supposed to close last Wednesday, belated letters bringing entry blanks from San Luis Obispo and other far-away places have been received at the C.I.F. office every day since then. Not wishing to work hardships on the athletes affected, Van Patten has worked overtime putting these late entries into qualifying heats.

THE FIGURES

Latest figures on the entries have 404 competing in the Class A or varsity division, 304 in the Class B or lightweight section, while 234 will fight it out in the Class C or midget section.

This is a grand total of 942, or nearly 200 more than were in the affair last year. One of the reasons for the huge increase is the Class B division which has grown considerably since last season. At that time prep officials were rather dubious over the success of the Bee section and the division was more or less on trial as a Southern California meet affair.

However, it has been clearly shown that the Bee section allows a type of boy to compete, who in the ordinary run of affairs would be left out in the cold. Local coaches believe that the lightweight division is here to stay.

The division in which a boy competes is governed by the boy's weight, height and age, somewhat similar to the system used by the Junior Olympics.

AN EXAMPLE

A striking example of the good of the Class B section is Laverne Cooper of Poly. He has been competing under the A colors all season, running against bigger and stronger boys. Cooper failed to place in the League A meet and would be automatically out of the Southern California meet.

Being a certified B athlete with a corresponding B exponent, Coach Eddy Leahys has entered him in both the lightweight sprints this Saturday. Running with boys of his own size, Cooper will have a great chance to win both events.

Citrus Union has three boys entered in the B division that have been running in the A or varsity section all year. All three placed in the Citrus Belt Class A league meet and are eligible to run in the A division if they wish. However, as they have been certified as B athletes all three will run in that division. Dave Moore, winner of the Citrus Belt Class A 100-yard dash, which was timed at 10s. is one of them. Moore placed second in the furlong, which was won by Burt Holmes of El Monte in 22.3s.

The second member of the trio is Coupe, who took third in both sprints behind Moore.

Ayon, a strong miler, is the third member of the group. He won the class mile in the good time of 4m. 41s., setting a new league record.

LA BARBA BOXES BUD TAYLOR

why the promoter, Jack Dempsey, believes he will have his first financial success in Chicago.

Taylor and La Barba unlimbered a bit today in the gym. Neither will have trouble scaling under the agreed figure of 126 pounds.

While little money has been wagered on the fight, Taylor has been made a slight favorite. The mrgin of choice, however, is small. Where Fidel has an advantage of youth, Taylor may have an advantage in punching power. Bud's adherents continue to talk of a left to the body. That blow will win, they say.

La Barba's friends are equally positive. Taylor won't be able to reach Fidel's body often enough to slow him up. La Barba, they aver, will carry Bud at too fast a pace and he will win easily in the closing rounds.

There are none who predict a knockout.

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—While circus clowns continue to hold sway at Madison Square Garden this week, and other boxing centers in the East experience a lull in fistic attractions, the Middle West takes over the task for tickling the palates of those who pay the freight.

New York, with his array of small fight clubs, offers not one bout of general interest this week; the Philadelphia arena will be dark, and Boston's sole contribution to the program is the inauguration of a diamond belt pro tourney at the Boston Garden on Wednesday night when Fifteen-round bouts will be on the schedule.

Kansas City and Chicago step into the breach, however, with first-rate offerings tomorrow night. Kansas City offers a ten-rounder between Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, and Meyer Grace, Philadelphia. Fields's title will not be at stake. At Chicago, Fidel La Barba, former flyweight king, takes on Bud Taylor, veteran Terre Haute (Ind.) featherweight over the ten-round route.

Primo Carnera takes on another easy one at Portland, Or., Tuesday night, meeing one Sam Baker of Los Angeles.

Other bouts on the national schedule include:

Monday—At St. Louis: King Tut, Minneapolis, vs. Pinky Kaufman, New York, lightweights; My Sullivan, St. Paul, vs. Jackie Horner, St. Louis, middleweights, ten rounds, and John Schwake, St. Louis, vs. Eugenie Chevriere, Peru, heavyweights, five rounds. At Dayton, O.: Mike Dundee, Rock Island, vs. Augie Pisano, New York, light weights, ten rounds.

Tuesday—At Dayton, O.: Gorilla Jones, Akron, vs. Roy Williams, Chicago, welterweights, ten rounds. At Cleveland: Billy Wallace, Philadelphia, vs. Joey Goodman, Cleveland, and Paul Pirrone, Cleveland, vs. Freddy Fitzgerald, Youngstown, O., all lightweights, ten rounds. At Los Angeles: Max Baer, Oakland, vs. Ernie Owens, Los Angeles, heavyweights, ten rounds. At Fresno Cal.: Sailor Fay Kosky, Chicago, vs. Ad Cadena, Los Angeles, lightweights, and Tommy Hughes, Cleveland, vs. Jimmy Pruitt, bantamweights, six rounds each. At Denver: Eddie Mack, Denver, vs. Maurice Holtzer, France, lightweights; George Manley, Denver, vs. Oscar Baker, California, lightweights, and Eddie Murdock, Denver, vs. Joe Trabon, Kansas City, welterweights, ten rounds each.

Wednesday—At Oakland, Cal.: Joe Roche vs. Jack McVey, New York, negro, middleweights, ten rounds. At Cincinnati: Izzy Schwartz, New York, vs. Harry Pierre, Chicago, flyweights, ten rounds.

Thursday—At Akron, O.: Emmet Rocco, Ellwood City, Pa., vs. Gene Stanton, Cleveland, heavyweights, ten rounds.

Friday—At San Francisco: Young Corbett, Fresno, Cal., vs. Alf Ros, Spain.

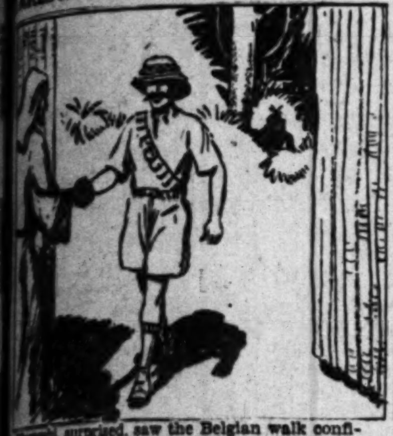
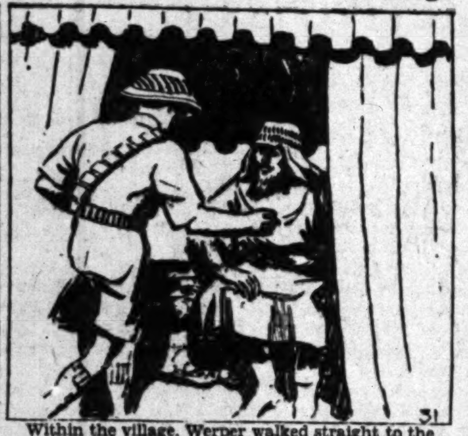
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

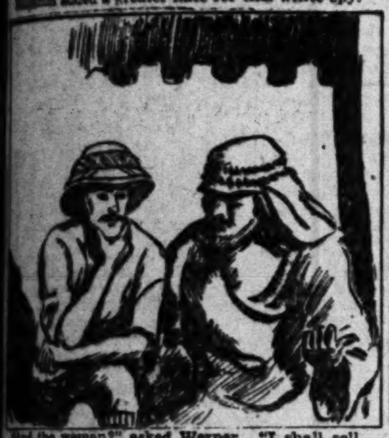
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Mugambi, surprised, saw the Belgian walk confidently across the clearing to the village gate and a loud "Hello!" He saw the gates swing open and witnessed the friendly welcome accorded the erstwhile guest of Lord and Lady Greystoke. A light of understanding broke upon the black man. This white man had been a traitor! It was to him they owed the raid during the absence of the Great Bwana. To his hate for the Arabs, Mugambi added a greater hate for this white spy.

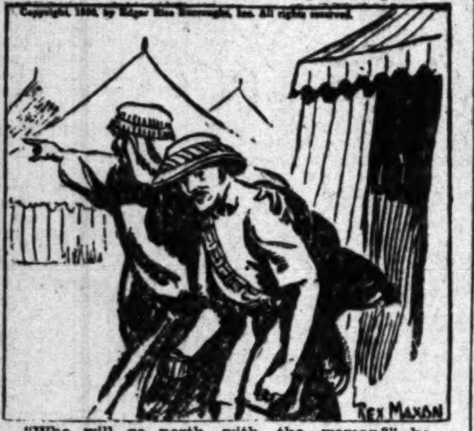


Within the village, Werper walked straight to the silken tent of Achmet Zek. The latter rose, surprised, as his lieutenant entered. To his questions, Werper related all—save the little matter of the pouch of gems now tightly strapped about his waist. The Arab's eyes narrowed greedily as his henchman described the treasure that the Waziri had buried beside the ruins of Tarzan's bungalow. He decided to await the coming of the rash Waziri; then it would be simple to get the gold.



"And the woman?" asked Werper. "I shall sell her in the north," replied the raider. "It is the only way now. She should bring a good price." The Belgian nodded. He was thinking rapidly. If he could persuade Achmet Zek to send him in command of the party which took Lady Greystoke north, it would give him the opportunity he craved to make his escape. He knew that no member of Zek's band was ever released voluntarily from Achmet Zek's service. If he could get away, unscathed, with the jewels!

Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.



"Who will go north with the woman?" he asked. Achmet Zek pondered. The buried gold was now his uppermost thought. He must rid himself quickly of this woman. After all, why not send the Belgian? He would send men with him to see that Werper did not try to escape. "You shall take her," Achmet said at last, "to my friend who knows the best market for such goods, while I return for the gold." Werper could scarce disguise the joy with which he received this welcome decision.

PRODUCING & REFINING OIL and MINING IN THE EARTH

RISE EXPECTED IN GAS PRICES

Oil Industry Observers See Signs of Advances

Balance Reported Between Supply and Demand

Statistics Point to Increase in Consumption Totals

NEW YORK, April 20. (Exclusive)—Substantial advances in the price of gasoline and other petroleum products, due to the balancing of supply and demand at the present time, are generally expected through the spring and summer months by observers in the oil industry.

It is pointed out that the demand which already has come into being this year portends the largest sales in the history of the industry, and that curtailment of crude-oil production and refinery runs brought the visible supply to a point almost level with the present demand and much lower than what the demand is expected to be with the opening of the automobile tourist season.

Norman Merriman, well-known economist, states that the latest available statistics on consumption of gasoline show that during the first two months of 1930 consumption was about 31 per cent greater than during the corresponding months of 1929, while consumption of all oil products was 4.4 per cent greater than last year.

Using these figures as a basis Mr. Merriman estimates that there will be a 5 per cent increase in the demand for oil during the nine months from April to December, this year, as compared with the corresponding period of 1929. If this increase materializes, Mr. Merriman points out, to supply it will require a total average production of 3,255,000 barrels of crude oil a day.

He says that at present the supply of crude oil, including both domestic production and imports, amounts to about 2,850,000 barrels a day.

WORK STOPS ON DEEPEST OIL PROJECT

Standard Quits Hole in Taft Area After Going to 9626-Foot Level

TAFT, April 20. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company has suspended work on its Mascot No. 1 well, deepest hole in the world. It is located on Sec. 26, 32-23, near Taft, and was drilled to 9626 feet before suspension orders halted activity.

Before stepping work on the project a string of five and three-quarters-inch casing was cemented at 9302 feet. It is said the string was the longest ever set, thus making Mascot a record-breaker in depth as well as in handling the longest casing string. The string of casing is reported to weigh more than 126 tons.

Kern county oil operators are of the belief that the Mascot well has some good formations and that it could be made an excellent producer if Standard saw fit to bring it in now.

Officials of the company are reticent about the length of time the suspension order is to run. It is believed that ultimately the hole will prove up a new deep area for Kern county and the Twenty-five Hill district.

Shell to Sink New Wildcat in Shafter Sector

SHAFTER, April 20. (Exclusive) Shell Oil Company is tackling another wildcat location in this area and will drill on the W. K. Lee place, near Lerdo, formerly known as the Herman Miller ranch.

The well will be sunk just east of the Golden State highway in an olive grove. Trees are now being cleared away to make room for the derrick foundation.

For a number of years Shell has been leasing land in this area but this is the first test well to be put down to make a thorough survey of the oil potentialities of the district.

TEST WELL AT OAKLAND WATCHED

Boring Concern Reports Indications of Nearing Production in Suburb

OAKLAND, April 20. (Exclusive) With the drill at approximately the same topographical depth as the Claremont water-supply tunnel, and actually in a lower geological horizon from the point in the tunnel where a disastrous oil and gas fire raged for thirty days in June, 1927, exceptional interest is being taken by oil geologists and operators in showings of oil and gas in the No. 1 test well of the Orinda Petroleum Company, Ltd., near the Orinda Country Club and only twenty minutes' drive from downtown Oakland.

According to President Green of the operating company the oil and gas are believed to be infiltrations into the well from a lowyer-lying sand, through lime seams that have been cut by the drill. The density of this lime, as shown by frequent corings, is such as to indicate that heavy gas pressures are behind the infiltrations.

The actual proximity of the drill to the sand, now that it is below the strata proved up by the log of the water tunnel engineers, is only speculative. Corings of the last two days indicate possibility that the drill is entering a sand. This, coupled with the continuous and strengthening show of oil at the casing head has caused the company to plan to case the entire well, cement off, and drill through for a comprehensive test. The depth of the hole is about 835 feet.

BRONZE KING TO SPEED UP OPERATIONS

Arizona Mine Regarded as Promising Addition of New Low Grader

MIAMI (Ariz.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Thomas P. Kelly, president of the Bronze King Mining Company, states that development work is to be speeded up on his company's property, following completion of a road to the site of a new shaft. There is declaration that the property has indications of adding another large low-grade copper producer to the camp, as thirty-three feet of ore has been crosscut on the 100-foot level. The material also carries values in gold, silver and vanadium.

The ore dumps on the noted Gibson property, eight miles from Miami, near the Superior highway, are being treated, under lease, by the Miller-Keyes syndicate, which is handling 150 tons of material a day. The mine for years was a regular supply of strong sulphide ores to the Old Dominion smelter at Globe, ore then needed for flux of the Old Dominion's carbonates. The Gibson ores then were very high in copper percentages and much richer than sulphides brought in from Central California and from Bisbee. There has been repair of the county road into the Gibson section, giving egress for a large quantity of smelting ores available in the vicinity.

ACCIDENTS TO CLIFTON MINERS FEW

Phelps Dodge's Morenci Branch Usually at Top of Honor Roll

CLIFTON (Ariz.) April 20. (Exclusive)—"Safety first" is a motto carried out to its apparent limit by the Morenci branch of the Phelps Dodge Corporation, employer of a large force of miners, mainly Spanish-speaking.

The local mines, therefore, usually are near the top in listing the Phelps Dodge accidents, monthly, with very few lost-time charges. First-aid instruction has been given recently to 1720 persons in the district by Walter W. Kessler of the United States Bureau of Mines organization, aided by corporation safety department officials.

North of Solomonville has been opened a body of gem emerald chrysocolla, a beautifully colored silicious material always in demand by manufacturing jewelers. The coloring is by copper stain and the ledges in which the stuff is found have been worked in the past for copper. Especially beautiful samples are coming from the Alta Vista property, owned by Mrs. Helen Phillips, a former schoolteacher.

Daily Output of California Oil in Sharp Slump

The total production of crude oil in California for March amounted to 19,699,979 barrels, an average of 635,483 barrels per day. This is a decrease of 110,433 barrels per day under February production.

Total stocks of crude and all products in Pacific Coast territory decreased during the month 728,345 barrels. The total stocks at the end of the month were 188,970,378 barrels. The total stock increase for 1930, up to March 31, was 4,206,645 barrels.

Seventy-nine wells were completed during the month with an initial daily production of 45,924 barrels, compared with fifty-three wells completed during February with an initial production of 28,747 barrels.

NEW CABLE TOOL MARK SET

Irion County (Texas) Project at 8648 Feet Believed to be World Record With Equipment

BIG LAKE (Tex.) April 20. (Exclusive)—All records for deep drilling by means of cable tools are believed to have been surpassed in the well of P. H. Williams in Irion county, about thirty miles from the deep wells in the Big Lake field. The Irion county well passed the 8648-foot mark on the 14th inst. At that point it was drilling in lime shells, with no showing of oil or gas.

Another important development of deep drilling operations in this territory was the bringing in of the second deep test of the Texon Oil and Land Company (Continental Oil Company) in the Big Lake field at a depth of 8131 feet. While the oil flow is probably less than 100 barrels a day, it is accompanied with a gas production of more than 15,000,000 cubic feet.

The initial performance of this well is similar to that of the Texon Oil and Land Company's first deep well, which started production on December 1, 1928, at a depth of 8525 feet, with a daily flow of only forty barrels. This production has gradually increased until it is now averaging approximately 2880 barrels daily and has a daily gas production average of 27,306,400 cubic feet. The total recovery of oil from this world's deepest commercial producer up to the 14th inst. was 1,228,000 barrels. This oil is of 56.3 gravity and is selling at the new price of $1.57 a barrel.

Both the first and the second wells of the Texon Oil and Land Company are situated upon land owned by the University of Texas. Significant features of the company's latest well are that it is situated one-fourth of a mile north of the first well and also that its oil is of the same high gravity as that of the first well. It is stated that the new well will probably be drilled deeper, in the hope of obtaining larger production.

Another deep test in the Big Lake field is that of the Big Lake Oil Company, also on university land and situated close to the deep producer of the Texon Oil and Land Company. This well of the Big Lake Oil Company was swabbed and bailed at a depth of 8573 feet on the 12th inst. While there was a showing of oil at that depth, it was decided to go deeper, and drilling has been resumed. The same company is drilling another well in the Big Lake field, which promises to make a notable record. It had reached a depth of 8578 feet on April 14 and was drilling in shale. Another of the Big Lake Oil Company's deep tests in this field is producing an average of 644 barrels daily from a depth of 8232 feet.

TROJAN OIL AIMS TO BE EXPLAINED

Plans for Division of Engineering Extension on Dinner Program

Progress of the work of the division of petroleum engineering of the University of Southern California will be reported on and plans for its further development will be made known at a dinner to be given at the university this evening, to which executives of the leading oil companies of Southern California have been invited.

The policy of the university in training petroleum engineers and promoting research in this field will be outlined by President R. B. Von KleinSmid and the detailed plans of the university will be discussed by John Franklin Dodge, professor of petroleum engineering, and Philip S. Biegler, acting dean of the college of engineering.

Petroleum engineering was introduced at the university three years ago. The courses in this branch were increased and reorganized last September when Prof. Dodge, formerly petroleum engineer with the Standard Oil Company of California, became head of the division. More than fifty full-time students now are registered in this division and at the evening classes at university college an average of thirty-five men, who are employed in the industry during the day, are enrolled.

Standard Oil Again Active in Tupman Field

TUPMAN, April 20. (Exclusive)—Rig is going up at the Standard Oil Company's recently staked site in the Tupman field, on the west side. The well is to be Tupman No. 45, on Sec. 36, 30-24.

Drilling of this well will mark the end of several years of idleness for Standard in this particular sector, which several years ago made petroleum history for Kern county when many mammoth producers were brought in.

BUREAU OF MINING AT MILEPOST

Brief History of State Body Given After Fifty Years' Existence

Fifty years ago, Gov. George C. Perkins, later United States Senator for California, signed the bill introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Joseph Wasson of Mono and Inyo counties, by which the State Mining Bureau was created with headquarters in San Francisco. Under authority of that act, Henry G. Hanks was shortly thereafter commissioned as the first State Mineralogist of California.

The State Mining Bureau continued under that title (though the act was thrice amended, 1885, 1893 and 1913, as to organization details) until July, 1927, when it was made the Division of Mines and Mining, and in July, 1929, Division of Mines, under the State Department of Natural Resources, of which Fred G. Stevenot is the present director. The board of trustees provided for in the amendment of 1885 and continued by the 1893 amendment was abolished in 1913; but again restored under the designation of State Mining Board by the 1929 amendment to the Department of Natural Resources Act.

Besides the main headquarters with offices in the Ferry Building, San Francisco, including the library, laboratory and mineral exhibits, district mining engineers are stationed with offices at Sacramento, Los Angeles and Redding. Reports and bulletins to a total number of over 100 have been published from time to time describing in detail (with maps, charts and photographs) the varied mineral substances available in this great commonwealth of California—their location, character, transportation facilities, state of development, utilization and other pertinent data.

Bishop Oildale Project Down in Sandy Shale

OILDALE, April 20. (Exclusive)—The Bishop Oil Corporation's Fano No. 18, recently spudded in on Sec. 23, 28-27 in the Kern Front field, is down more than 1500 feet and is going through sandy-shale formation. This is the first well drilled in this district by this operator in many months.

In the same field the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company has two projects, one of which is drilling in the oil sand, and the other rigged up. The Standard Oil Company has one well ready to spud in.

NATURAL GAS NOT NEW COMMODITY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Natural gas is not as new a commodity as recent activities in its distribution might indicate, according to W. S. Yard, vice-president of the Pacific Gas Company. Yard told the Bond Club Stockton obtained natural gas in 1854 when a well drilled near the Courthouse developed as a gas producer. It was the first in the State to be developed for commercial use, Yard declared, Sacramento following.

GAIN IN FUEL OIL USE NOTED

Steady and substantial increase in the demand for fuel oil is indicated by the fact that, during March of this year, shipments of fuel oil from Los Angeles Harbor headed the list of petroleum exports and totaled 3,875,470 barrels, according to the Department of Public Information of the California Oil and Gas Association.

The fuel oil market has lagged for many years, but a steady increase in facilities for cracking heavier oil into gasoline, kerosene and Diesel oil, coupled with the phenomenal growth of the oil-heating business, has started California fuel oil on the upgrade.

An unofficial estimate of the amount of fuel oil used in the United States during 1929 for heating buildings and residences is given as 15,000,000 barrels, which compares with 13,967,000 barrels in 1928 and 11,709,000 barrels during 1927. As indicating the magnitude of this increase, it is pointed out that only 3,000,000 barrels were used for heating purposes in 1923.

A survey conducted by the association indicates that 60 per cent of all the fuel oil used in the world is consumed in the United States, and that it is chiefly used to generate power for railroads, steamships, power plants, factories and for home heating. It has been learned that, while the consumption of soft coal showed practically no increase in 1929, there were 130,000 new oil-burner heating plants installed in American homes at a cost of $100,000,000. There are now more than 500,000 of these home-heating plants in use throughout the United States.

The oil industry has made a careful study of home-heating in recent years and it finds that there is a rapidly increasing market for fuel oil as a result of the universal clamor for cheaper and more compact fuel for the household. A barrel of fuel oil can be stored in a fraction of the space formerly occupied by a ton of coal. It is much cleaner to burn and the modern oil-burner is under thermostat control, which relieves members of the family from the onerous task of firing the furnace.

ROHDE TO DRILL ON VENICE LOTS

Operator Planning to Start Operations Soon

Holdings Near Ocean Lately Sold to Barnsdall

Ohio's Gun Club Well Due for Early Completion

Having returned to the town-lot area southwest of the Ohio Oil Company's discovery well, southeast of Venice, O. J. Rohde is preparing to start operations where he has fifteen lots in Block No. 2.

Mr. Rohde, operating as Rohde & McAdams, owned one-third of a long strip directly offsetting the discovery well, which was sold to the Barnsdall Oil Company about two months ago. His new holdings are southwest of Barnsdall's projects, and between Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth streets, on a portion of the Silver Strand.

More than a dozen wells are drilling in and near Venice as a result of the success of the Ohio Oil Company in that area. Its Recreation Gun Club No. 2 will drill out tomorrow, with bottom of the hole at 6057 feet. Officials report that they have eight feet of oil sand.

The Pacific Western Oil Company and Olympic Oil and Refining Company have drilling sites in the lagoon only a short distance from the discovery well, but both operators have announced that no immediate field work is contemplated. They are awaiting to see the outcome of several wells now drilling ahead.

REPORT OF GOLD DOME FIND STIRS

Rich Strike in Estate of Angelenos at McCoy Starts Rush to Area

BATTLE MOUNTAIN (Nev.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Rich gold discoveries on the property of the Nevada Gold Dome Mines Company of Los Angeles at McCoy, have started a rush of prospectors to the district. The McCoy lease at a depth of fifty feet has uncovered a shoot of free-gold ore said to sample from $1000 to $5000 per ton. The lease is preparing to ship the high-grade by express, and precautions have been taken to prevent raids by high-graders.

Four other leases have uncovered ore shoots running from mill values to high-grade, with the strikes made at depths ranging from three feet below surface to the 100-foot level. Leases were granted on the property late in 1929 after the company discontinued operations in the apparent belief that the ore bodies had been worked out.

New discoveries of rich quicksilver ore in the properties of the Nevada Quicksilver and Pershing Quicksilver companies, in the Antelope Springs area, are reported. On the Montgomery property of the Nevada Quicksilver exceptionally rich material is said to have been uncovered on the lime-sandstone contact, with the deposit apparently of considerable magnitude. The company is understood to have arranged for installation of a compressor and pump, and building of an electric power line.

Pershing Quicksilver reports that a new and fairly rich ore body has been uncovered in new ground, and that the main workings are producing heavily. The Antelope Springs Mercury Company has completed building of a new road and is arranging for early installation of a furnace and considerable mine machinery.

HOBBS OIL REPORTED ACTIVITIES

Pipe Line Prospect for Eastern Lea Held Main Spur to Operations

ARTESIA (N. M.) April 20. (Exclusive)—The possibility of a pipeline outlet for the Hobbs field in Eastern Lea county, at an early date, has been the principal factor in speeding up developments in that area. Further interest has been added to the locality by a report that four lines will be constructed into that field.

A surveying crew is working in the area between the Lea and Hobbs pools, mapping out a route for a Paso-Tex pipe line. If that line is built, it will carry crude into El Paso, Tex., for refining, it is asserted.

Practically all of the new locations recently announced in the Hobbs field have either started work or are ready to spud. Important wells started several weeks ago have not yet reached oil. It is probable that a deep test of the Fisher-Lowery-Penn well known as State No. 1, on Sec. 11, 18-38, will be abandoned as dry within a short time, if commercial production is not found soon. It has reached a depth of 4725 feet. Two hundred and fifty thousand feet of gas developed at 4695 feet is the most encouraging showing yet found.

Two locations made by the Midwest Oil and Refining Company in the Jal sector will soon be ready to spud in, these being the Farnsworth No. 19 on Sec. 14, 26-37, and Farnsworth No. 34 on Sec. 13, 26-36.

MEXICAN OIL INDUSTRY TO BE STUDIED

Commission's Survey to Determine If Petroleum Laws Need Amending

MONTERREY (Mex.) April 20. (Exclusive)—An investigation of the oil industry of Mexico is to be made by a commission which will be appointed by the Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor at the direction of President Ortiz Rubio. One of the principal purposes of the investigation will be to determine whether the existing petroleum laws should be amended. It is stated by persons who have conferred with President Ortiz Rubio on the subject that the latter realizes that the present depression of the industry in Mexico is largely due to oppressive laws. Complete statistics of the development and production of oil in this country since the first exploitation began will be compiled by the commission, and there will be collected information as to the acreage at present under lease by oil companies, as well as data of the amounts of money invested in pipe lines, refineries and various other kinds of machinery and equipment.

There has been such a marked decline in production in the Tampico fields during the last two or three years that the government feels the necessity of doing something that will bring the industry back to something like what it was in former years.

Trio of New Oil Completions in Fields of Kern

BAKERSFIELD, April 20. (Exclusive)—Three new oil wells were brought in during the past week in Kern county fields for an initial daily production of 284 barrels.

In the Midway field the Republic Petroleum Company brought in its Fee No. 35 well on Sec. 8, 32-23, for 120 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 3130 feet. The well is on the pump.

The Belridge field has a small producer in the Belridge Oil Company's Gibson No. 5 well on Sec. 36, 27-20. Production runs eight barrels daily from a depth of 740 feet.

Round Mountain is giving up 156 barrels daily from the Shell Oil Company's Olcese No. 1. The hole is on Sec. 21, 28-29, and is down 1792 feet. It is reported that Shell plans to clean out the hole and drill it deeper.

New Operators Enter Field at Round Mountain

ROUND MOUNTAIN, April 20. (Exclusive) — Two more firms have joined the ranks of operators at Round Mountain, Continental Oil Company and George F. Getty, Inc., each having staked sites for new wells.

Continental has foundation in for Williams No. 1, located 200 feet north and 548 feet south of the southeast corner of Sec. 6, 29-30.

Getty's new project is Jewett No. 1, located 150 feet south and 150 feet west of the northwest corner of Sec. 19, 28-29.

With the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company active in two wells, Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company drilling one, and Shell having spudded in one with another nearing completion, work in the Round Mountain district is picking up.

OFFSET OPENED AT KETTLEMAN

Standard Brings in No. 35 to Protect Fee Land

Flow of Gas Will be Piped to Absorption Plant

Milham's Elliott No. 1 Has Been Beaned Down

To prevent its fee land from being drained, the Standard Oil Company last week brought in its No. 35 on Sec. 35, 21-17, at Kettleman Hills, as a direct off-set to the Petroleum Securities Company's Felix No. 1, on the same section. Early reports indicate that it is flowing between 50,000,000 and 70,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day from a depth of 7392 feet, along with mud and traces of oil.

Standard officials announced yesterday that had it not been for the steady production of Felix No. 1, the No. 35 would have been held back until there is a greater demand for oil. The fact that the Felix No. 1 has been on production more than three months and will likely continue on production, was given as the reason why No. 35 was brought in.

UNINTERRUPTED FLOW

This new well on the north dome will be allowed to flow uninterruptedly a few days to let the hole get thoroughly cleaned out to bottom, then the flow of gas will be turned into pipe lines and sent to Standard's absorption plant located near two other producers.

The Milham Exploration Company's Elliott No. 1, which has been on steady production since October, 1928, now is yielding about 2425 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 7236 feet. The daily gas flow has been beaned down to 73,000,000 cubic feet, more than half of which is being utilized by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for consumption in communities in the northern end of the State.

WELL SWABBED TO BOTTOM

In an endeavor to prove up the south dome the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company has swabbed its Sahlein No. 1 to bottom at 6435 feet. Considerable gas is present, although reports are that oil still is absent.

The General Petroleum Corporation's Ochsner No. 2 on Sec. 20 22-18, on the north dome is coring in oil sand below 7263 feet. The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation's Ferguson No. 2 on Sec. 24, 22-17, is suspended, with bottom at 7694 feet, and the Associated Oil Company's Watson No. 1 on Sec. 34, 22-18, is drilling in brown shale below 6085 feet. Associated's Whipley No. 1 on Sec. 35, 21-17, a direct offset to the Petroleum Securities and Standard wells, is drilling below 6756 feet.

REPORTS ON NEW MEXICO WELL ROSY

Oil Showings in Project Northwest of Lakewood Viewed as Promising

ARTESIA (N. M.) April 13. (Exclusive)—If oil showings mean anything, R. D. Compton should make a commercial well of his State No. 1, on Sec. 2, 20-25, northwest of Lakewood and west of the Pecos River. Mr. Compton recently encountered the tenth oil showing at 1490 feet. Owing to the hardness of the lime in which the oil occurs, it does not always give up the oil freely.

Operators feel encouraged over the results of a shot of 240 quarts of nitro placed in the Beeson No. 1 of Lockhart & Co., on Sec. 28, 17-30, at 3105 to 3125 feet. The shot was made after the owner originally decided to abandon the test at 3565 feet, when a flow of sulphur water was found. The Beeson is believed to be developing into a commercial producer, following the shot, which was made largely as an experiment and may stimulate a comparatively large sector in East Eddy county.

OIL INDUSTRY PEACE SOUGHT

Meeting of Independents and Majors Called

H. R. Macmillan to Present Plan at Gathering

Adoption Believed Solution for Gasoline War

The California Oil and Gas Association has launched a plan to establish peace between the independent operators and the major oil companies and end the gasoline price-cutting war that has been raging for some weeks.

H.R. MACMILLAN.

Herbert R. Macmillan, president of the association and chairman of the Santa Fe Springs Operators' Committee, together with other association officials and leaders supporting the State-wide curtailment program to cut the State's flow to 610,000 barrels of oil per day, will attend a meeting of the general committee, which has just been called by Chairman Paul N. Boggs. The session will be held in the new offices of the California Oil and Gas Association in the Associated Realty Building at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

At the meeting Friday, which was hastily called by Mr. Macmillan, emphasis was laid on the fact that unless the curtailment of crude oil production is made more drastic there is strong likelihood that the number of employees laid off by the various refineries will be increased. To prevent this President Macmillan stresses the importance of a new plan calling for a reduction of the State's flow from 610,000 barrels to 550,000 barrels daily, a measure which, it is believed, would automatically reduce the amount of oil and gasoline in storage. The latter condition, he asserts, is one cause of the present gasoline war.

Figure presented by Mr. Macmillan show the importance of the independent operators in relation to the oil industry. He said that of 935,000,000 gallons of gasoline on which a tax was paid during 1929, 318,000,000 gallons were supplied by independents.

The independent operators' viewpoint will be thoroughly discussed when the State-wide general committee meets tomorrow. Mr. Boggs has telegraphed its members, impressing upon them the importance of attending the session for the purpose of considering the recommendations to be submitted to it by the California Oil and Gas Association.

Mining to be Discussed at Ventura Today

Industrial mining possibilities in Ventura county will be the topic of interest when the Ventura Chamber of Commerce meets tonight for luncheon at the Athene club in Ventura. Visitors from all cities and sections of the county are to attend.

On the speakers' program are John Hodge, mining engineer and chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce Mining Congress; W. B. Tucker, district mining engineer of the California Mining Bureau; H. J. United Verde's Golden Anchor Promising Mine

JEROME (Ariz.) April 20. (Exclusive)—News has been received of remarkable developments in the Golden Anchor mine, in the district in Idaho, a property controlled by the United Verde Extension Mining Company of this town.

The mine lies beside a well-developed one of the Sherman-Howe Company, with which U.V.X. also is reported associated in the opening of adjoining ground. probably being reduced in the company's 40-ton mill is reported identical with that opened on the 300-foot level of the Golden Anchor. U.V.X. for years has been looking for a new property of value and is declared to have found it in Idaho.

RICH STRIKE IN ARIZONA FIELD

Pay Streak Sampling $1000 Per Ton Reported

Cyanide Plant of Gold Road Running Steadily

Manganese Duty Good News to Mohave Miners

KINGMAN (Ariz.) April 20. (Exclusive)—In the Gold Wing section there has been a new gold strike, about a mile from the first of the sensational discoveries. It is reported that in a vein which is over three feet wide is a pay streak that will sample $1000 to the ton, and that the full width has good milling value.

The rich stuff is in loose material in the middle of the vein. The ore is being sacked for shipment as it is taken out in process of development the length of the lead. The discoverers are members of the Dunlap syndicate.

At Oatman, the Gold Road cyanide plant is running steadily, with recent addition of finer grinding machinery, through which much better extraction of values is secured. It is the intention of the management to mix ore with the tailings. The Tom Reed crosscut, at the other end of the camp, has passed fifty feet of length on its way to cutting a known and rich ore body that has been opened by a winze from the 300-foot level. This is to be done at 1100 feet depth.

Much benefit is expected by Mohave county manganese miners by Congressional action placing a duty on the lower-grade importations of their product. To this is due the recent location of a large area of manganese-bearing territory in the north end of the Chimehuevis Mountains, only a short distance from the railroad. There are a number of veins, exposed for long distances and sampling well in the metal.

REPORT ON GOLD SHOT MINE ROSY

Ore Blocked Out Held Warrant for Mill on Hemet Property

Sufficient values have been uncovered and blocked out on the Gold Shot property approximately forty miles south of Hemet to warrant the installation of a twenty-five-ton mill and machinery for the plant now is on the property, according to O. C. Brink of Anaheim.

The property consists of three claims well strung out along a nearly perpendicular vein of ore that cleaves the San Jacinto Mountains. Surface outcroppings assay $18 to the ton of free-milling quartz, the engineer says.

A shaft has been sunk fifty feet on the vein and a lateral driven more than that distance along the face of the ore. At the bottom of the shaft values assaying $52 were picked up.

The Gold Shot was located a number of years ago and was worked enough to keep up assessment requirements, until a few years ago when title was allowed to lapse. About four months ago it was filed upon by a group of Anaheim men including O. C. Brink, M. E. Simon, A. R. Mott and C. J. Christenson.

The ore is to be reduced to bullion at the mine. Ore reduction is expected to begin within a few weeks.

FRUITVALE PROJECT TO RECEMENT

Mohawk Oil Kills Flow of 300 Barrels Daily in Recent Completion

FRUITVALE, April 20. (Exclusive)—Although 300 barrels of production was obtained from its recently drilled No. 6 well on Sec. 27, 29-27, in this field, the Mohawk Oil Company has killed the flow to recement the casing.

With a total depth of 4183 feet and an oil sand at bottom that did not give much indication of being prolific, the well was completed for more oil than usually is found in this field, where 150-barrel producers are the general rule. The cut is 50 per cent. Mohawk drilled this well after more than eight months of idleness at Fruitvale.

The Western Gulf Oil Company, after several months of inactivity at Fruitvale, once more has staked location for a site there to be spudded in soon. The new project is located on the Price-Stewart lease. Western Gulf is one of the field's first operators.

Development of Volcanic Ash Deposit Pends

MOJAVE, April 20. (Exclusive)—Robert E. Robinson, mining engineer, of Los Angeles, recently spent several days in the vicinity of Brown, inspecting the enormous deposit of silica and volcanic ash eight miles northeast from Brown.

He spoke favorably of the mining activities in this vicinity, and said that he and his associates are contemplating shipping 500,000 tons of the volcanic ash to Los Angeles. It was understood that this volcanic ash is to be used with cement in erecting high buildings, concrete roads, also in dam construction.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Five Specimens

EL SEGUNDO, April 3. Question; I am sending five rock samples to be analyzed for all they contain. All samples from Imperial county. Thanking you for past favors. X.

Answer: No. 1 is a mixture of jasper (quartz) with chalcedony, (also quartz.) The greenish-blue matter is chiastolite; sparingly present and not of the macled variety. The greenish traces present are green garnet; quite a mixture. All of the substances named occur in Imperial county for better grades. No. 2 is low-grade selenite, (gypsum.) No. 3 is pearlyte, (variety obsidian.) No. 4 is burnt-up brecciated rock carrying garnet, chalcedony and traces of sanidin, (glassy feldspar,) and No. 5 is probably opaline silica with slight indications that fire opal (girasol) might occur at or near the locality where the specimen was obtained.

Five Samples

LOS ANGELES, April 3.—Q.: Will you kindly publish through In the Earth department the composition and value of the five specimens sent you under separate cover. These were all found during a 500-mile trip through the San Diego Mountains. I think No. 1 is a gypsum formation. No. 2 was taken from the cap of a good-sized mound; this sample has a similar appearance to material shipped into the potteries along the Ohio River. No. 3 is hard as flint and there is apparently several hundred thousand tons of same. I have one piece of this which has been faced, and it makes a beautiful appearance. This granite would make a wonderful material to use for the new Southern California office building. A Southern California product with beauty unsurpassed. No. 4 is from a deposit of sand that is a little different from the ordinary. It might have a value as filtering sand. S.

A.: No. 1 is clouded and low grade crystallized gypsum known as selenite. It is not the commercially valuable rock gypsum. No. 2 is a mixture of feldspars; chiefly microcline. No. 3 is probably not granite. It is banded on the order of "cat's eye," and resembles so-called Mexican onyx, but Mexican onyx is simply calcite resembling true onyx in appearance. Travertine, and some varieties of tufa when solid, banded, and susceptible of a good polish, is known as Mexican onyx or onyx marble. True onyx is a crypto-crystalline variety of quartz, made up of different-colored layers, chiefly white, yellow, black or red, and it is not found in commercial quantity in the United States. (U.S.G.S.) Your sample might answer for building stone; notwithstanding it carries bare traces of microscopical pyrite, and it contains no mica. Another No. 3 is simply a soft mixture of sand with hydrous aluminum silicate, and No. 4 is a mixture of sand, aluminum silicate, colored with limonite, and represents a rather doubtful filtering agent.

Uranium Absent

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Q.: Under separate cover I am sending two interesting samples taken from the vicinity of Mace, Cal. Your classification and opinion on commercial possibilities will be appreciated. Thanking you for past favors. X.

A.: Sample No. 1 is ferruginous quartz containing a little iron sulphate. It might give low gold value if similar material was submitted to fire assays. The greenish specimen No. 2 carries a low percentage of copper in the forms of copper silicate and copper sulphate.

Three Specimens

INYOKERN, April 5.—Q.: I am sending you three samples for qualitative tests. No. 1 was found in the Lava Hills fifteen miles southeast of Inyokern, Cal. The locality is a lava formation with wash-gravel in the Canyon. No. 2 comes from a locality four miles northwest from Indian Wells, Cal.; size of ledge three feet, and surface stuff. No. 3 six miles from Indian Wells, size of ledge four feet; this rock looks good but I found no free gold in it; it is possibly base-metal ore. Would you kindly inform me through In the Earth column what to have rock represented by the specimens assayed for. I thank you in advance, and for past favors. X.

A.: No. 1 somewhat resembles jasper. It carries iron oxides; pseudomorph matter after pyrite, and microscopic pyrite traces. Deweylite is present in low percentage, and no free gold. No. 2 reacts for micaceous iron and other hematite; titaniferous iron present and some iron disulphide. No. 3 is a greatly altered rock; iron oxides chiefly, and cinnabar is absent. Cannot advise you further as to gold-silver assays, but flake platinum is not present in any sample.

Uranium Absent

LOS ANGELES, April 5. — Q.: Do the inclosed samples of ore contain uranium or what? An old subscriber. J.

A.: The two specimens appear to be altered magnesium silicate rocks carrying iron oxides; altered pyrite traces; traces of hematite; (red iron peroxide) and free gold is absent.

Porphyritic Rock

REDLANDS, April 6. — Q.: Kindly let me know the nature of the ore I am sending you, and particularly the black substance encrusted on it. The rock was found at Crystal Springs. H.

A.: The black coating seems to be iron-manganese silicate.

Flake Platinum Absent

LOS ANGELES, April 6. — Q.: I am inclosing herewith a sample taken from canyon stream bed in Los Angeles county. Does sample carry gold, silver or platinum? H.

A.: Over 95 per cent of the specimen is "black sand" (magnetic oxide of iron.) It also carries traces (each) of quartz, garnet, hornblende and titaniferous iron. Free gold absent. Regarding silver—please consult assayer.

Calcite

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—Q.: This rock was found in Los Angeles county. I would like to know what's in it? B.

A.: The calcite (lime carbonate) is partly crystallized, and of milky color. No. 2, quite a per cent of (yellow) limonite—iron peroxide is in it. Free gold absent.

Not Fuller's Earth

LOS ANGELES, April 7. — Q.: This sample comes from San Bernardino county, near Barstow. I wish to know if it is Fuller's earth, also of what commercial value? S.

A.: The sample is a variety of gritty volcanic ash, and represents a doubtful commercial value.

A Mixture

PALM SPRINGS, April 8. — Q.: These samples of ore were found in the San Jacinto Mountains near Palm Springs. Would you kindly analyze for any minerals that they may contain. S.

A.: The samples are greatly altered iron-magnesium silicate and carry a very low percentage of copper. Magnetic iron which can be lifted with a magnet present, with limonite, (hydrous iron peroxide,) mica schist and clay. Native gold absent.

Dolomite

NEEDLES, April 9. — Q.: Will you please classify the inclosed specimens taken at a locality twenty-one miles northeast of Needles. Do they carry any colemanite? J.

A.: The specimens are classified as lime-magnesia carbonates, (dolomite) of fairly good grade. They contain no colemanite.

Palpitation of Heart Reduced

BERLIN, April 20. (AP)—Palpitating hearts the world over need palpitate no longer if the claims of Dr. E. Zuelzer of this city are true.

He announced to the Berlin Medical Society the discovery of a heart hormone which reduces palpitation to a minimum.

He calls it eutonon and says it is isolated from liver and muscle. It reduces the size of the heart, he asserts, enabling it to function with less oxygen. It also enlarges the coronary vessels so that they put more oxygen into the blood.

He says that athletes who received it in training showed reduced fatigue and above everything else, no signs of palpitation of the heart.

TEXAS HOLE AIMS AT RECORD DEPTH

SAN ANGELO (Tex.) April 20. (Exclusive)—P. H. Williams of San Angelo is drilling what promises to be the deepest hole in the world in search of oil upon a 2000-acre tract in Irion county. The hole now is down 8472 feet and Mr. Williams says that he plans to go to at least 10,000 feet and probably to 12,000 if the drilling tools hold out and the hole keeps straight, and providing oil in paying quantity is not found before then.

PIONEER PLACER DAYS RECALLED

Arizona Diggings Reported as Unusually Active

Spring Rains Main Factor in Recent Revival

Many Otherwise Idle Miners Busy With Pans

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Spring rains are bringing back memories of pioneer days when scores of creeks in this vicinity were yielding golden returns to several thousand placer miners. For years past, droughty conditions not only have injured the live-stock interests, but have restricted placering mainly to dry washing, a relatively expensive and usually unsatisfactory process of extraction.

While mountain snows hardly have lived up this season to pioneer memories, the creeks of the Hassayampa and Agua Fria drainages have been running for several months, their flow affording occupation to miners who might otherwise have been without employment.

In the Bumblebee section, the Foster Placer Company has installed pumps and equipment, with sluice boxes, for handling a large deposit of gravel that samples well in gold.

The Harlan placer property has been sold by Don C. MacIver and W. B. Wilson to Thomas Griffith and Fred Martin, New Mexico miners, who have bought new machinery and who will push operations under the present favoring conditions.

The upper Hassayampa and the Lynx Creek sections have long reaches of gold-bearing gravels, while one of the greatest gold bars of the Southwest lies near the Hassayampa, north of Wickenburg and below the Rich Hill bonanza. A new dam is being erected across the stream at Walnut Grove, especially for irrigation of a tract of desert land at Wittmann, but there is local expectation that a part of the water stored will be used in the washing of the gravel banks.

REVIVAL OF OLD ESTATE ON WAY

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Sixty men are employed on the old Zonia property, near Kirkland station on the Santa Fe, half of them erecting a camp for a permanent force of at least 100. Under construction are a large mess house and several bunk houses, while the roads are to have improvement, in preparation for extensive operations.

The mines now are owned by the Hammon Copper Company, Ltd., with W. J. Loring in charge. There is to be a 600-ton mill, expected to be in operation within a few months, the first unit of a still larger plant. Ore is being blocked out steadily and is reported to be in quantity sufficient for several years of operation of the initial concentrator capacity.

In Copper Basin district, not far from the Zonia, is the property of L. L. LeBarr, of twenty-one claims, in which is reported the discovery, at twenty feet of depth, of a twelve-inch vein from which assays run above $100 in free gold. Much ore already is sacked for shipment to the Humboldt smelter. The find was in a seventy-foot porphyry dyke.

A pay streak, a foot wide and sampling $20 gold, has been opened for a long distance in the Suter-Barnwell property in Bumble-bee district, as well as a large quantity of milling ore of lower grade. R. H. Barnwell, in charge of operations, expects to spend $50,000 in further development.

In the Senator section, the new Davis-Dunkirk mill has been given full electric equipment, supplied with current by the Arizona Power Company. E. L. Sweeney is engineer in charge of the installation work.

Britain Rivals United States in Money Loans

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Great Britain came closer to equaling the record of the United States as a foreign money lender in 1929 than any year since the war, due partly to the speculative fever of the American investors who transferred their interest from bonds to the stock market.

The foreign capital issues floated in the United States in 1929 dropped approximately 50 per cent, according to the Department of Commerce. They totaled $706,807,000 while British total was $541,470,000.

SHEFFIELD STEEL EARNINGS MOUNT

Sheffield Steel Corporation reported Saturday net earnings for the March quarter of $297,531 after all charges equal after preferred dividends to $1.35 per share on 187,061 shares outstanding at the close of the period. This compares with $191,522 reported earned after adjustments in the same period of 1929, which was equal after preferred dividends to 82 cents a share on 179,780 common shares then outstanding.

CLARK EQUIPMENT REPORTS EARNINGS

Clark Equipment Company and subsidiaries reported Saturday consolidated net profits for 1929 of $1,309,514 after all charges, equal after preferred dividends to $4.92 a share on 249,824 common shares outstanding at the end of the year. No direct comparison with the previous year is available, due to changes in the company's capital structure made during the year.

CHAIN BANKING PRINCIPLE HIT

Investigation Into Branch System Expected

Senate Committee Approves Survey Proposal

State Law Conflicts With Federal Legislation

WASHINGTON, April 20. (Exclusive)—The Senate is expected to adopt the resolution approved last week by its banking and currency committees providing for an investigation of chain and branch banking, as well as of the stock-market collapse last fall. Chain banks are legally independent corporations linked by some central unit. This may be a bank or a banking corporation, or a nonbanking holding company; or persons or groups acting for themselves (mostly long-established small country banks.)

The McFadden Act of 1927, which placed definite Federal restrictions upon branch banking, contained no provisions upon chain banking. Such control as exists over chain banking, hence, comes from State legislation.

The Federal Reserve Board has just issued figures on the growth of chain banking in the last six months of 1929. From June to December, 1929, the total number of banks in the United States decreased 2 per cent from 25,110 to 24,630. This decrease merely continued a trend which set in several years ago. On the other hand the number of banks in chains increased 15 per cent from 1821 to 2103.

CHAIN BANK LOANS UP

The loans and investments of all banks in the United States were practically the same on December 31, last, as on June 30, last. However, the loans and investments of banks in chains increased 35 per cent. Chain banks accounted last June 30 for 14 per cent of all bank loans and investments. On last December 31, they accounted for 19 per cent.

There are still more chain banks which are not members of the Federal Reserve system than members. But during the last six months the number of member chain banks increased more rapidly in both number and resources than the number of nonmember chain banks.

SMALL CHAINS GROW

The increase in the number of chain banks during the last six months of 1929 was chiefly in the following nine States: Minnesota, Michigan, North Dakota, New York, Washington, Arkansas, Montana, Massachusetts and Kentucky. The increase was also confined chiefly to a relatively small number of systems. Thus, during these six months one system increased from twenty to ninety-two banks; another from twelve to seventy-eight banks; while one was operating thirty-five banks at the end of the year which was not in existence last June.

The total number of banking chains at the end of the year was 287 as compared with 273 six months previously. Forty-two were operating ten or more banks while 125 were operating between five and ten, both inclusive. There were thirty-four with loans and investments of over $50,000,000 each. Ten of these, including the two largest, operated in more than one State.

Sixty per cent of the banking chains operate in States where branch banking is prohibited, and 25 per cent in the States which restrict the location of branch banks.

Oldest Orange Tree in North Yields Heavily

OROVILLE, April 20. —Harvesting of the crop from the "mother orange tree" of Northern California has recently been completed, and those in charge of the work said the giant tree, which has been bearing fruit for more than seventy years, gave a larger crop this year than for many seasons past.

The tree, located on the bank of the Feather River at Bidwell Bar, historic early day mining camp, nine miles east of there, was planted in 1856 by Judge Joseph Lewis, one of the early California argonauts. A monument now stands at the base of the tree as a memorial to the man who first proved that oranges could be grown in this section of Butte county.

Fuel and Iron Earnings Gain

Consolidated net earnings of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ended March 31, last, was reported Saturday at $1,294,157.78 after all charges excepting provision for Federal income taxes and equipment dismantled, equal after estimated Federal income taxes and preferred dividends to $3.27 a share on 340,505 common shares outstanding.

This compares with net earnings reported for the same period last year of $939,982.79, equal after taxes and preferred dividends to $2.34 a share. In 1928 the same quarter earnings were equal to $1.24 a share. Net operating earnings after all charges except interest and depreciation amounted to $2,202,731.65 against $1,998,473.02 for the same period last year.

LUCKY STRIKE IN HIGH-GRADE FIND

Values of $130 Gold and $200 Silver Reported

Three Operating Leases Plan to Start Shipping

Owner May Work Property if Option Surrendered

TONOPAH (Nev.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Ore sampling around $130 gold and $200 silver per ton shows at a depth of forty feet in the shaft of the Lucky Strike property, at Ellendale, according to A. T. Wilkerson, principal owner. The high-grade has been persistent from surface and shows strong indications of going to greater depth. Three leases on the group have opened ore, with arrangements being made for shipments to Tonopah.

The George Wingfield interests have taken an option on the property. Wilkerson states that unless the option is exercised he will form a company to work the Lucky Strike to the best advantage and will grant several leases. Prospecting has started on numerous claims in the district, with some promising finds reported.

The Ohio Mines Company announces that it has made a substantial payment on the purchase of the noted Orlean mine, at Hornsilver, and has started rehabilitation of the property. Good ore is said to have been showing on the lower levels when litigation forced the former owners to cease work. The company plans to install a mill before the end of the year to treat ore from both the Orlean and townsite properties.

Production of Nevada quicksilver companies continues at capacity despite the recent decline of metal prices from $124 to $116 per flask. The B. & B. Quicksilver Company, operating low-grade properties in the Mt. Montgomery area, is treating 140 tons of crude ore daily and producing eighty-nine flasks of mercury every month. Two retorts are to be added to the furnaces to increase recovery of quicksilver from slimes.

The Red Rock Quicksilver Company working fairly rich properties a few miles from the B. & B. group, reports net profits of $7000 for 1929. During the year the company enlarged its plant, expended considerable money on development of new territory, and increased its holdings.

ANCIENT TRACKS FOUND

LANDER (Wyo.) April 20. (AP)—One of the earliest known records of web-footed creatures exists in sandstone near here. It comprises forty-nine consecutive fossil impressions of five-toed hind feet of some unknown animal.

TODAY MAY END CASE OF ANDRADES

Beverly Hills Wife Soon to Know Verdict in Trial for Shooting at Spouse

The guilt or innocence of Mrs. Helen Lois Andrade, charged with attempting to shoot Albert Francis Andrade in front of his Beverly Hills home on the night of December 12, last, probably will be determined by a jury in Superior Judge Wilson's court today.

When the court adjourned Friday evening the defense had rested its case and arguments are scheduled to be heard today. The last defense witness was Mrs. Andrade herself, who testified that she went to Andrade's home at 206 North Palm Drive intending to commit suicide.

What happened after she arrived there, Mrs. Andrade said, is not clear in her mind except that she saw Andrade and his present wife, Judith Lavender Andrade, standing in the doorway together and she remembers firing three shots from a pistol she carried intending to end her own life but none of the shots took effect.

Andrade asserts that five shots were fired and that most of them narrowly missed striking him.

During the trial the question of the validity of a divorce obtained by Andrade from Helen Lois Andrade in Yucatan in 1924 became a question of argument. The defense attorneys, Jud Rush and William Beirne, contended that the divorce had been held invalid.

RESERVISTS DUE TODAY FOR SESSION

Program of R.O.A. Will Open Tomorrow Morning With Col. Cole in Charge

Several hundred delegates from Eastern States to the national convention of the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States are scheduled to arrive this morning from Chicago.

They will be welcomed by a committee made up of members of Los Angeles chapter, Arnamac chapter and other Southland chapters of the association, headed by Capt. Frank B. Belcher and including Maj. E. F. Hanson, Col. Perry B. Widener, Lieut.-Col. Irving H. Hellman, Lieut.-Col. Joseph W. Sutphen, Lieut.-Col. George H. Chase, Capt. Karl W. Marks, Lieut.-Col. R. I. Follmer, Lieut.-Col. O. C. Wyman, Capt. J. W. Dillrance, Lieut.-Col. Leroy F. Smith and several others.

Registration at headquarters in the Biltmore will be in order today, as many delegates are due to arrive by motor, railroad and stages from near-by points. A meeting of the national council will be held at 9 p.m.

Formal sessions of the convention begin tomorrow morning, with Col. Walter C. Cole of Detroit, national president, in the chair. Speakers on the first day's program are Maj. W. Bertrand Stevens, Protestant Episcopal bishop of Los Angeles; Maj. E. E. Hanson, Maj. G. C. Ringole, president Department of California; Col. David L. Stone, U.S.A.; Col. E. A. Harriman, Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines and Brig.-Gen. Walter P. Story.

Two luncheons are scheduled for the noon recess, one tendered by the Advertising Club at the Biltmore and an army officers' mess at Leighton's Arcade cafeteria, of which Capt. Lyston Black will be in charge, with Maj. E. F. Hanson as officer of the day and National President Col. Cole as guest speaker.

The delegates will be entertained by the Chamber of Commerce at a special luncheon at the Alexandria Wednesday as a feature of the chamber's aviation, military and naval affairs committee. Invitations have been issued to all members of the various other Chamber of Commerce committees in addition to the visiting reserve officers attending the convention. President Austin will preside.

Helper Floats Stranded Bark Off of Shoals

Stranded on the shoals of uncertainty, Sailorman O. L. Davis and Miss Delle Shafer were salvaged by Uncle John Daggett of The Times and shoved off into quiet seas of matrimony Saturday afternoon in The Times studio of KHJ.

It all came about this way:

Sailorman Davis and his bride-to-be had their clearance papers but had lost their chart and knew not where to go. Searching for a chaplain to tie the sailor's knot, they sighted Uncle John. They signaled and he hove to. After explaining their dilemma, he offered to tow them to a port where they could get a pilot to start them on their endless journey.

Leading them into The Times tower he summoned the bo'sun, Judge Caryl Sheldon, and while buddies and Times newspaper men stood by, the judge took a hitch and shoved them off into the turmoil or quiet of married life.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Shafer of Needles and her new mate, a son of Mrs. Ione Davis of Pontiac, Mich., is attached to the Naval Air Station at San Diego.

BEACH FENCE PLEA DENIED

An application by the Victor Girard Corporation for a permit to maintain a fence on public beach at Venice has been turned down by the Playground and Recreation Commission. The corporation has been instructed to remove it by July 1, next.

BOOKS COME TO FORE DURING THIS WEEK

Books will be in the air and on the air this week. Not only will the Biltmore be overflowing with booksellers attending the western division of the National American Booksellers' Association from Wednesday to Saturday but the Los Angeles Public Library will be a meeting place for those interested in book markets and the book-reading public. A number of exhibits will be held at the library sponsored by the Booksellers' Association. One of the most interesting to the public will be duplicates of the 500 volumes to be presented to President Hoover for the White House Library. California printing houses will be represented by fifty examples of fine editions and the American Institute of Graphic Arts will place the fifty books of 1929 chosen for fine typography, a national annual traveling exhibit. An exhibit of book jackets sent by fifty publishing houses will be exhibited on the walls of the lecture room.

CONGESTION PLANS GIVEN COMMITTEE

In reply to requests of the City Council to make plans to lessen traffic congestion in Santa Monica Canyon and vicinity, City Engineer Jessup yesterday filed a report suggesting improvements to Kingman avenue and Entrada Drive, and asking for instructions on the matter. His report was referred to the Public Works Committee.

MUSIC BOX TEST NOVELTY ON KHJ

Listeners Asked to Identify Old-Time Selections

Ancient Tinkler's Tunes of Past Puzzle Owner

Varied Fare for Radio Fan in Day's Broadcasts

> The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30, Dr. C. A. Willat and his music box. World-wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The public will be asked on The Times forum period at 1:30 this afternoon to identify selections which are to be played on an old-time music box and a prize will be awarded the listener-in who correctly names the greatest number of selections.

This music box was recently willed to Dr. Willat by a maiden aunt who died in England. There are five rolls with six selections on each roll. The music box is of the old spike-cone type, the needle point picking the notes from the silver key board as the cone turns.

WANTS TO KNOW

Dr. Willat has been unable to identify about half the selections and is anxious to list them. It is doubtful if ever before in radio broadcast has this novel appeal been made. Those who listen will hear numbers dating back many years, including grand opera and balads. It is believed that the music box will broadcast very successfully.

The presentation should prove a real treat and it is particularly interesting in view of the fact that Dr. Willat was for twenty-four years associated with the motion-picture industry. In fact, he was a pioneer and brought Tom Ince to California in 1912 to make "two reelers." He also was one of the originators of the technicolor process, but all of "Doc" Willat's experience cannot help him solve the problem left him by the inheritance of this music box.

WHERE TO DIAL

KHJ at 1 p.m. will bring the United States Navy Band in an hour of martial airs and selections from operas. The concert will be picked up from the band stand in the Navy Yard, Washington. At 4 o'clock this afternoon another delightful concert by the Viennese Quintet, with soloists, will hold your dial. Classical compositions will be featured. At 7 tonight Inglewood Park will inaugurate a series of programs over KHJ, the first to be a concert by Raymond Paige and his concert orchestra. KHJ promises a half-hour of exceptionally well-selected numbers. And at 8 p.m. the Blue Monday Jamboree will enable the listeners-in to sit back and enjoy two hours of a little of this and that.

KFI at 6:30 p.m. with the Family Party brings Evelyn Laye, petite singer from the English stage and star of "Bitter Sweet" in numbers from that operetta. At 7 p.m. "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," sung toward the climax of Handel's "Messiah," will be Lula Gates Bootes's solo in a program of Easter music. Religious offerings by the festival chorus also will be featured. At 10 tonight Virginia Flohri, popular singer on KFI, will be heard in a half-hour of concert music.

OTHER BROADCASTS

KECA will go on the air at 7:45 a.m. with a series of programs not yet announced. At 5:45 p.m. the Sigma Pi Delta Capella Trio will hold your dial with a half-hour of music and song. At 9 tonight another hour of concert music by the KECA string ensemble is worth tuning in on.

KNX at 12 noon brings the musical lunch box in thirty minutes of fun by Tom Wallace, baritone, and the Piano Twins, while at 7:30 tonight comes a playlet, "The Foot of the Rainbow." This was the first play to be presented in Southern California by radio seven years ago. At 8 p.m. Walter Ferner, 'cellist, and Theodore Kittay, tenor, will entertain with a recital of music and song.

KMTR at 7:30 tonight will hold the dancing sons and daughters with an hour of "Around the World in Dance," while 8:30 p.m. brings the premiere of "All Quiet on the Western Front" from the Carthay Circle Theater.

CANTALOUPE RAISERS' SKY UNCLOUDED

Every Factor Favorable for Good Melon Season and Profitable Prices

With the first Imperial Valley cantaloupes ripening, prospect for this year's crop are extremely promising, according to C. B. Moore, executive secretary of the Western Growers' Protective Association, Los Angeles. Mr. Moore declares that the quality of melons this year will be the best in many seasons because of the ideal climatic conditions which have ruled during the growing season. Carlot shipments will begin to move this week, he said.

Mr. Moore states that this year the Georgia peach crop, which affects the movement of western cantaloupes, is only 52 per cent of normal, while the southern early strawberry crop is 14 to 20 per cent below normal. This, he says, indicates that Imperial Valley cantaloupes should bring good prices, especially during the first month. The present high price range of California oranges, which also compete with cantaloupes, is favorable to the cantaloupe growers, the association secretary states.

Growers and shippers are working closer together than ever before, according to Mr. Moore, whose organization includes producers of practically the entire early melon crop. He states that it is the intention of growers and shippers this year to grade very carefully so that nothing but the finest ripe melons will leave the valley. They plan to limit shipments to "full slip" melons which show 11 per cent sugar content or better. This [illegible] the consumer an excellent product, according to Mr. Moore.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR R. GUERRERO
Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Al finalizar el tercer párrafo de la Plática anterior se lee "El lugar de", y debe ser "En lugar de".

En una traducción moderna hecha en España, continúa diciendo el señor Cuervo, tropezamos con este pasaje: "La Religión católica no obliga a descubrir SUS pecados a todo el mundo". Debió decirse "no nos obliga a descubrir nuestros pecados, o no lo obliga a uno a descubrir sus pecados, etc." La corrección que aconsejamos tiene además la ventaja de curar a esa frase de la anfibología de que adolece, como fácilmente se echa de ver.

Con ciertas locuciones de que el posesivo viene a ser como parte integrante, agrega el citado sabio, es admisible el empleo de éste sin que se refiera a nombre alguno; v.gr., "La caza es una imagen de la guerra: hay en ella estratagemas, astucias, insidias para vencer a SU salvo al enemigo" (Cervantes, "Quij.", pte. II, cap. XXXIV). Lo mismo se observa cuando el posesivo acompaña a un infinitivo: "Conviene buscar tales mujeres a SUS hijos, que ni sean más nobles que ellos ni más ricas" (Mal Lara, "Filosofía vulgar", III, 57); "Es uno de los mayores (contentos) que en esta vida se pueden tener, llegar después de luengo cautiverio salvo y sano a SU patria" (Cervantes, "El amante liberal"); así traen este pasaje ediciones modernas, cuando la original y otras antiguas dicen "la patria"; pero lo cierto es que el "su" no disuena. En este lugar de Quintana: "Sabed que si las leyes de caballería permiten tomar venganza de SUS enemigos en público rigor de batalla, no así por asechanzas cautelosas" ("D. Alvaro de Luna"), parece que el autor no lo acertó omitiendo el sustantivo a que se refiere el "su" en la Crónica que parafrasea: Disciéndoles más: que la ley de caballería por público rigor de batalla da lugar a los caballeros que tomen venganza de SUS enemigos, mas no por tales escondidas, e encobiertas e asechanzas" (tít. XXXII).

En el cuarto párrafo del articulito de Belda que hemos estado comentando, leemos: "Daniel, protagonista de este breve relato, optó . . ." La voz "protagonista", como su etimología griega lo indica (prótos: primero; agonistés: actor), denota la persona que desempeña la acción más importante y destacada de un drama, y, por extensión, la que representa el principal papel en cualquier labor o empresa de gran trascendencia. Así decimos que Petrucchio es el protagonista de la comedia de Shakespeare "La fierecilla domada" o "La doma de la bravía" (The taming of the shrew); y que Abraham Lincoln fue el protagonista de la épica lucha que sostuvieron los yanquis contra los surianos por conservar la unión de los estados de este país. En el teatro se da casi siempre el papel del protagonista o la protagonista de un drama o comedia al primer actor o a la primera actriz (leading man, lady), respectivamente, de la compañía dramática que representa la pieza.

Considera luego Daniel la idea de regalar a su amiga y protectora una vajilla. Las palabras inglesas que traducen la voz castellana "vajilla" son "chinaware" (vajilla de porcelana) y "silverware" (vajilla de plata). La voz "tableware" debe traducirse por "servicio de mesa", pues denota el conjunto de la vajilla propiamente dicha (fuentes y platos de todas clases), los cubiertos (cucharas, cuchillos y tenedores), y el servicio para líquidos (botellas, jarras, vasos, etc.). Entre las piezas designadas con el nombre de cubiertos deben contarse también el cazo (ladle) para servir la sopa, el cucharón para legumbres y otros platos, el tenedorcillo para descuajar las ostras, la pala para los pescados, la paleta para tortas, helados, bizcochos, etc., el trinchante, compuesto de un gran cuchillo de hoja [illegible] y punta afilada, y un tenedor [illegible] con charnela, unido al mango, que sirve para apoyar con fuerza sobre el vástago del tenedor e impedir que se corran las grasas hasta la mano. También forman parte de los cubiertos las tenacillas para azúcar, la cuchara y el tenedor de boj, de celuloide o de galalita para la ensalada. Son preferibles los de boj, pues las piezas de galalita se deforman al lavarlas con agua caliente.

El servicio para líquidos es generalmente de cristal, o de vidrio liso o labrado. El agua se pone en botellas de cristal o vidrio con tapón de lo mismo, o en jarras de diferentes formas con tapadera de metal, la cual suele ir provista de un talón metálico, que sirve para sujetar la tapadera con el pulgar mientras se vierte el líquido. A cada comensal se le pone un juego de vasos o copas, todos de igual tipo, aunque de tamaños diferentes. Los del agua son vasos de cuarto de litro o copas de menor cabida, y los vinos se toman en cinco copas u otros tantos vasos de una misma forma, pero de capacidad decreciente: una copa para el vino de mesa, otra para los vinos secos generosos, otra para los vinos dulces, otra para los licores, y otra para el champaña. Los vinos de mesa corrientes se sirven en botellas o jarras, y los de lujo, se presentan en su propio casco. Para helar los vinos blancos y espumosos se emplean unos cubos pequeños del mismo metal que los cubiertos, en los que se colocan las botellas rodeadas de hielo picado.

Suele también darse el nombre de vajilla a los trastos de cocina; pero es más propio llamarlos utensilios de cocina. El conjunto de los que son metálicos se denomina "batería de cocina". De esta clase de vasijas hablaremos la próxima vez.

Jobless Man's Death Try Fails

Despondent over continued unemployment, Joseph Valenzuela, 33 years of age, 1387 Wilson avenue, early yesterday attempted to end his life by throwing himself under a Southern Pacific freight engine in the train yards at Eighth and Alameda streets. The engineer stopped his locomotive within a few feet, after the front wheels had severed both of Valenzuela's legs.

WANTED: HONEST MAN

Superior Judge Gates told Mrs. Gladys L. Miller when she asked a divorce because her husband deceived her, that the next time she marries she should find herself an honest man. "You find one for me," Mrs. Miller proposed. "I'm not Diogenes," objected the court, "but I might lend you a lantern." Mrs. Miller's complaint, filed by Attorney E. Neal Ames, specified grounds of cruelty.

RALLY FOR LAW PLAN OF WOMEN

Mass Meeting Called by Social and Civic Leaders to Urge Observance

Women for Law Observance, a group of leaders in social, club and civic life of the city, who are banded together in an effort to promote sentiment for observance of all law, have just made announcement through Mrs. William H. Honnold of the completion of plans for a mass meeting to be held on the 30th inst., at 8 p.m., in the Ebell Auditorium at Wilshire and Windsor boulevards. The chief speaker of the evening will be Dist.-Atty Fitts and other on the program will be announced later. The auditorium seats 1300 and the meeting is open to the public.

This group, although not formally organized, has been making steady progress in the spread of its ideals and influence and according to members approximately 10,000 women throughout the city have been contacted during the short period of its existence. Still abiding by its original plan whereby each member of a small group reaches still another small group and so on in an ever-widening circle, the members hope through their own example to create a vogue for and a definite sentiment for law observance. They believe that the present situation requires education on the subject of what constitutes the greatest good for the greatest number.

CHILD HEALTH COURSE

Teachers, nurses, social-service workers and others will be given an opportunity to gain a broad view of child health as related to the modern child-welfare movement in a summer session course to be given in Los Angeles by the University of California this summer. The course will be under the direction of Dr. Anna E. Rude, director of the division of child hygiene of the County Health Department.

CITY USING RESERVE WATER

Two-thirds of Daily Consumption Being Pumped; Serious Situation Pointed Out by Van Norman

Light snow in the mountains coupled with an ever-increasing water demand from Los Angeles homes and industries has forced the Municipal Water Bureau during the past two months to pump more than 7,000,000,000 gallons of water from its reserve underground supply in the Owens Valley, it is revealed in a report to be filed today with the Water and Power Commission by Chief Engineer Van Norman of the Water Bureau.

More than two-thirds of all the water being consumed by Los Angeles residents is now coming into the Aqueduct from a battery of deep wells that have been sunk in the city's present water holdings in Owens Valley recently, the report shows.

USING RESERVE WATER

From ninety-five of these wells in the city's Owens Valley water lands, the Water Bureau has been required to pump an average continuous flow of 192 cubic feet per second every hour of the day during the months of February and March, Van Norman's report points out.

In view of the fact that the city's average water consumption during the year now amounts to about 378 cubic feet per second, this pumped water amounts to slightly more than one-half of the day-by-day consumption for the entire year, and more than two-thirds of the daily consumption during the winter and spring months, it is shown.

An average of 150,000,000 gallons of water is now being used each day for domestic purposes only, in Los Angeles, the report states, in drawing attention to the enormous volume of water required by Los Angeles.

SITUATION SERIOUS

Only by pulling down these underground reserves that have been accumulated over a long period of years could the Water Bureau meet the actual daily demand for water from Los Angeles consumers, the report declares.

"It is a serious situation when our city is required to draw down its reserve underground water levels to the extent that this city has been forced to during the past several

Film Theaters to Install Sets for Aid of Deaf

Earphones to enable the hard of hearing to hear sound pictures will be installed within thirty days in Fox West Coast Theaters, it was announced yesterday by Harold B. Franklin, president. Experiments have been under way for a year, during the last eight months of which the Chinese Theater has been equipped for the hard of hearing.

Any theatergoer who is hard of hearing will be provided with a headset upon entering a theater. The receiver is provided with a control instrument by which the volume can be raised or lowered. The apparatus is connected by plugging in at a jack beside the seat, connecting directly with the sound recording apparatus in the projecting room. The sets will not annoy adjoining patrons.

Land Purchase at Beach Urged

Purchase by the county of beach land adjacent to the Roosevelt Highway in the vicinity of Pacific Palisades is urged in a letter addressed to the Board of Supervisors by the State Highway Department.

If the county acquires this beach frontage, the department states it has funds available with which to build groins for the mutual protection of the highway and the beach.

In past discussions, the Supervisors generally have been of the opinion that beach land in the Santa Monica area has been held at too high a price for the county.

COUNCIL APPROVES MAP

The assessment district map for the improvement of streets in the Moorpark street and Tyrone avenue district has been approved by the City Council.

ONE WEEK REMAINING FOR TAXES

Collector Welch Making Preparations to Handle Last-Minute Rush

With approximately 35 1-2 per cent of the county taxes for the fiscal year of 1929-30 still unpaid and only a week remaining in which payment may be made without penalty, Tax Collector Welch's office on the third floor of the Hall of Justice is making preparations for the customary last-minute rush of taxpayers. To avoid the overcrowded conditions that generally necessitate a long wait in line, Welch urges taxpayers to make an early appearance at the office or to send their remittances by mail.

Failure to make payment by 5 p.m. next Monday will result in a penalty of 5 per cent on all unpaid taxes as well as a cost charge of 50 cents on each item taxed, Chief Deputy Alfonso stated. Throughout the week the tax collector's office will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., including next Saturday, he said. The same hours will prevail on the following Monday, the last day.

Compilation of figures discloses that at the close of business last Friday $84,142,687 had been collected of the total of $130,780,061. The aggregate to be collected this year is about 12 per cent above last year's total.

In mailing tax payments, taxpayers are urged to use money orders or certified checks. While personal checks are acceptable, previous experience of the office has shown that difficulties often result from this form of payment, Welch states.

COUNCIL ASKS DATA ON TRAFFIC SIGNS

The City Council has asked the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners to draw up an estimate of the cost of erecting signs during the coming year to be included in the budget. This is occasioned by the fact that the Automobile Club of Southern California, which for years has been erecting "Boulevard Stop," "No Parking," speed limit and other signs, has notified the city that henceforth this expense is too great to continue assuming.

BUSINESS AID PLAN URGED

Chamber Head Sends Letter to President Hoover Asking National Fund for Emergencies

Creation of a stabilization committee, authorized to spend national funds promptly for Federal improvements, is advocated by the Chamber of Commerce as an effective method of combating business depressions. The scheme was broached in a letter addressed by John C. Austin, president of the chamber, to President Hoover.

Austin prefaces his message with appreciation of President Hoover's business stabilization efforts. He recalled that national business depressions arrive suddenly, and that it seems impossible to speed up legislative action to meet such emergencies.

Therefore, the chamber proposes that the national government create a stabilization group, devoid of politics, to act in emergencies.

It is urged that to this group be intrusted a fund, raised by taxation or through Congressional appropriation, which fund could be utilized immediately in times of nationwide business depressions for Federal improvements in the various States. Distribution of the fund would be based on population. The improvements would be chosen on the basis of the greatest value to the people generally as well as providing needed employment.

Such a fund would become available only when the President of the United States decided that there was a national emergency great enough to warrant applying the relief. No regional or "spotty" depressions are considered in the chamber's plan.

"The creation of a special stabilization commission, with funds available, would in our judgment serve as a tremendous stabilizer in the orderly progress of our nation and is but a just consideration on the part of the people generally that in human relations, as well as in business relations, the ups and downs of the average family, due to unemployment, are quite as important in the nation's welfare as the stabilization of commodity prices or agricultural conditions. It would also, in our opinion, serve to definitely eliminate all talk of unemployment insurance, doles, etc., none of which are constructive.

"We believe that the average American citizen desires only an opportunity to work in the support of his family, and our suggestion is made with due regard to him and to his attitude of mind when serious business depressions, entirely beyond his control, force a condition upon him and his family, which in many instances makes an otherwise good citizen a prey to the propaganda of Communists and agitators against our institutions."

CENSUS TAKERS LAUNCH CLEAN-UP DRIVE TODAY

The final drive to clean up the census taking in Los Angeles county urban vicinities will open today, with enumerators armed with special instructions, and a "mop-up squad" of experts taking the field.

This week work is not to be of the routine variety, it was announced by census supervisors. Everyone connected with the enumeration is putting forth extra efforts to give Los Angeles and vicinity a 100 per cent count. The co-operation of the public is asked and expected. Those who are in a position to co-operate and who fail to do so are to be dealt with according to the census law, census directors stated.

The enumerators have lists of names of persons who have not been enumerated and of places where persons live and who have not been enumerated. They are going after these people and places to get what Uncle Sam expects them to get in the line of census information.

Census officials point out that individual indifference to one being enumerated is just as detrimental to a 100 per cent count as wilful opposition.

There is reproduced on Page 9 of this section of The Times a copy of the official census blank, and census officials ask that those who have not been enumerated fill this out and send same to the nearest census headquarters, a list of which is printed on the same page.

Trial of the first case in Los Angeles county of asserted violation of the Federal census law is scheduled to come before United States District Judge Killits today. The defendant is Ralph Crossman, a clerk in the inheritance tax bureau of the County Treasurer's office, who is accused of having refused to give his father's birthplace, the date of his birth and the date of his marriage. Two other cases of a similar nature are scheduled for this week.

"The idea that anyone should refuse to answer questions required by the census is ridiculous," said Assistant United States Attorney Gallagher, who is prosecuting the

DAWN OF EASTER GREETED BY PAGEANTRY AND SONG

Southland Nature Temples Massed With Thousands of Devout Resurrection Morn

BY JAMES M. WARNACK

Music, drama and pageantry sometimes tempt the public to leave the city for an evening's entertainment in the rural district, but religion alone can produce the scenes which prevailed throughout the Southland yesterday when many thousands of men, women and children rose at midnight and, deserting their homes as Christ deserted the tomb, betook themselves to the temples of nature to greet the rising sun with songs of praise to the risen Savior.

From all sections of Southern California, from all parts of the State and from many States of the Union came the vast throngs to mountaintops and foothills, valleys, desert and sea, with blossoms in their hands and hymns in their hearts. The people could not have desired nor could God have dreamed a brighter dawn.

BOWL FILLED EARLY

Long before midnight, worshipers, by the hundreds, wound their way along Pepper Tree Lane into beautiful Hollywood Bowl, many of them having arrived between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday evening, to spend the holy night upon the hillsides in meditation and prayer. By 4 a.m. the 20,000 seats were nearly all occupied and by 5 a.m. the sides of the Bowl revealed the presence of nearly 10,000 men and women, seated under the deodars, live oaks and "candles of the Lord," reverently awaiting the miracle of dawn.

A study in lights and shadows it was—with the light predominating. Encircling the Bowl were the brilliant electric lights, to the right of the audience, a few hundred yards away, shone the Pilgrimage Play Cross, back of the throng the gentle moon was smiling, and a myriad of stars shone. Came then the king of day and the night lights of earth and heaven grew pale and died, as died the lesser lights of thought and feeling at the appearance of Him who was, and is the essence of truth and love.

With the infinity of space above and around them and the eternality of faith in their hearts, the members of the audience turned their glad faces to the rising sun and then to the western rim of the Bowl, whereon stood three white-robed trumpeters, pouring forth from golden trumpets a cataract of harmony.

"ANGELS" APPEAR

"Look, mamma! The angels!" exclaimed a sunny-haired girl of 7 years, one of twenty children who had been brought to the Bowl from a private school at Burbank.

The "angels" were Misses Inez Millican, Evelyn Weaver and Ethelyn Weaver.

Sounded then upon the sweet morning air the ever-popular strains of the "Hallelujah Chorus," played by Dr. J. B. Nield on the organ at First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood and sent to the Bowl and to the world through radio KNX.

Following invocation by Dr. Neal McGowan came one of the best features of the program, the rendition of "Christ the Lord is Risen" by the Hollywood Easter Sunrise Chorus, 200 children, clad in snowy garments and standing, under the great shell, in the form of a perfect cross. The children were directed by Hugo Kirchhofer, who organized the chorus, and accompanied by Inez Jacobson, pianist.

ORPHEUS CLUB SINGS

The "study in lights and shadows" prevailed on the lily-decked stage also, for, in striking contrast to the apparel of the children of the Cross was the dark clothing of the 100 members of the Orpheus Club, who sang Charles Wakefield Cadman's new composition, "Stars of the Morning," written especially for yesterday's service. Mr. Kirchhofer directed the singing, with Cadman at the piano.

Followed then a Scriptural reading by Dr. J. A. Andrews, after which the audience which, in its rising, resembled a vast bed of flowers bursting into sudden bloom, rendered the old favorite, "Holy, Holy, Holy." Then came another treat of the morning, the rendition of Ratoli's "Glory to God," by Constance Balfour who, incidentally, is

THOUSANDS GO TO RITES AT RUBIDOUX

Great Throng Lifts Voice in Song as First Rays of Sun Glint on Cross

RIVERSIDE, April 20. (Exclusive) Facing an altar of rough-hewn native granite cut into the peak of Mount Rubidoux in Riverside, more than 10,000 worshipers raised their voices in a joyful Easter song yesterday morning as the first brilliant rays of the sun flashed over distant blue hills to paint the Serra Memorial Cross, high above the altar, with gold.

All through the night until the time of sunrise the thousands of pilgrims trudged up the slopes of the rugged peak to doze and sleep and then awake to join a service—the symbol of the Resurrection. In keeping with the anniversary four trumpets opened the service with "The Holy City," which was followed by the community singing of "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," and this in turn was followed by the invocation by Dr. John A. Morehead, president of the Lutheran World Convention.

The famous poem by Henry Van Dyke, "God of the Open Air," was read again at the annual service. Its first reading in 1913, was given by the author, again in 1927, and yesterday morning by De Witt Hutchins.

The Riverside Easter Chorus, led by Mrs. La Roy P. Simms, sang two anthems, "Lovely Appear Over the Mountains" and "Unfold Ye Portals Everlasting." The service closed with the community singing of "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy" and a benediction by Dr. Morehead.

The site of yesterday's observance of Easter Morn on the summit of Mt. Rubidoux is said to be the same place where the Franciscan Fathers gathered more than a century ago to welcome the dawn of the Resurrection.

The modern observance of the rite on the mountain dates from 1909 and resulted from a suggestion from the late Jacob Riis that a community Easter service on the summit would prove a religious inspiration. The first sunrise service in 1909, attended by about 100 persons, not only led to the inspiration for further services on the peak which have continued for twenty-one years, but also furnished the inspiration for all similar Easter sunrise services. The Mt. Rubidoux services have varied but little in the two decades that pilgrims have climbed the mountain to wait for the first rays of the sun to start their service of song.

The Rubidoux Easter Shrine, unique among parks, has in addition of the Serra Memorial Cross, the Tower to the Ideal of Universal Peace and a number of monuments to national figures.

BEACH TO HAVE BOATMEN

Due to the fact that there are ample funds in playground and recreation department budget for Cabrillo Beach, two boatmen at $140 a month have been appointed with the approval of the Playground and Recreation Commission. It had been arranged to have one boatman with an assistant, but Supt. Hoyt decided that assistant boatmen who passed the civil service test are too advanced in age, and are, therefore not desirable for the work.

TRAFFIC CASUALTIES HIGH

Seven Persons Dead, Six Held Fatally Injured, on Easter Sunday's Congested Highways

Seven persons are dead and seven others are injured, fatally, police and hospital reports reveal, as the result of week-end automobile collisions and other traffic mishaps in and near the city.

A head-on smash-up between a speeding automobile and a heavy gasoline truck on Valley Boulevard about three and one-half miles east of Ontario snuffed out the lives of three of the victims, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Bennett of 3073 West Avenue 35, and Rose Marie Wasserman, 7 years of age, of 2331 Wall street, Los Angeles. Stanley Bennett, 12, received fractures of both legs and internal injuries; George Bennett, 6, a skull fracture and one broken leg, and Julia Wasserman, 9, internal injuries. The mother of the Wasserman children and another child, who also were passengers in the car, which Bennett was driving, escaped unhurt.

EYEWITNESSES REPORT

Eyewitnesses told police that Bennett crashed into the gasoline truck while attempting to speed past three other cars. The truck was in charge of Charles W. Crane of Banning. He, too, escaped without injury. The injured are in San Antonio Community Hospital at Ontario.

A girl was killed instantly when catapulted from the rear seat of a motorcycle as it crashed into a suddenly halted automobile on Valley Boulevard near El Monte.

She was Jewel Wood, 17 years of age, 503 South Raymond avenue, Alhambra. She had gone for a ride with Arnold Miller, 2648 Delta street, on his motorcycle. Because of the traffic due to Easter Sunday, cars frequently were halted along the boulevard. According to Deputy Sheriffs Hanscom, Pulser and Perdue of the Temple substation, Miller was unable to halt his motorcycle when the car in front suddenly stopped. The girl was thrown headlong into a car coming from the opposite direction. Her body was crushed and her skull was fractured. Miller was hurt about the head and arms.

Mrs. Ida L. Baker, 77, of 3630 Plant avenue, Lynwood, was struck and instantly killed at that place last night by a hit-and-run driver, who knocked here down as she was crossing Long Beach Boulevard and Mulford avenue. The motorist left her lying dead on the paving and sped away, according to reports at the Sheriff's office.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

YOU would think you were living in the days of the landed barons of the Middle Ages to ride down through the mountain valleys near Tepic.

The great haciendas are medieval in every phase of their life. They have changed very little since the days when the grandees of Spain came to the conquest.

AN ANCIENT HACIENDA

Today we visited one of the oldest haciendas in Mexico. It has been in possession of the Aguirre family since 1683—a century before the missions of California were founded.

Even the men at arms are still there. The lower floor of the fortified administration building is occupied by soldiers of the Mexican army who are garrisoned on the ranch for its protection.

The stone steps of this building are worn with the scuff of forgotten feet.

THE PATIENT OXEN

The long, cool balcony of the ranch house looks out upon the burned-out volcanic craters of Sanguanguey and the blue peaks of the Santiagos; in the other direction it looks down upon the life of the rancho—long six-span ox teams plodding into the compounds with two-wheel carts loaded mountain high with sugar cane and long lines of mules loaded with cane and the fiber of hemp. In the corrals beyond, herds of draught oxen wait for the yoke; the ponies of the vaqueros rest beneath the trees; Indians in cotton drawers and huge flat sombreros ride in upon tiny burros all but hidden by the stock saddles.

THE FAMILY LIFE

To the south, the inner balcony looks down into the great patio where the intimate life of the household goes on: Quiet women in rebozos pattering along on errands for the household; women patting tortillas at the enormous ovens; laundry women beating the linen at the stone tubs—which are really like overgrown horse troughs.

THE MODERN FIEFS

Just as the fiefs used to cluster in the protection of the medieval castle walls, so the great house is surrounded by the thatched houses of the peons—huts of palm, with the fire light of the stone ovens sparkling against the shadows of the dim interiors; an old, old church where the peons of the ranch have worshiped for generations.

THE AGE-OLD WALL

There is an old fortified wall, in the corner of which is a Spanish coat of arms with the date 1683. Inside this wall are the peons who work at the hides; peons twisting rawhide thongs in the water of a stone fountain for ox teams; wistful-eyed piratical-looking men with their feet in sandals, cutting innumerable steer hides into strips for reatas. The whole place had an indefinable air of serene age—of a life that had lived and died and been born again; of a people who had been born on the ranch and would die on the ranch—generation following generation as the cut-down sugar-cane fields grow again.

THE BATTLE BEACONS

In the valleys below the Aguirre hacienda are other estates, even more baronial. One

"ATTIC" COUPLE APPEAR TODAY

Sanhuber and Oesterreich's Widow to Face Court

Gable Dweller Will Ask for Separate Trial

Sanity Question Likely to Be Center of Attention

Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich and Otto Sanhuber, jointly charged with murdering Fred Oesterreich on August 22, 1922, will appear today at 2 p.m. before Superior Judge Wood, and Sanhuber will demand a trial separate from the woman who kept him concealed in secret rooms and attics of her homes in Milwaukee and Los Angeles for nearly seventeen years.

Sanhuber, who last week pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity, to the murder charge, is scheduled to appear to hear the judge fix the date of this trial. Mrs. Oesterreich was ordered to appear to enter her plea. Her trial date also probably will be fixed today.

SANITY QUESTION

Orville A. Rogers and Earl S. Wakeman, attorneys for Sanhuber, announce that they have prepared a motion demanding a separate trial for the "attic man." It is believed this motion will set forth the fact that Sanhuber's trial will be based principally on the question of his sanity.

After his arrest, Sanhuber is asserted to have told officers that he had lived in secret attic rooms in Mrs. Oesterreich's numerous homes for nearly seventeen years, frequently remaining in seclusion for days at a time without even knowing whether it was day or night.

On the night of the shooting, Sanhuber is asserted to have confessed, he slipped from his hidden room and fired the three shots which killed Oesterreich when the latter was quarreling with his wife, believing that Oesterreich was about to strike her.

BOND OF AFFECTION

Investigators assert that Sanhuber said he was bound to Mrs. Oesterreich by an overwhelming bond of affection because she had befriended him while he was an orphan and for many years was the only person who cared whether he lived or died.

This bond now has been broken, however, Sanhuber's attorneys indicate, for he demands that he be tried separately from the woman.

Meanwhile Daniel Beecher, chief of the District Attorney's trial department, has dispatched Sanhuber's statement relative to a fire which destroyed the Oesterreich garment factory in Milwaukee in February, 1927, to Milwaukee authorities who are investigating to determine whether the fire was incendiary.

Suspicion was aroused at the time of the fire, according to Milwaukee officers, but sufficient facts to warrant an indictment were not available at that time. Sanhuber's statement, however, has provided corroboration to virtually all of the facts and new clews which may solve the mystery and result in the indictment of an unnamed man, according to Beecher.

MRS. OESTERREICH NAMED IN CIVIL SUIT

Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, indicted with Otto Sanhuber for the murder of her husband, is named defendant in a civil suit for $1900 filed against her in Municipal Court by the W. H. Hancock Corporation.

The complaint asserts that the amount is due as unpaid commission on real estate at Wilshire Boulevard and Hamilton street, Beverly Hills, sold for Mrs. Oesterreich by the real estate company in November, 1922. She paid only $600 of the $2500 commission due it, the company asserts.

City Approves Air Terminal

The City Council has approved the recommendation of the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners that permission be granted for erection of an airport terminal building in the 3300 block of South Main street.

It is proposed by the backers of the project to have an airplane landing field on the roof of the structure.

ROAD CLOSING FAVORED

The request of the Los Angeles Athletic Club that the Mandeville Canyon Road south of Beverly Boulevard be vacated has been approved by the City Council.

OLD LOS ANGELES COMES TO LIFE AGAIN

Thousands Attend Gala Opening of Former Olvera Street

Among Those on Quaint Mexican Thoroughfare

Above, Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan and Mrs. Carnahan patronizing one of little Mexican booths on El Paseo de Los Angeles, and (below) Senorita Sepulveda, daughter of the dons.

EL PASEO DE LOS ANGELES, "a Mexican street of yesterday in a city of today" as it is to be known, was opened to the public yesterday. Thousands of persons strolled through the reconstructed Olvera street where once trod the proudest of the dons and the padres of Los Angeles a century ago.

The old Avilla adobe, historic landmark, is the center of interest, but housed in the quaint old buildings amidst fascinating surroundings are unusual Mexican and other shops, a Spanish cafe and wayside booths where one may buy cakes, pottery and all sorts of articles.

Mrs. Christine Sterling, the moving spirit behind the preservation and reconstruction, saw a long dream come true as the throngs wandered through the street with interest engaging attention at every turn.

WARNERS TO DENY CHILD TO ACTRESS

Lina Basquette Will Not be Allowed to See Her Girl, Says Report

"I can't believe that is true," Lina Basquette, screen actress, said last night when she was informed that a news dispatch from New York quoted Mrs. Harry M. Warner, her former sister-in-law, as saying Miss Basquette's child will not be permitted to visit her mother this summer or any other summer until she is 21 years of age. The child, who now is 3, is the daughter of Miss Basquette and the late Sam Warner, following whose death Miss Basquette married Peverell Marley, motion-picture cameraman.

Recently Miss Basquette signed papers assigning the guardianship of her daughter to Harry M. Warner and in explaining the matter said that it was in no sense an adoption and that she was to be permitted to have the custody of her daughter any time she desired.

In keeping with this understanding of the agreement, she said last night, she had informed the Warners that she desires to have her daughter at her home in Hollywood this summer. To the best of her knowledge, she insisted, the Warners will comply with her request and she will not believe otherwise until she is formally notified by Mrs. Warner that the remarks attributed to her in New York yesterday were actually made by her.

"We have legal control of the child until she reaches 21," Mrs. Warner was quoted as saying, "and she will remain with us until then."

In view of the apparent discrepancy between the point of view toward the guardianship of Mrs. Warner and Miss Basquette, the latter suggested to inquirers that the matter can be straightened out by a Mr. Guthrie, whom she described as a Warner Brothers official who arranged the details of the guardianship. Efforts to obtain any explanation from Mr. Guthrie, however, were fruitless, as a request for information brought the reply that "he is not in."

Booking Office Sues Actress

Declaring that Fifi D'Orsay, film actress, failed to pay them the commission due for obtaining her a job with Fox Films, Lyons & Lyons, New York booking office, has filed suit in Municipal Court here to recover $735, asserted due them.

In their complaint the agents premise that on June 3, 1929, they entered into a contract with the French actress in which they guaranteed to obtain her a job paying not less than $300 a week for at least thirty weeks, out of which she agreed to pay them 10 per cent as commission.

They did obtain a contract for her with Fox, they set out, at $400 weekly for at least forty weeks. During that time she has received $10,053 as salary, they assert, and still owes the booking office $735.

SINGER FACES TRIAL FOR SLAYING CRITIC

Because her lover told her she had "a rotten voice," Olive Hickman, 35 years of age, negro blues singer, shot him three times with a revolver, according to witnesses summoned by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman at her preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Turney. She is charged with murdering Jack Penn, 29. The case, unfinished Friday, is to be resumed this morning.

Billboard Curb Urged Council

Additional requests that action be taken prohibiting billboards in residental districts and restricting them in business districts were filed with the City Council during the past week by the Federated Civic Organizations. They were all referred to the legislative committee for consideration.

The requests came in the form of resolutions adopted by the Florence-Vermont Association, the Athens Chamber of Commerce, the Bay District Improvement Association and the Tenth District Improvement Organization.

ATTEMPT IMPOSSIBLE TO WIN, SAYS SPEAKER

"Only those who attempt the impossible ever win," Adjt. Frank Howell said yesterday in his sermon on "Broken Barriers" at the Salvation Army Temple, "only those who say with the women who went early to the supulchre to anoint the body of the Lord, 'If some one will roll away the stone we will pay our last respects to Him.'

"There are often such insurmountable difficulties in the way of the Christian. Stones of stumbling lie in their paths. But the spirit of those women at the tomb must rule the heart. God will roll away our barrier stones, and His angel will sit upon them. . . . The man who never accepts anything that he doesn't understand will never get anywhere."

Clerk Meets Death Beneath Freight Lift

With both legs nearly amputated when he was crushed beneath an elevator, F. S. Wood, 68 years of age, a shipping clerk employed by a manufacturing firm at 814 West Eleventh street, was found dead late Saturday night. Police surgeons said the man had been dead several hours when discovered.

The offices closed at noon Saturday and when Wood had not returned home at a late hour his wife informed police. A search of the building by J. F. Flannery, superintendent, revealed the accident.

The position of the body indicated that the man had slipped under the descending elevator as it approached the second floor. Wood lived at 814 North La Brea avenue.

YOUNG CONTORTIONIST MUST GET GUARDIAN

Geraldine Steed, 12-year-old contortionist, will appear in Probate Judge Crail's court today so that her mother can be appointed her legal guardian. Geraldine has been offered a contract with Screenland Select, Inc., but can not sign it unless she has a legal guardian appointed. W. L. Shobert is attorney of record. The girl recently came to Hollywood from Oklahoma with her mother.

WOUNDED SUSPECT ARRESTED

Asserted Robber, Injured in Running Fight, Caught as He Goes to Doctor

Arrested when he appeared at the office of a surgeon for treatment of a gunshot wound late Saturday night, William A. Donohue, 20 years of age, of 728 South Berendo street, is held at the City Jail on charges of suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and suspicion of robbery. The gunshot wound was suffered Friday, when he engaged in a running gun fight with Detectives Appledorn and Chilson at Third street and Westmoreland Drive.

Donohue, who was arrested by Detectives Loquat, Rombeau and Harrah, at 1844 South Flower street, confessed to participation in the gun fight and to robbing five pedestrians, four of whom were women, Capt. Seager reported.

The gun fight started when the officers attempted to search Donohue. As they stopped their car at the curbing Donohue drew a pistol and fired three shots, two of which struck vital parts of the police car, crippling it while the third passed through Officer Chilson's coat. Both officers returned the fire but Donohue escaped.

Unknown to police Donohue had been struck in the left leg and late Saturday went to a doctor for attention. The doctor called police and Donohue confessed.

TRAFFIC ENDS LIVES OF SEVEN

art-Gray Road, Downey, late Saturday night, Fernando Ochoa, 48, of Los Alamitos, died while being removed to the Downey Hospital. The machine in which the victim was riding was demolished when it collided with a telephone pole.

Alexander Puerto of Hynes, said by deputy sheriffs to have been the driver of the car, was held for questioning following the crash when several empty bottles smelling of liquor were found in the wreck. Puerto suffered only minor injuries.

Don A. Cameron, 26 years of age, 437 South Hartford street, died shortly after he was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital last night as the result of a smash at Seventh and San Pedro streets earlier in the evening. The victim was riding a motorcycle, which collided with a machine driven by Gust L. Lenschied, 237 East Thirty-first street. Cameron suffered a basal skull fracture.

DENTISTS INJURED

Crushed in the wreckage of their automobile when it was struck by a heavy sedan driven by a hit-and-run driver at Third and Bonnie Brae streets early yesterday morning, Dr. G. K. Baymuller, 27 years of age, was seriously and Dr. J. J. Montgomery, 28, was fatally injured.

Dr. Montgomery was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for a skull fracture, possible fracture of the spine and right arm. Dr. Baymuller suffered a broken right shoulder and severe body bruises. Both are dentists. Dr. Montgomery lived at 262 North Belmont street. Dr. Baymuller's home is at 1351 McCullum street.

Last evening William Buttle, 28, of 1606 Winona Boulevard, appeared at the Hollywood Police Station and said he wished to make a report of an automobile accident. His report disclosed that he was the driver of the sedan which had struck the machine in which Drs. Baymuller and Montgomery had been riding and Detective Lieutenant Whaley of the Wilshire station, who had been leading the search for him, was notified. Whaley came to the Hollywood station and placed Buttle under arrest on a charge of failing to stop and render aid and suspicion of manslaughter.

TRIO HELD AS DRUNK

Three motorists were arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated between midnight and dawn yesterday. They are James E. Morehouse, 27, 305 Roxbury Drive, Beverly Hills; Monroe Minster, 35, 1445½ West Sixtieth street, and Ray Quinn, 27, 10612 Avalon Boulevard.

Morehouse was taken into custody at Beverly Boulevard and Ridgeway Drive by Officers Stanley and Knowles; Minster at 6029 Hollywood Boulevard by Officers Larimer and Chase, and Quinn at 4264 South Main street by Officers Ogletree and Lindsey. All were reported driving in an erratic manner.

Women's Jail Site Offered

An offer of the former St. Vincent's Hospital site at 1151 Sunset Boulevard for use as a woman's jail has been made to the Board of Supervisors by Nell McCrea, real estate dealer. The property is offered to the county at a price of $425,000, subject to a $300,000 mortgage.

It consists of six acres and is said to be adapted to use as a site for a women's jail, if and when the county desires to construct such a prison.

WIDENING TO CAUSE CHANGES AT CROSSING

Removal of the grade-crossing gates at the intersection of Dayton and Pasadena avenues and installation of two center-type wigwags in their place, sought by the Santa Fe line, have been approved by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation to the State Railroad Commission. Widening of Dayton avenue, according to Utilities Engineer Walters, will make it impossible to maintain gates, which would have to have a span of from 150 to 160 feet and would be impossible of operation. Under the plan the two existing wigwags on the side will be relocated.

PAY ASKED FOR SIGNALS

The Acme Traffic Signal Company has advised the City Council that six school pedestrian-crossing installations have been completed, and asks for payment of $4500 under the contract.

SCREEN DIRECTOR'S METAL BUST UNIQUE

Josef Von Sternberg in Bronze

Unique in portraits is the bronze bust of Josef Von Sternberg, Paramount film director, just received from Rudolph Belling, German sculptor.

The bust was modeled on the set while Von Sternberg was in Europe directing Emil Jannings. Critics have called it "the portrait of a mind" because it emphasizes those features which exhibit character, the upper head, forehead, eyes, nose and mouth.

months," stated Van Norman. "We are consuming water reserves that it has required many years to accumulate. Additional stream waters in Owens Valley and in the Mono Basin must be obtained at once or we will soon be depleting entirely this reserve underground water supply.

"Abnormally low snows and a general shortage in rainfall during the past ten years has cut down the natural water shut-off into the Aqueduct to such an extent that the Water Bureau has been forced to draw down our reserve water supply to an alarming extent," Van Norman pointed out.

"Since February 1 of this year we have placed in operation a total of ninety-five wells on the city's properties in Owens Valley. Unless additional water rights are obtained in the valley through adoption of the water bonds, we very soon will be seriously handicapped in the operation of these wells.

"If the city is able to get complete control of all of the water rights in Owens Valley, through approval of the bonds, we will be able to carry through in good shape. Only by the passage of the water bonds, however, can we obtain the additional water lands and water we urgently need."

Fraud Order Filed Against Concern Here

A fraud order is on file in the Postoffice Department against the San Romay Company, whose address is given as 426 South Spring street, as the result of instructions of the Postmaster-General.

The order came as the result of asserted statements that the concern could cure tuberculosis. It is asserted that the man said to be at the head of the company previously was associated with two companies against which fraud orders were issued.

The effect of the fraud order is that the individual or company cannot receive any mail.

RESURRECTION OF CHRIST CHRISTIANITY'S KEYSTONE

"If Jesus Did Not Arise Then Our Religion is Ghastly Mistake," Declares Dr. Snape

"If the resurrection of Jesus is a myth, then Christ was a [illegible] and a ghastly mistake has been made concerning humanity's [illegible] from sin," declared Dr. John Snape in his sermon [illegible] at Temple Baptist Church.

"If Jesus rose not from the grave, [illegible] the helpless man who hung [illegible] the cross was [illegible] a fanatic, dying for a mis[illegible]," said Dr. Snape. "If [illegible] rose not, then the stamp of [illegible] is put upon all other mir[illegible]. If Jesus lies dead in His [illegible], then humanity lies dead in [illegible].

"However, if the miracle of the [illegible] is accepted, the stamp [illegible] is placed upon all [illegible] miracles that He performed. [illegible] my friends, Christ arose! No [illegible] in history is better attested—[illegible] that glorious fact is the might[illegible] moral force to keep alive the [illegible] of mankind in the midst of a [illegible] world."

CERTAIN PUNISHMENT PRESCRIBED FOR CRIME

"The system today is lacking in three essentials for law enforcement: Celerity, certainty and finality of punishment," declared Dist.-Atty. Fitts in his address yesterday at Eagle Rock Baptist Church. Mr. Fitts spoke in part as follows:

"Crime today is not a disease; it is a business, highly organized throughout the length and breadth of our land. Crime increases in America because criminals escape punishment. The professional criminal arms himself and goes out to rob and kill, and the only way to meet his campaign is with the prompt use of the force of government to make his punishment certain and immediate."

RESURRECTION SYMBOL OF LIFTING OF SPIRIT

"The resurrection of Jesus is symbolic of the resurrection of spirit, which manifests itself in the death of the flesh," said Bramacharee Nerode in his address yesterday at Mt. Washington Center. The speaker said in part:

"As the reality of life is revealed through the experience of reality, so the unreality of death becomes evident through the death of unreality in life. Opinions may differ regarding the physical resurrection of Jesus, but the resurrection of His divine personality was a fact, as such resurrection is a logical outcome of the highest spiritual experience. The usefulness of the Easter festival lies in the spiritualization of the human ego, enlightening it with love, so that each individual can stand alone in the world as Jesus did, defying the calamities of an ideal life as much as the sneer of death."

DR. BROWN DISCUSSES SCIENCE AND RELIGION

"Science and Religion" was discussed yesterday by Dr. Bruce Brown at South Park Christian Church. Dr. Brown said in part:

"There was the time when science was opposed to the doctrine of immortality. That was the age when the philosophy of materialism was dominant. The heart of the teaching of this school is that the ultimate essence of existence is lifeless material. Atheism gave way to agnosticism and there was ushered in the new philosophy of energism. This, too, had its day and is passing away, for blind, senseless energy is not the key that unlocks the mysteries of the universe. Agnosticism itself proved as helpless in making the world better. In our own generation science has come to the support of the faith of spiritism, the heart of which is that wisdom is the ultimate fact of being. There is a Supreme Grand Architect of the universe who has left a design on the trestle board of the human soul."

SPIRITUALITY FOUND IN LOVE OF BEAUTY

Dr. Sheldon Shepard, pastor of First Universalist Church, preached yesterday on "True Spirituality." He said in part:

"Spirituality is an aliveness to the beautiful and the good in humanity and in the universe. Paul says the spiritual man is alive to all true values. That is it! Shaming the narrowness of our interpretations of religion, challenging the littleness of our lives. Spirituality is an awareness of every true value in human life, and the attempt to express them to the limit of our ability and opportunity."

DAY OF GLOOMY CREED NOW PAST

The right of men to happiness was the theme of a sermon preached yesterday by Rabbi E. F. Magnin at Temple B'nai B'rith. Dr. Magnin spoke in part as follows:

"People have a right to be happy and it is their duty to discover ways and means of deriving more joy and sharing it with other people. There was a time when religion emphasized gloom and somberness, but I believe that this time has passed for all thinking people. Happiness, however, does not mean indulging in enjoyments that are harmful to one's health of mind or body, or that leave tragedy in their wake. It is difficult to picture God in the form of a tyrant who would deprive us of all the joys of living. The ancient Jews sanctified every act of life with a blessing. To be happy one must know his own limitations, possess a sense of humor, see things in perspective, not expect too much of others and rid himself of hypersensitivity where it exists."

FAITH VINDICATED BY EMPTY SEPULCHER

"The Empty Tomb" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. J. G. Dorn at Hollywood Lutheran Church. Excerpts from the discourse follow:

"The extremest skepticism has never ventured to deny that the tomb was empty. All theories, ancient or modern, which deny the Resurrection, are shattered by this one question, what became of the body of Christ? Nothing would have been easier for the Pharisees and rulers than to have gone to the sepulcher and rolled away the stone and said: 'Look here! there is your risen man, a victim of death like all the rest of mankind.' They did not do it. Why? Simply because the grave was empty. The empty tomb vindicates and establishes our faith in the resurrection of Jesus Christ."

CREATION CALLED "COSMIC CRUCIFIXION"

Swami Dhirananda preached at Figueroa Playhouse yesterday on "Resurrection." He said in part:

"Creation is, as it were, the cosmic crucifixion of the Eternal Being done by Himself without pain. The law of growth in creation exemplifies the principle of crucifixion, the principle of sacrifice of the lower for the higher, of the seed for the tree, of the flower for the fruit. There is no attainment without sacrifice, no resurrection without crucifixion. Jesus's resurrection is a symbol of the soul's victory over matter, a climax of the spiritual drama of the devotee. If the outer man dies the inner man will arise."

ATONEMENT SERMON QUOTES WORD OF PAUL

Paul's words to the Corinthians, "If any man be in Chirst, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new," constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" yesterday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

One of the Scripture selections presented the following prayers by Christ Jesus, "Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are . . . Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; that they may all be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou has sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, was as follows: "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage."

GIRL MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Wilbur L. Monstad, 37-year-old fisherman, lost his 16-year-old wife, Jeanne Marie Oppedahl, when she told Superior Judge Doran she was married without parental consent, it appears from Superior Court records.

The marriage was performed at Bakersfield last week and was annulled when Mrs. Camellia Oppedahl, the girl's mother, testified the marriage was without parental consent. Monstad went fishing shortly after the ceremony, and never returned, the young bride stated.

NEW CHINESE CONSUL DUE HERE TODAY

Dr. Chun Young Chan to Establish Office After Years of Negotiations

Dr. Chun Young Chan, newly appointed to establish a consulate office for the Republic of China in Los Angeles, is scheduled to arrive here today when the N.Y.K. liner Chichibu Maru docks at Terminal Island this morning.

According to Clarence H. Matson, foreign commerce manager of the Chamber of Commerce, the appointment of Dr. Chan consummates efforts which have been under way for several years by the chamber to obtain a Chinese consular office in Los Angeles. Through the foreign commerce and shipping department, the Chamber has prepared briefs showing the extent of trade between Southern California and China, but in each instance, following the submission of these data, the chaotic condition in the country brought an end to the negotiations.

The new Chinese Consul received his early education in Honolulu and later took a course in petroleum engineering at Pittsburgh. He received a degree as doctor of philosophy from the University of California at Berkeley through a paper on petroleum. For several years he has worked in the interests of China trade in Southern California and it was through Dr. Chan that the chamber's last urge for a consul here was presented at Nanking.

AUTO DEATH TRIAL NEAR CONCLUSION

Prosecution of Mrs. Wex on Charge of Running Into Newsboy Ends Today

Closing arguments in the trial of Mrs. Marion Wex, charged with manslaughter for the death of Harry Levine, newsboy, who officers assert, was run down and killed by the defendant's automobile last February, will be heard by a jury in Superior Judge McComb's court today.

The newsboy was struck and killed at the intersection of Vine street and Melrose avenue while selling newspapers. It is charged that Mrs. Wex drove the automobile, and that she failed to stop and render aid following the accident.

While testifying in her own defense Mrs. Wex admitted driving through the intersection, but said she thought she had run over a traffic button.

Investigating officers assert that after the accident Mrs. Wex sold her belongings and fled to Chicago by airplane en route to Germany, her native country. She was arrested in Chicago and returned to Los Angeles for trial.

The case is being prosecuted by Charles V. Kearney, deputy District Attorney. E. R. Dukette is attorney for the defendant.

CHILDREN GET ESTATE

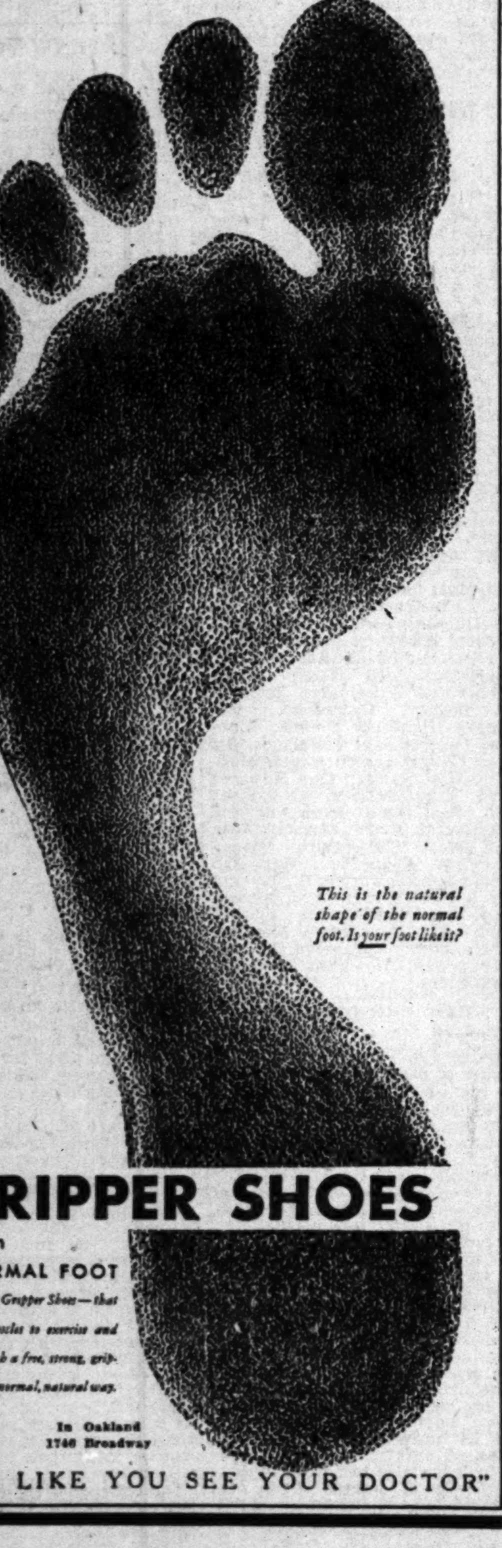
The $150,000 estate of Mrs. Rachel M. Schock, formerly of Chicago, was divided among her eight children, according to the terms of her will on file in Probate Court. Mrs. Schock died the 12th inst. in Los Angeles at the age of 82 years.

NOT 1 FOOT IN 50 CAN PASS THIS TEST

TRY IT YOURSELF

Put your foot over this imprint, pressing down firmly, then draw a line around it. Better still, wet the bare foot slightly, step on this paper and trace the outline before the imprint dries.

Compare the outline of your foot with this imprint of a normal foot. If there is a noticeable difference—take warning.



This is the natural shape of the normal foot. Is your foot like it?

IF YOUR FEET "MAKE LIFE MISERABLE" . . .

If you are just hobbling along on fallen arches ...if cramped, twisted toes make you wince... if tender callouses and bunions bring torture ...if at night your feet ache from weariness...

DON'T SUFFER ANOTHER MOMENT · GROUND GRIPPER SHOES BRING RELIEF.

This is all you need do. Come in today for a free Gripper-graph analysis of your feet.

This will show clearly what is wrong and will enable us to fit you with the proper type of Ground Gripper Shoe to help correct the trouble.

Ground Gripper Shoes follow the natural shape of the normal foot and are scientifically designed to correct and to prevent foot trouble. They've helped thousands of foot sufferers. They'll help you, too.

GROUND GRIPPER SHOES

For Men, Women and Children

THE NATURAL SHAPE OF THE NORMAL FOOT

These are the three vital principles—combined only in Ground Gripper Shoes—that quickly bring an end to foot suffering:

1. The snug-fitting, Flexible Arch, which allows the foot muscles to exercise and strengthen themselves with every step.
2. The Straight Inner Line, permitting the toes to function with a free, strong, gripping action.
3. The Patented Rotor Heel, which helps you toe straight ahead, the normal, natural way.

Today's Bible Text

Bless them which persecute you: bless and curse not. Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.—Romans xii, 14-15.

SEEING STARS

A Hollywood paper runs the headline, "Public to See Stars Eating." Will this also be a sound film?

CROWIES

Moving pictures are to be taken of the World Poultry Congress at the Crystal Palace. Crowies, likely.

LOVE YOUR ENEMIES

"Train Your Boy to Love the Dentist," pleads a headline in the Literary Digest. That is asking a good deal.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

Possibly one reason why so many youngsters have such a hard time bringing up father is that the child is father of the man.

DIAL MARATHON

Mike Petillo of Nutley, N. J., has been listening to his radio for 153 hours without sleep. However, what else could you expect from a town like that?

BREAKING RECORDS

By heat, snow, elections or crime Chicago manages to keep in the limelight. But if they really want to surprise the nation, how about convicting some of the racketeers?

ASK THE GIRLS

Queen Jezebel's rouge is declared by scientist to be a cure for leprosy. Evidently the modern kind is considered a panacea of some sort. The boys seem to like it.

MAKING IT USEFUL

Swiss chemist has invented a bank note, coated with tin, that will not tear, burn or wear out. Now if he will add something that will make it stick in the pocket his fortune is made.

HIGH-FLYING

A Los Angeles wife is asking for a divorce from her aviator husband on the ground that he is continuously away at night. He claims that night flying is necessary to his business. She seems to think it is night high-flying.

THE BABBLING BROOK

Some law school might find it profitable to organize a special class for training young men for special work in the Julian cases. In a few years they might become quite expert to carry on where their elders leave off.

UPLIFTING

After looking at the picture of eleven gangsters of Chicago trying to hide their faces behind hats and hands and with hanging heads, that would seem to be a great field for some face-lifting artist.

FREEDOM OF THE SHE'S

The men of Altamont, Mo., are making a desperate last stand for their sex to keep the women of the town from political control. They give the women a cold shoulder; but they are getting cold lunches.

CHESS

In times past Persia and China have both claimed the honor of being the originators of the game of chess. Opens now the tomb of an ancient Egyptian king and discloses a chessboard and chessmen. Wonder if that game is finished yet!

HIGH-FLYERS

Nineteen planes recently flew in perfect formation 30,000 feet, or about five miles, above Sacramento. The temperature was 40 deg. below zero. The dove of peace will stand a better chance of surviving with these protecting pinions overhead.

HARD FACTS

The Methodist Board of Temperance and Public Morals announces that but one Senator who voted against the Eighteenth Amendment is now in Congress. And twenty-two who voted for it are still in their seats. A paragrapher comments that this is what makes some of these politicians dry outside, but wet inside. It also shows a big dry majority back in the old home constituency.

WORLD COURT'S RECORD

The reference in President Hoover's recent speech to the record of impartiality which the judges of the World Court have made raises the question, which he did not go into, of what that record is. Since its inception in 1921, the Court has rendered sixteen judgments and the same number of advisory opinions. In no case has the judgment of the Court been disputed or has even the point been raised that its decision was unfair or biased or not in accord with international law. Small nations have won in disputes with big ones; big nations have won in disputes with small; and nothing but the merits of the case appears in any case to have influenced the Court.

The first case submitted involved the question of the Kiel Canal. In this the Court held that Germany could not refuse transit to ships of any nation with which she was at peace. The decision was based on the Versailles Treaty. The second, the fifth and the tenth were disputes over Greek concessions in Palestine; in both the Court finally decided it had no jurisdiction. The third and fourth decisions were given in a dispute between Greece and Bulgaria; Greece won in the third and the fourth was a draw.

The sixth, seventh, eighth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth decisions were in disputes between Germany and Poland. The sixth upheld in general the contentions of Germany, the seventh those of Poland, except in regard to a factory at Chorzow which Poland was attempting to expropriate. The eighth, eleventh and thirteenth cases were further developments of this same factory dispute, in which Poland finally paid damages to the German owners of the factory. The twelfth case was in regard to schools for German children in Upper Silesia. Most of the points involved were decided in favor of Poland, but Germany won on some.

The ninth was one of the most important. It was a dispute between France and Turkey, the latter a nonmember of the Court, the former one of its most prominent and influential members—and the decision was in Turkey's favor. In this case Turkey had undertaken to punish the master of a French vessel which had been in collision with a Turkish ship on the high seas, and France denied the jurisdiction of the Turkish courts and the right of Turkey to legislate concerning happenings on the high seas. The Court held that any nation had a right to legislate about any subject not covered by international law or agreement and refused to set aside the judgment of the Turkish court.

The fourteenth judgment, in a case between France and Jugoslavia, upheld the right of French holders of Serbian bonds to be paid in gold, and not in paper, francs. The fifteenth was a precisely similar case between France and Brazil and also was decided for the French bondholders. In the sixteenth case the British Empire, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Germany and Sweden were plaintiffs against Poland in a question concerning the right of navigation of certain rivers, and their contention, in the main, was upheld. In one case submitted between the fifteenth and sixteenth, but in which no judgment was given, Swiss contentions in a boundary question were upheld against France; this case is expected to come back to the Court for judgment later.

In only one of the advisory opinions is much light thrown, either way, upon the impartiality of the Court. In this matter, France and the British Empire were the contestants and the question was as to whether nationality, or citizenship, is an international or a domestic question. The Court upheld the French contention that it is domestic, and thus under France's exclusive jurisdiction. This would almost certainly be the American contention in any similar case.

Thus the contention of the Court's opponents that it will inevitably be swayed by national considerations, or biased in favor of more powerful nations, is shown to be refuted by the evidence. Not the least indication that the Court has acted, or will act, otherwise than in accordance with the equities appears in any of the cases or advisory opinions.

The latest dodge of the howlers against the Court is to call it the "League Court" instead of World Court—a specious piece of misrepresentation in accord with the general lack of good faith of their campaign. Most nations belong both to the League and the Court. There are two nations that belong to the League, but not to the Court, Argentina and Honduras; and there are two which adhere to the Court but are not in the League, Brazil and Costa Rica. There are only nine nonmembers of the Court, Afghanistan, Argentina, Ecuador, Egypt, Honduras, Mexico, Russia, Turkey and the United States. The League of Nations does not control the Court in any way.

WHEELS IN THE HEAD

Folks with new ideas may have wheels in their heads; but they are the ones who put them under the feet. The latest is to put them under the schoolhouse.

Virginia is contemplating the purchase of a number of motor busses, equipped with blackboards, desks and other schoolroom accessories, to carry the curriculum like the circus elephant to the very doors and hearts of the youngsters.

Colleges in times past have undertaken to personally conduct sightseeing tours across the country to study geology, geography and history first hand. Universities have chartered vessels and put the faculty with all its dignity aboard to make education easy to take—around the world. Many have come home married—others have been cultured.

The idea has never before been injected into our common-school system. To have the dear teacher chauffeur wisdom from township to township morning, afternoon and evening is picturesque and intriguing. What youngster will not forsake his fishing rod and climb aboard to be educated?

The schoolhouse in Virginia will now have a peculiar glamour. The honk of the horn will supplant the recess bell to call classes from refreshment to work.

Opportunity will no longer hold to the old-fashioned style of wearing its hair long in front to be caught as it comes. It will come and scoop them in by machinery. Youngsters will not now associate the hoosegow and schoolhouse together. While it may suggest the Black Maria, yet even she has always had a secret romance.

The teacher will be her own driver and the community will be able to read as it runs. Virginia has been known as the "Mother of Presidents." But since Ohio and California became Uncle Sam's second and third wives, Virginia has gotten her dander up and decided to mother something else again.

The idea might fit some of the sparsely settled mountain and desert districts of California.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

PITY the poor working girl!

We were sitting with a friend in a beanery in which we sometimes coal and gazing with wonder on the waitresses. Some were dashing brunettes and some dashing blondes, but all were dashing. The hungry horde had just swarmed in, every man as eager to break all previous records as any trans-Atlantic liner captain—eager to devour a full forty-five-minute luncheon in from six to nine minutes. In that restaurant bogey for the full eighteen-hole dinner is fourteen minutes, but most of the diners keep well under par.

"These," said our friend, "are the folks for whom professional sympathizers should do something. These girls work ten hours a day. All that time they are on their feet. They must be ready to drop from sheer exhaustion when their work day finally ends. Doubtless they have barely strength to drag themselves home and collapse on their undowny couches."

"Ask and see," we suggested.

The Girl Misunderstood

Just then one of the dashing ones dashed up to us.

"Wotchawant f'r deezert?" she demanded. "Strawbry short, peach-raisinapple pie nice scream?"

"We were just wondering," said our friend, a little shyly, "what you are going to do after you're through work here this evening."

She looked him over appraisingly. "Sorry, kiddo," she said, "but I'm already dated for a dance tonight. Same tomorrow night and the night after. But if you don't mind standin' in line that long, I guess I can step out with you the night after that. Where'll we go? Any place suits me, just so it's a dance."

So now our friend is coaling at another beanery.

Beating Paths to Our Door

LEE SHIPPEY
MAIL

We are forced to admit, alas! that we are as short-sighted mentally as we are physically. Ever and anon, in gay and careless mood, we write something for this colyum about our five kiddies. The result is that all the book agents who have books for children have found us out and are beating a path to our door. And now the realtors have joined in the chase. They are inviting us to buy this and that "swell place for kiddies."

Alas, dear friends, you know neither our tribe nor our pocketbook. No "swell place" would be suitable for either. And we are stanchly committed to the policy of buying books only from bookstores, and mostly from second-hand bookstores, at that.

Evening Breeze

A gently stirring maid, my evening breeze—and meek.
She steals in through my garden gate
And, every evening as I wait,
She stoops to kiss my cheek.

At times she seems so sad. I wonder why.
She never speaks her grief to me,
But sometimes, in my pepper tree,
I think I hear her sigh.

And can it be she weeps, poor lonely one?
Ofttimes she lingers till the dawn,
And then I find, out on my lawn
Tears gleaming in the sun.

TYRONE KING.

Starting Young

I planted a garden of old-fashioned flowers where the pomegranate grows,
There are lilies, iris, marigolds and even an amber rose.
In this little garden of mine, I planted with loving care
Flowers of delicate beauty; and I thought, as I placed them there,
Of grandmother's old-fashioned garden, where I wandered as a wee child
And gathered sweet peas and four o'clocks which grew by the wooden stile.
I peeped in the nest that the robins built in the morning glory vine,
And I hoped some one else will be happy as I in this old-fashioned garden of mine.

PANSY PARMENTER, age 14, Norwalk.

To a Pepper Tree

A dainty fine lady in green chiffon ruffles and flounces,
All-over embroidered in delicate sprays of red beads,
Gracefully swaying and pointing with lace-mitted fingers,
Murmuring softly of flowers, blue skies and seas.

I hate
To think
What a Kansas wind
Would do to you.

Z. K. H., Redlands.

Choice

Which shall be first,
The voice of the earth
Or the whisper of wings?

Which shall endure,
The wisdom that speaks
Or the silence that sings?

SARA VAN ALSTYNE ALLEN, Claremont.

To Monrovia

Dear old, queer old, peaceful town,
I love your quiet streets,
Your golden clime of great renown,
Which health and joy completes.
No busy world's discordant strains
Disturb your happy days,

MONROVIA
I'LL SAY!

No midnight revelry profanes
Your simple, homely ways.
And so, when night comes purpling down
Her lonely watch to keep,
I pray that I, like you, old town,
May sleep and sleep and sleep!

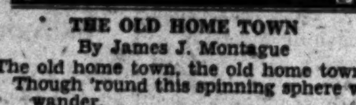
JAY HARRISON, Monrovia.

STANDING ARMIES

There is no special need of two standing armies. And yet one is shuttled to and fro daily by the "W" car line. This is another case where reduction is called for in standing armies.

PEANUTS

Trial plots of peanuts were planted in Kern, Kings and Stanislaus counties last year with considerable success. They might introduce some of our peanut politicians. They are hardy enough to thrive anywhere.



THE OLD HOME TOWN

By James J. Montague

The old home town, the old home town!
Though 'round this spinning sphere we wander,
Or journey widely up and down
And here and there and over yonder,
Its shaded streets we still can see,
The river in the distance gleaming—
They all come back to you and me
In tender hours of wakeful dreaming.
We wonder, nomads that we are,
What called us forth to rove so far.

We hear the patter of the rain,
The wind among the whispering willows;
The low of cattle in the lane
Is wafted to our distant pillows;
We gaze across the chattering rill
To watch the lilac blossoms falling,
And long years afterward we thrill
To hear the first spring robin calling
Before he mates and settles down
In his, as well as our home town.

The old home town, the old home town!
The cool, sequestered forest bowlers,
The dogwoods with their spring-time crown
Of starry, creamy-petalled flowers;
The drowsy humming of the bees
Still murmurs through our recollection,
And brooks and fields, grass and trees,
We think upon with fond affection.
And yet we're mighty glad somehow
We do not have to live there now!

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

THE NORRIS BILL

[Washington Post]

Muscle Shoals has cost about $125,000,000. The Norris resolution provides for additional expenditures of $35,000,000 or more, in building a dam and in developing power to be sold by the government. Cove Creek Dam, if built by Treasury money, would be the precursor of hundreds of fake water-power schemes to be financed and operated by the government, at a cost of limitless millions of tax money. Instead of scrapping Muscle Shoals, if it cannot be sold or leased, the Norris resolution would throw good money after bad and transform the government into a power manufacturer, under the direction of politicians.

It has been repeatedly shown that the government is a failure in conducting business. It is not a business organism, and cannot be made one. The spectacle of "bipartisan" politicians operating Muscle Shoals as a business venture is one that would invite derision even from the crazy theorists of Russia. Senator Norris's scheme outsoviets the soviet. Unless common sense has entirely disappeared, this scheme will meet its death at the hands of the House or the President.

WE HATE TO WALK

[Grand Rapids (Mich.) Press]

Michigan is assumed to have been in a depression during February of this year. Deprived of profits and wages, thousands of residents were supposed to be retrenching. While employment had begun to increase, it was hardly supposed that this would be notably reflected in business for the month. Weather was severe; in fact, we were in the midst of the worst winter in point of snowfall since the earliest records were kept.

Yet during the month of February the people of Michigan paid $230,000 more gasoline tax into the State Treasury than for the same month last year, in the midst of a great expansion period when earnings were at the peak and employment was high.

NEWS FROM BERLIN

[San Francisco Chronicle]

Strange how little folk know what is going on around them. If it weren't for copies of Rote Fahne which have been received in this country Americans might never have learned that on March 6 an army of 120,000 Communists marched on the City Hall in New York and that the marchers were attacked by 25,000 policemen with machine guns.

Rote Fahne, by the way, is a Communist paper published in Berlin. It is to be commended for its enterprise in getting up a revolution in its own imagination where it doesn't need to be hampered by facts.

WHAT THE WAR COST US

[Detroit Free Press]

The Treasury Department in Washington observed the thirteenth anniversary of our declaration of war in 1917 by computing what that step cost this country in dollars and cents. The gross total to June 30, 1929, was $51,400,000,000. The net total was $37,573,960,000, a sum sufficiently considerable to impress even those who think that the United States got rich out of the World War and consequently should forgive its debtors.

We are still paying for the war and its aftermath at the rate of $1,162,000,000 a year.

WHERE THEY KNOW HOW

"Civil disobedience" does not seem to have made a great start in India. It appears that Mr. Gandhi was entirely without American experience.

SHAKESPEARE IN JAPAN

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

The birthday of William Shakespeare falls on Wednesday, April 23. Here in Los Angeles, the Shakespearean Foundation will have a dinner-dance at a downtown hotel; otherwise the date will go practically unobserved. So far as is now recorded, not one of his plays, or a scene from any, will dignify the occasion by presentation.

The more remarkable, then, is this fact: Japan will hold a two-day festival in honor of Shakespeare's birth, and, in two languages, the observances will be broadcast by radio.

Tokio will be the scene of these ceremonies, and in the main, Japanese are the moving factors in bringing them about. And the honoring will be done in the only fit way—by staging his works. Under the auspices of the Japan Shakespeare Society, excerpts from "The Merchant of Venice," "Hamlet," "Henry V" and "The Taming of the Shrew" will be broadcast on the night of April 23 and the following evening will be staged at the Okuma Memorial Hall, Waseda University, together with a moving-picture version of "Othello"—ever hear of that? Part of the broadcast will be in Japanese; the staged episodes will largely be done in English.

Though little known to foreign residents, there exists in Japan a flourishing Shakespeare society. It was founded by Dr. Tsubouchi, well known there as a learned translator of The bard's works from English to the vernacular, and Dr. Ichikawa, its president, is dean of the college of literature, Tokio Imperial University. These two, with Prof. Kawatai and Dr. Saito, form the Japanese committee in charge of the observances. The society has fathered the study and production of the Sheakespearean plays in both languages and through its efforts most educated Japanese know a lot more about these classics than do many of those who might read them in English—but don't.

At the invitation of this Japanese group, the Tokio Amateur Dramatic Club, composed of English-speaking residents who have a love (so far from home) for the Shakespearean drama, was enlisted for the two evenings, and its members will appear in the excerpts selected, under the direction of Douglas Peck, an actor and producer of parts, well known on the London stage, and who appears in the scenes from "Hamlet" and "Henry V." C. F. Stephens, Prof. Del Re, A. W. Mabley, Miss Audrey Allen are others whose talents will add to the luster of the two nights. Mr. Peck has been producer and stage manager for the British Empire Shakespearean Society and has broadcast various events of this nature in England. He has composed a special prelude for the Japanese celebration and arranged the music for it.

Doesn't it seem a pity that Los Angeles, home of the newest and most widespread of all forms of Thespianic art, should ignore in stage presentation the birthday of the founder of English dramaturgy and stagecraft, and that Tokio, Japan, with two nights of such observances, should shame us in our neglect?

WHERE CAN I LEARN

First Aid?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Eight free public schools give courses in first aid to all people who care to attend. Red Cross certificates are given to those finishing the work. The teachers are graduate nurses and in many cases they have had overseas experience in war nursing. What to do in case of accident, drowning, poisoning and the like, is taught in eighteen hours and students receive a certificate. Then the care of children, the aged and the sick is taught in another eighteen hours and students receive a second certificate. Instruction is free, but the certificates cost 50 cents each. School hours are 7 to 9 p.m.

Schools offering this work are: Banning, 1500 North Avalon Boulevard, Wilmington, Monday, Wednesday; Hollywood, 1521 North Highland avenue, Monday, Wednesday; Jefferson, 1319 East Thirty-eighth street, Monday, Wednesday; One Hundred and Eighteenth-Street School, 144 East One Hundred and Eighteenth street, Monday; Riis, 139 West Sixty-ninth street, Monday, Wednesday; East San Pedro School, Terminal Way and Tuna streets, Terminal, Thursday; Lockwood-Street School, 1411 Logan street, Monday, Thursday; University, corner Texas and Westgate avenues, Sawtelle.

CAFE ART GALLERIES

Besides the regular collections that have been accumulated in the course of many years of patronage of the arts, Paris has innumerable other collections which make the city regarded as containing the greatest aggregation of art to be found anywhere. These smaller collections are to be found in many places on each side of the Seine in cafes and similar places where solid rows of paintings are hung on top of each other.

This mode of exhibiting pictures in cafes first began to flourish in Montparnasse. It was actually first started, however, in the Montmartre more than thirty years ago, but was confined to a few cabarets. The owners of the latter often became the possessors of the canvases for almost nothing.

Now every quarter of the city, from Menilmontant to the Ternes, has its numerous exhibitions in cafes. A striking feature of these works is the large number of foreign names signed to them. Paris, despite its changing aspects, is still the most hospitable city to artists.

THE ADVENTURE

By The Foothill Philosopher

Emerson's epigrammatic pronouncement that "the people know more than the preachers teach" is not necessarily a great compliment to the wisdom of the people, since the extent of the knowledge of the preachers never has been definitely established.

However, in spite of the apparent willingness of the majority of humans to accept the authority of great books and the dicta of those who translate and interpret them, there seems to be, in every heart, a deep feeling that the final authority on the fundamental problems of life is to be found in no external thing or personality, but in the soul of the individual.

Concerning the human soul and its destiny, few persons pretend to know anything, a few make claims to knowing something while a rarer number boldly declare that to them the Book of Life lies open and that they understand all of its pages. Be that as it may, the fact remains that the basic desire of all men is to discover the cause and end of all things, including the soul.

Primitive man usually first fears, then worships the elements in which he finds himself. The power and beauty of nature finally hypnotize him, lull him to sleep—and it is only after a long period of evolution (which possibly includes reincarnation) that he awakens to find that nature cannot satisfy all of his longings. Then follows "civilization," that fascinating chimera in which the forces of nature are harnessed to mechanics and art and in which man becomes all too keenly awake to many things that do not greatly matter.

For a time man is fairly well content dwelling in his new forests, the jungles of civilization, and then he becomes conscious of the fact that even civilization, with its varied and interesting manifestations of power, does not fully satisfy his hunger for reality. That day is now upon the world.

Can it be that man has begun to seek "that something," that essence behind phenomena, which is the source of all manifestation, the Alpha and Omega of existence, the Author of both nature and art? May it not be that there is a supreme purpose of life and that this purpose, through the ages, is to guide man into the presence of his own perfect selfhood? If that be true, the question naturally arises: Why did not Life teach man the truth at the beginning, instead of compelling him to wade through the morass of evolution in order to reveal the truth to him?

The "why" of things remains the mystery universal. There may be an answer to the question, but humanity cannot yet answer it. It is possible that Life (assuming Life to be personal, powerful, intelligent and kindly) planned for itself a drama of growth and unfoldment and of its children and that this is the only reason for the great motion picture of Eternity. Whatever be the answer, man, today, is happily not denied the privilege of faith, hope, love, labor and patience.

STRAW VOTES

BY W. L. Y. DAVIS

Straw votes are impressive, not so much for the amount of straw, nor even for the direction of the wind, but for the amount of wind. Considerable seems to have been generated of late. It appears to be a manufactured brand as is employed in the movies. The big fan is turned in any direction, and presto! the straw does its stuff. This shows which way the whisky breath is blowing.

Only about 2,000,000 of the 37,000,000 of the last Presidential election have gotten into the big wind at latest count. The other 35,000,000 have not been heard from. It is not their funeral.

Will Rogers says, "Straw voting is about the lowest form of voting there is." As usual, Will says a large Oklahoma mouthful.

The knocker is on the outside and wants in. That is why he knocks. The straw voter is out and wants in. That is why he votes. He is trying to convince those in the dry that it is pleasanter to be all wet. This accounts for his frequent and vociferous ballot casting.

What earthly reason would a dry have for taking a straw vote to see whether he should share his shelter with the wet? He has everything as he wants it now. His straw is all mowed away in the barn and his crops are all roofed over from the storm. Wet straw is worthless. With his harvest perfectly dry, why should he indulge in getting a cross-section of anything to disturb his equanimity? He realizes it is all just a trap to catch rats.

The dry cause is not sick; so why should it have its pulse pawed over? The dry cause's liver is not out of order; so why should it invite an inquest over its inwards? The dry cause's health is not impaired; so why should it go away for its health? It's like leaving California!

There is a large chunk of suspicion that the straw of the voting craze of today is largely a left-over from the crop of wild oats of other years.

Free Lessons in Germany

The announcement has been made by the Italian Consul-General at Dusseldorf that free lessons in Italian will be given to all who care to take them without cost except that of the necessary books and materials, which is a trivial item. Incidentally, the attention of students will be unobtrusively called to the attractions and charms of Sunny Italy. As soon as the school at Dusseldorf is under way the free lessons will be extended to another city and if the response is great enough to warrant it there will be language instructions in every city in Germany where there is an Italian representative. After that it may be extended to some other countries.

COMEDY OF MATRIMONY REAPPEARS

Vincent Lawrence Play, With New Cast. on View at Vine Street

All the wit and charm of Vincent Lawrence's problem comedy-drama, "Among the Married," was renewed for local theatergoers on the stage of the Vine-Street Theater last night. Amusing, yet somewhat crass, the play deals with an intimate subject. Its theme might be, "An eye for an eye."

Starting in a light and carefree mood, the seriousness of what was taking place on the stage last night silenced an audience, typically Hollywood, and prone at first to take a dramatic situation more as comedy.

With jealousy as the keynote, "Among the Married" has been written to leave the audience with the solution suspended in midair, so to speak. It is probably better so. The usual happy ending would make just another play out of Lawrence's brain-child. Yet the ending is not entirely unhappy. The man and wife adopt a sort of live-and-let-live policy.

The direct and sparkling dialogue, tinged with a few lines which might be better left unsaid, is spoken by a capable and at times brilliant cast.

Robert Frazer as the philandering husband presented a repressed, yet forceful characterization. His discrimination in playing the head of a sophisticated family with just the right touch was reminiscent of Edward Everett Horton's portrayal of the same role. Frazer drew appreciation from the critical first-night audience.

Alma Tell as the wife succeeded in much the same measure as Frazer. It is a difficult role, and except for what appeared to be a forced hysterical scene, Miss Tell was entirely pleasing and adequate. Barbara Brown lent her vivacious personality to the part of Helen Robinson to good effect. Her flamboyancy was well-timed to the plot. Dudley Ayres played what might be termed the villain role fairly and interestingly. His delineation was true to his character, which should be sufficient for any audience. Howard Russell injected a note of comedy and Virginia Thorton played Brandt, the maid. Alfred Woods produced the drama.

'KING OF JAZZ' ARRIVES

Universal Film, Starring Paul Whiteman and Band, Delights Eyes and Ears at Criterion

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Revues have a reason! One may well say that after viewing Paul Whiteman's "The King of Jazz."

This picture opened Saturday at the Criterion Theater, with facets of sure-fire popular appeal, and brilliantly a visualization of music.

It had a hectic career in getting started as a production, did this feature starring a premier jazz-band director, but the results of various preliminary tugs-of-war apparently yielded a general pulling together in a film that dazzles the eye photographically, and fills the ear with music.

Whiteman's picture is one of the major happenings of an unusually full and complete season, and it goes from Dan to Beersheba, so to speak, in its quest of new ways to express the ideas both jazzical and blue.

This production is unquestionably unique in the annals of moviedom and of talkiedom as well. With John Murray Anderson at the helm as director it has attained the acme of the razzle-dazzle, and is saxophonically eloquent as well.

Then there are the blackouts . . . good for laughs in various cases, even despite a majority are familiar friends of the stage revue—tried and true friends, so to say.

THE RHAPSODY ITSELF

"Rhapsody in Blue" might be nominated the theme song of this super-revue. It wanders through the whole evolvement, and becomes at one time a pictorial climax, with a piano big enough to serve as a band stand, the Sisters G with bundles of ostrich plumes, and the pied piper of Hamelin outdone by a dancer who simulates the playing of a clarinet.

The picture has radiantly staged numbers. The "Bridal Veil" is a jewel, and comes near the start of the picture. "It Happened in Monterey" is richly picturesque. Even so small an idea as "A Bench in the Park" is handsomely idealized. Finally comes "The Melting Pot" as a great and grandiose expression of the national cosmopolitanism — the colorful climax of the whole thing, with rows and rows of waltz kings playing violins, an army of accordeionists to represent Italy, a throng of green-garbed players of old Erin's harp. Nothing if not international is this feature.

What the discriminating will like is the music of "The King of Jazz," though they will have no fault to find either with the novelty of its pictorial effects. They will find that the melodies are both interesting and well arranged and played. Lovely, for example, are the "Bridal Veil" number and "A Bench in the Park."

The crowning of Whiteman as the King of Jazz is depicted in a cartoon done in color. This starts the picture off in an unusual way.

CLEVER CAMERA EFFECTS

When Whiteman in person later arrives on the scene he brings his band tucked away in a small satchel. He opens it and the midget members of the band step out and down a stairway to take their places on the stand. The double exposure is exceptionally good.

The picture reveals Jeannette Loff's possession of an interesting presence and talent. She sings with real musical feeling, and has a pretty voice. Stanley Smith and she do several numbers effectively.

John Boles is splendid in the "Song of the Dawn" and "It Happened in Monterey." It is clear that the former will be a popular hit.

A clever dancing group are the Markert Troupe, and a girl who shows much promise in her songs is Jeanie Lang. The Sisters G are prominent throughout, and the Brox Sisters sing every once in a while.

Billy Kent is diligent in keeping the humor going, and is a genuinely capable comedian. Charles Irwin is master of ceremonies. Laura La Plante—principally—Glenn Tryon, Merna Kennedy, Slim Summerville, Jacques Carter, Don Rose and Marian Statler, dancers, George Chiles, and various others appear.

The picture is built around Whiteman and his band and they are jointly its stars. As entertainment "The King of Jazz" is therefore something quite out of the ordinary routine, and elaborate and diverting, as well.

"JUNE MOON" TO OPEN

"June Moon," heralded as a comedy hit, starts its limited engagement at the Belasco tonight.

The play was written by one of the leading humorists of America, Ring Lardner, and a successful playwright, George S. Kaufman. The story deals with the adventures of an unsophisticated chap from Schenectady, who plans to startle Broadway with his song lyrics.

Cleve Moore plays the part of the youth from Schenectady, and Nancy Dover acts his sweetheart. A noteworthy comedienne is Edith Van Cleve, as the hard-boiled wife of a ne'er-do-well song writer played by James Spottswood. Prominent also in the company are Murray Smith, Ruth Abbott, Fred Irving Lewis and Cyrena Smith.

McCormack Makes Debut on Talking Screen

Romantic Personalties and Background Attract

Premiere Draws Brilliant Audience to Chinese

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The charm of voice, which is John McCormack's, became an embellishment of the screen here Saturday evening. First showing of his starring picture, "Song o' My Heart," was given at Grauman's Chinese Theater, and the spell of its melody was the pervading fascination.

"Song o' My Heart" drew an audience different in composition from those that attend most Hollywood premieres. Fewer of the professional group were present; more, perhaps, of the musical; and in large part, those theater-going folk who were curious regarding the event of a concert singer's debut in the movies.

And McCormack does achieve preeminence in his initial picture as an artist of voice. He renders those tender songs that have endeared him to the public.

A new intimacy surrounds his singing. The camera brings him close to his audience. The shades of expression are manifest in his interpretations. They are a direct appeal to the listener.

As a novelty of the screen "Song o' My Heart" is a genuine accomplishment. It offers no great pretensions except the personality of its star, and the rare scenic backgrounds.

POETIC STORY

The story of the film is romantic and poetic, even a bit fragmentary. There is no essaying of the forceful sort of action. An incidental scene or two resolves itself into the clash of drama. The rest has the quiet dolce far niente spirit.

I like this picture for its sympathy and heart interest. It has, too, a rare native quality especially in the dialogue. The brogue, and a real brogue it is, in the case of one or two members of the cast, draws one right into the Irish atmosphere.

The picture also presents one amazing find in the boy, Tommy Clifford. He literally conquered his audience of the first evening. Two excellent comedy portraits were provided also by J. M. Kerrigan and Farrell MacDonald. These prove materially enlivening to the entertainment.

Frank Borzage directed "Song o' My Heart," and he displays that sensitiveness of feeling which is characteristic of his best productions. He evidenced taste in the treatment of the situations, and exquisitely emphasized certain elements of pathos.

In the foreground of "Song o' My Heart" is the story of a boy and a girl played by John Garrick and Maureen O'Sullivan. The mother of the girl had made an unhappy marriage. She was really in love with the singer, Sean, portrayed by McCormack. A mercenery aunt forced her into the match. She wishes similarly to afflict the daughter.

SINGING OUTSTANDING

The thread of plot is a very slender one, but it affords McCormack wide latitude for song, and that perhaps is what the audiences most desire from him. "Then You'll Remember Me," "Just for Today," "Little Boy Blue," "I Hear You Calling Me" are among the more familiar numbers that he sings. "A Fairy Story by the Fire," "I Feel You Near Me," "Ireland, Mother Ireland," "A Pair of Blue Eyes" and the significant "Rose of Tralee" are others.

Some of these songs are incorporated into the picture during Sean's American concert tour as depicted, and here one beholds the noted tenor winning success before a large audience in an auditorium. It is in this portion of the picture that the death of the woman he had loved takes place, and the handling of this is an unrivaled bit of delicate sentiment.

NATURAL TYPE

Miss O'Sullivan, the girl discovered with Clifford while Borzage was in Ireland, is pleasing of presence—an exceptionally sweet type. She is simple and natural in the role, though lacking in matured talent.

Alice Joyce lends interest to the portrayal of the mother. Effie Ellsler and Emily Fitzroy are excellent in their character impersonations. Andrea de Segurola is responsible for an amusing bit. John Garrick is competently present in the juvenile lead. The story for "Song o' My Heart" was written by Tom Barry, and the adaptation by Sonya Levien.

There was frequent applause at the opening for the McCormack songs, and high praise can be bestowed for both the manner in which they were done and the recording.

The additional feature of the bill is a Mack Sennett comedy, telling the troubles that husbands and wives sometimes have over bridge. It is a cleverly contrived affair in which Johnny Burke is an outstanding personality and Marjorie Beebe, Kenneth Thomson and others do capable work. This picture provides entertainment.

NEW GHOST PLAY AIMS AT NERVES

Melodrama at President a Resume of Spook Pieces; Effects Predominate

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

After attending a performance of "The Blue Ghost," at Henry Duffy's President, one can easily visualize a corps of electricians and effects men falling over each other backstage in their efforts to be on time with their cues. For the script of this latest affair by Bernard J. McOwen and J. P. Riewarts must certainly be largely directed at them, what with a "lights out" a "lights on," and assorted offstage sights and sounds for every five consecutive words of dialogue. A very lively evening, indeed, might still be assured the susceptible playgoer if the curtain went upon a stage given over entirely to these mechanics.

Not, of course, that the cast of characters is required only to sit around and pass the time o' night. Such formalities have no part in "The Blue Ghost." The seven lively artists who happen to be in the vicinity of Dr. De Former's castle on Harlan Cliff at midnight have far too much to do with obeying the first law of nature, what with drug addicts, madmen and spectral shades pursuing them from blackout to blackout. There is a frightened colored servant, for example, who is continuously occupied in escaping with a whole skin—and yet his one and only attempt to be seated lands him with a sort of dreadful finality in the insubstantial lap of no less than the blue ghost itself.

From all these random impressions you will gather that the present melodrama, like "Who?" and "The Skull,'—earlier individual hair-raisers from the same pens—adds one more to the seemingly endless list of plays whose single aim is the creation of a major paralysis in the spectator. Except that, on the present occasion, the authors eventually become so tangled in their own skein that, despairing of ever extracting themselves by any means short of meeting the audience out front for a personal explanation, they fall back on the old dodge of blaming the whole mess on a dream. And, considering that in the third-act finale the entire cast is blown to perdition, there is not much else for them to do.

Joseph De Stefani lends an authentic note to the role of the drug addict, and Earl Lee does well enough as the terrified negro, Jasper. Bernice Elliott, a charming enough heroine, has little to do but shriek. Others are Edward Cassidy as the usual inspector, James Durkin as Dr. De Former (there's a name to conjure with,) Lex Lindsay and Harry Hollingsworth.

Properly speaking, "The Blue Ghost" is not a play at all; yet obviously it is not without its public. So that one might, with almost as much reason, criticize a "crazy-house" at an amusement park for being deficient in dramatic continuity.

"SONG OF FLAME" RUDDY

Spectacular Musical of Russ Revolution Anniversary Event at Warners' Hollywood

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The storms and stress of revolution are the background for "Song of the Flame," which finds its locale in Russia during the red, red days. This picture, a musical production, is showing at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood as an anniversary event, and presents a panorama of technicolor photography, huge mobs and choruses, and an ample plot.

I don't know that background matters very much in a musical show. The Bolshevistic one is not altogether alluring per se. It is full of ruddiness and ruthlessness which do not entice.

But as, eventually, the more mercenary villains are disposed of, and the prince and the girl who incited disaster, are finally brought together in pastoral surroundings, the unpleasantnesses of "The Song of the Flame" are perhaps duly forgotten in its spell of romance.

Alexander Gray, Bernice Claire and Noah Beery are the leading figures in the plot of this picture, and Alice Gentle, sterling singer that she is, shines brilliantly in an episode or two of song. Bert Roach and Inez Courtney do comedy tricks that help to relieve the general tone of seriousness.

ELABORATE PICTORIALLY

The picture has been most elaborately produced. It is full of big, spectacular scenes, and the music is of the stirring (occasionally obviously stirring) type. Herbert Stothart and George Gerschwin were responsible, and one or the other (perhaps both) have written a very dramatic number in the song that carries the picture's title. Alan Crosland directed with an eye to magnitude and splendor, and scenes of revolutionary disturbances, and also of a village carnival fill every chink and cranny of the screen.

Miss Claire is the central character of the plot. She appears as the girl who stirs up revolt, and then regrets the bloodshed she had caused, when she sees carnage and havoc wrought on every side. She hides away remorsefully in a provincial domain, where she falls in love with a prince, but they are not left in peace for long.

The revolution with Beery as its leader follows them, and the people are stirred up to attack the neighboring castle. It is again the heroine's "Song of the Flame" that causes the trouble. This time she sings it in the hope that her lover may be spared.

LYRIC INTERLUDES

Trials and executions, marauding and other ills are frequent through the film, with occasional spells of romance. These are relieving as a result of some very attractive songs of the more lyric sort.

Mr. Gray pleases especially with his vocalizing, and is more suitably cast in this picture than in either "Sally" or "No, No, Nanette." Miss Claire is also better adapted to her role than in any previous picture, and though her voice is inclined a little to shrillness at times (or is it some blemish in the recording?) she discloses adequacy in phrasing and style. Her songs require of her considerable dramatic effect.

Miss Gentle received something approaching an ovation for one well rendered excerpt toward the end of the film, and Beery with his low tones was a surprise. He is back at his heavy villaining again.

Aside from the feature, this is exceptional amusement in the comedy cartoon, "Sinkin' the Bathtub," a Leon Schlesinger production. Funny enough was this to rival the famous "Silly Symphony" series. It is a good travesty incidentally on the songs of "Singin' in the Rain" and "Singin' in the Bathtub" sort.

ORCHESTRA MEN BEGIN FINAL WEEK

Two Holiday Concerts Presented; Child Prodigy Well Received

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Two concerts yesterday by men of the Philharmonic began the final week of the orchestral season. In the afternoon, a pot pourri of music was arranged for a pop program at the auditorium in which two soloists and a guest composer-conductor assisted Dr. Rodzinski. In the evening the Bartlett-Frankel Quartet made its farewell appearance of the year in a popular concert at the Beaux Arts Auditorium in which Axel Simonsen, violoncellist, and Philip Kahgan, violist, added to the usual chamber music group consisting of Josef Borissoff, Emil Ferir, Anthony Briglio and Nicholas Aochi-Albi. Both audiences were of holiday size.

Musically of greatest worth in the pop concert by the Philharmonic Orchestra, was the repetition of the Bach-Mahler Suite in B minor from the last regular concert pair. Mme. Rodzinski and Dr. Hastings added to the excellent ensemble by playing the piano and organ, respectively.

Master Grisha Goluboff, a child-wonder of a very tender age and uncanny technical facility, played the Mendelssohn concerto for violin with the orchestra and earned a genuine ovation. This newest prodigy from San Francisco, is the pupil of Michel Pistro, concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony. He has been well trained. Dr. Rodzinski gave the child a very sympathetic accompaniment and the whole orchestra was quite evidently touched by the boy's remarkable accomplishment.

Master Goluboff is a pathetic baby musician with all his success in playing with major orchestras. He has fine rhythmical sense, an undisturbed poise and his intonation and bowing are quite marvelous for his stated 7 years. But there is no joy in his playing and he has a face that is a mask, behind which he hides suffering. Why should these youngsters be tortured to make a Roman holiday?

Miss Lucile Gibbs sang a coloratura aria from "The Barber of Seville" with the orchestra and her work was pleasing. She essayed the difficulties of "Una voce poco fa" with a measure of success, displaying a clear and attractive quality of voice. Another programmed number, "Hymn to the Sun," was not sung by Miss Gibbs because of some errors in the orchestration, I believe.

Henry Schoenefeld was complimented by the orchestra's playing his "Suite Characteristique" in four movements for strings. The composition is tuneful but repetitious. Dr. Rodzinski concluded the concert with Rimsky-Korsakow's "Russian Easter."

After the familiar and well-played Dvorak quartet, the Bartlett-Frankel group gave two movements from Alois Reiser's string quartet in their final concert at Beaux-Arts. It was warmly received and deservedly so. The work is an expression of an excellent modern craftsman with cultivated taste. He has made harmony of dissonance—discreet dissonance, however. Mr. Reiser is happily more impressed with the beauty of this world than its melancholy. The Andante sets strangely beautiful overtones in vibration and is musical poetry. The last movement is unexpected in rhythm themes and charming. Mr. Reiser acknowledged the applause from the audience.

Bowl at Hollywood Draws Crowd of 30,000

Twenty Thousand More Fill Forest Lawn Park

Elaborate Pageant Feature of Pasadena Program

the first concert singer ever to have appeared at the Bowl.

"The beauty and newness of life that Easter brings to us are divine suggestions to rise from our dead selves to higher levels and better things," said Dr. Stewart MacLennan, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, who brought the message of the day.

DR. MACLENNAN SPEAKS

"The thing that is happening in the spring is what God wants to happen in every soul," said Dr. MacLennan. "He wants to awaken the sleeping virtues lying dormant in human hearts and to bring into full bloom the best that is in the nature which He Himself has created. The Holy Spirit is ever seeking to bring out in us the good which may have fallen asleep through the years. The conquering march of the Christian church and the rejoicing around the world today began at an empty tomb. If Christ had not risen, then Christian people today would not be celebrating this historic event. The fundamental fact of Christianity is an historic thing. It is an historic religion, founded upon historic fact. Our Lord breaks through the dark storm clouds of death. Across the eastern sky is painted for us the bow of promise. Our loved ones are taken, by His mighty power, yonder to the heavens—and some day we shall see them glorified and resurrection will bear its full fruits."

Following benediction by Rev. H. I. Rasmus, the great throngs quietly dispersed, leaving the young hills with the silence of God upon them.

CREDIT GIVEN

Among many other faithful workers to whom credit is due for the success of the Bowl program are Dana H. Bennett, general chairman of arrangements, Mrs. Frederick Raymond, in charge of the ground and stage arrangements, William F. Vreeland, floral designer, Evan Smith and his 200 Boy Scout assistants, John B. Gay, general usher, members of the Hollywood and Fairfax high schools, Velada Club and Hollywood High School R.O.T.C., who assisted in ushering guests to their seats.

C. A. Owens, president of the Speakophone Company of California, took a complete electric transcript of the Bowl program and announced that the program can be reproduced and sent out by radio any number of times desired.

SERVICE ABOARD PLANE

High up over the Southland early yesterday morning cruised an airplane with a full load, carrying out an aerial Easter sunrise service.

It was the smallest of the threescore sunrise services held throughout the Southland, but the spirit of the occasion was, nevertheless, carried out. Rev. John Snape of Temple Baptist Church delivered a sermon in a Western Air Express plane that was picked up by radio station KHJ and rebroadcast at 4:45 a.m. The ship cruised over Pasadena, Glendale, Hollywood and Beverly Hills.

SCHOOL OBSERVES HOLIDAY

An all-day program marked the observation of Easter yesterday at the Mission Garden, Mt. Washington. The sunrise services were featured by a dramatic presentation of the Resurrection, reading of the Scripture by Padre Dyer, a peace prayer by Padre Bushey, an address by Dr. George Elmer Littlefield, vocal and instrumental solos by Anna Hiner, Mme. Capitola, Benjamin Wolf and Miss Madge Motley, chanting of Easter carols by the assembled pilgrims, and benediction by Padre Mathews. A light breakfast was served in the Friars' Garden following the services.

The afternoon program included the ceremonial planting of fifty trees, followed by vespers. In the evening an impromptu musical program was given in the guest house with Lulu May George acting as accompanist.

WORSHIPERS COVER HILLS AT FOREST LAWN

Nearly 20,000 persons thronged the sides of the hill surmounting Forest Lawn Memorial Park yesterday morning to greet Easter morning and to participate in ceremonies that were marked by pageantry and singing.

Long before sunrise automobiles bearing worshipers from practically every section of Southern California made their way to the parking spaces flanking the hillside.

By the time the services were opened the slopes surrounding the lighted cross on the hilltop were packed with Easter sunrise greeters.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole rendered the invocation while the hushed thousands stood in reverence below.

Then came the pageantry of children, directed by Mrs. Genevieve M. Whytock. This display was opened by a Scripture reading by Frederick Warde. The Glendale Elks' Band contributed the incidental music.

In the featured pageantry Mrs. Claude G. Putnam portrayed the part of Mary, the mother of Jesus, while Mrs. Max Lynn Green played the part of Mary, the mother of James; Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, the part of Mary Magdalene, and Mrs. Clayton Woods, the part of Salome. Students of the Glendale intermediate schools carried out the brilliant processional.

Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, delivered the Easter message.

In the course of his sermon he quoted a poem entitled "Morning," written by James M. Warnack, church editor of The Times, and which was printed for the first time in The Times on Saturday morning.

Miss Alice Gentle sang two Easter songs.

EAGLE ROCK GREETS DAWN FROM HILLTOPS

More than 2500 devout early risers took part in sunrise services held on the summit of Silverwood Hills, east of the Occidental College Bowl, and north of York Boulevard. The observance this morning was the fourth annual sunrise service held under the auspices of Lutheran churches of this community, Highland Park, El Sereno and Pasadena.

Dr. H. B. Henneter, president of Corcordia Lutheran College, Conover, N. C., delivered a sermon on the "Resurrection." He explained that philosophy teaches that all men wish to live again, ethics, that all men should live again, and Christ, that all may have immortal life.

The invocation was given by Rev. W. G. Ruehle of the Highland Park Lutheran Church. Rev. Lawrence Faulstick presided and gave a scriptural reading. Music was provided by the vested choir of the Highland Park Church.

As the first worshipers ascended the 800-foot hill, highest point in this vicinity, they grouped themselves silently beneath a twenty-five-foot illuminated cross.

Those who arrived later found all automobile parking-space taken near the summit and were forced to trudge along the steep path to the summit.

Eagle Rock Boy Scouts, under the direction of Scoutmaster F. C. Harris, assisted the worshipers to find vantage points.

Although the services have a denominational character, Rev. Faulstick, who was in charge of arrangements, asserted that two-thirds of the throng was made up of college students and residents of outlying districts.

ROSE BOWL SCENE OF IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

PASADENA, April 20.—Sunrise services in the Rose Bowl, attended by 3000 persons, and John Steven McGroarty's pageant, "The First Easter in California," witnessed by 2000 persons on the Hotel Huntington's horseshoe lawn, featured local Easter observances today.

Easter music, rung on the tower chimes of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church by Samuel L. Allen, was a prelude to the sunrise service in the bowl which opened at 5:15 a.m. under the auspices of the local pastors' union.

CROSS CENTER PIECE

A towering green cross, inlaid with a smaller cross of red and white roses, was placed in the spot occupied by the north football goal posts which were removed for the occasion. Members of the Pasadena Civic Orchestra, directed by Reginald Bland, and the speakers, sat on a raised platform between the floral cross and the worshiping thousands.

Dr. George B. Cliff, president of the Pastors' Union, presided, and gave the invocation.

"Present Tense Immortality," was the subject of the sunrise sermon, delivered by Rev. Henry Alfred Fisk, vice-president of the College of Idaho, who asserted that Christ "is the greatest fact of history, a fact which can't be argued about or explained, but which must be accepted."

Because the Bowl is hidden from the sun's rays by the eastern bank of the Arroyo Seco, the first rays did not enter the Bowl until shortly before the benediction. The floral decorations were arranged by Gilbert Skutt, local park superintendent.

PAGEANT AT HOTEL

At 9 a.m. the McGroarty pageant, characterized as the most picturesque Easter observance in California, was staged for the ninth consecutive year on the Hotel Huntington lawn, in the presence of wealthy hotel guests and residents. Written and personally directed by the author of the Mission Play, "The First Easter in California," depicts with historical accuracy the celebration of Easter in an early Franciscan mission. Eighty players, cast as priests, Indians and Spanish soldiers, enacted the roles.

Alexander Smith, as Fra Junipero Serra, called the kneeling savages to lay aside their bows and arrows and follow the teachings of the Prince of Peace. Fra Francisco was portrayed by Edgel Blackham and E. A. Pyke enacted the role of Fra Antonio.

More than twenty full-blooded Mission Indians in native costume took part in the masque, and the historical background was colored vividly by a pack train of burros.

Churches throughout this city reported that the sunny skies and warm temperature resulted in a record-breaking attendance, and that hundreds of late comers thronged the church steps in a futile effort to see the lavish church decorations.

A number of churches conducted special sunrise services at various scenic points in this vicinity.

VERDUGO HILLS RESIDENTS HAIL SUNRISE

TUJUNGA, April 20.—Residents of the Verdugo Hills section congregated yesterday morning on the cross-topped heights of Mt. McGroarty in Tujunga for their annual Easter sunrise service. The invocation was uttered by Rev. Edward Pasco, pastor of the Community Methodist Church of Tujunga, and there was a sermon by Rev. William Masterson, pastor of the Sunland Baptist Church. Community singing of popular hymns was a feature of the service.

SERVICES AT PORT

While steamer whistles in the fog-shrouded channel below roared a diapason, 2000 harbor residents worshiped yesterday morning at the Easter shrine on the heights of Fort MacArthur, above Point Fermin. The services were conducted under the joint auspices of all port civic groups, headed by the Woman's Club and Ministerial Association of San Pedro.

The Easter sermon was delivered by Rev. Fred H. Ross of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of San Pedro, wherein the pastor declared that the resurrection is the one light that overcomes all earthy fears. It epitomizes, he said, all religious belief.

Mrs. Bernyce Spridgeon, accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Nicholas, sang "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," following the prelude by the Sixty-third Coast Artillery band and the invocation by Rev. Morris Rigbee. The presiding pastor at the service was Rev. B. C. Corry, with the Easter prayer by Rev. Henry Van Engelen and benediction by Rev. N. P. Anseen.

PALISADE SERVICE DRAWS CROWD OF 5000

SANTA MONICA, April 20.—A perfect Easter sunrise was greeted by trumpets this morning when more than 5000 worshipers assembled for the ninth annual service on Peace Hill, Pacific Palisades. High above the ocean, commanding a vast seacoast panorama, today's event was one of the most inspiring in the history of this annual religious pilgrimage to greet the dawn, in which Pacific Palisades is established as one of the pioneer communities.

J. Hudson Ballard, Ph. D., of Occidental College, preached on "The Fourfold Message of Easter." The Easter Recessional, in which the entire congregation sang as it marched down the slopes of Peace Hill, each marcher carrying a white lily, was led by the Santa Monica Municipal Band, playing "Onward Christian Soldiers," Harold Roberts directing. The Bay Cities Ministerial Association sponsored the program. Rev. Philip K. Swartz, Venice Congregational Church, led in prayer, and Rev F. G. Stevens, president of the Ministerial Association, introduced the speakers. Benediction was by Rev. James Edwin Dunning of the Pacific Palisades Community Methodist-Episcopal Church. The choir of this church, led by Nancy Kendall Robinson, sang during the services.

SERVICE CONDUCTED ON MT. WASHINGTON

ALTADENA, April 20.—On the summit of Mt. Washington, located above Switzer-Land in the Arroyo Seco, 300 members of the Sierra Club, mountain-climbing organization, held sunrise services in a scenic setting that is possibly unrivaled in Southern California.

Hundreds of week-end campers joined with the Sierra Club members in the Easter observance held in the heart of the mountains.

Chimes from the open air chapel at Switzer-Land awakened the worshipers at 4:45 a.m. to give them time to hike up Mt. Washington, a mile distant.

The service was conducted entirely by Sierra Club members.

CATALINA DWELLERS GATHER ON BUENA VISTA

AVALON (Catalina Island) April 20.—Record crowds attended the Easter sunrise services on Catalina Island this morning. All trails leading to Mt. Buena Vista formed a seeming endless human chain long before dawn. The Catalina chimes played by Capt. Barney Halstead proclaimed the Easter morn at 5:15 o'clock followed by a cornet solo played by Louis Passarelli. Vocal solos were sung by Mrs. W. V. Holmes and Mrs. Clarissa Taylor. Rev. T. Hilton Radcliff of the Avalon Community Church delivered the address. Trails to Mt. Buena Vista were patroled by Boy Scouts.

KIND STUDENTS LEFT LEGACIES

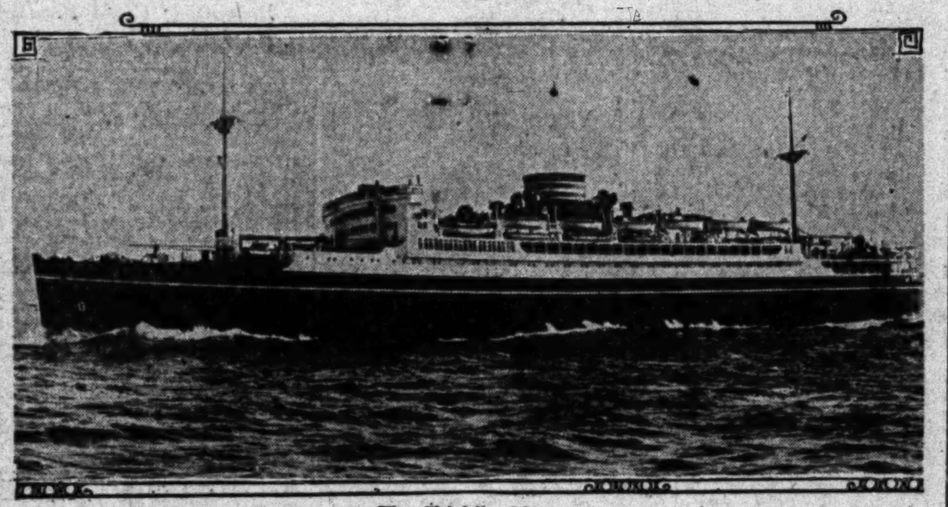
Youths Bequeathed $75,000 in Cash Each by Woman They Befriended

When Mrs. Grace V. Harris of Pasadena died and left an estate of $4,000,000, she did not forget two high-school students who were kind and courteous to her while she was a lonely old woman, it is revealed by Probate Court records.

Theodore Martin, Jr., and his brother, Finla J. Martin, each were bequeathed $75,000 in cash, and each had to appear in Probate Court to have their father, Theodore Martin, prominent attorney, appointed their guardian.

NIPPONESE SEA PALACE DUE TODAY

Luxurious Liner Second Large Vessel to Enter Orient Run



The Chichibu Maru

THE new $7,000,000 Japanese passenger liner Chichibu Maru, said to be the largest vessel of Japan, is scheduled to arrive at Los Angeles harbor this morning at 7:30 o'clock. The new ship which is motor driven, is the second large and luxurious passenger vessel to enter the Orient-California run. A third is scheduled to enter the trans-Pacific trade later.

Representatives of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, operators of the Chichibu Maru have announced that the speedy vessel has been lavishly equipped.

THOUSAND GET CANCER TREATMENT

Coffey-Humber Extract Administered at Clinic and Various Hospitals

More than 1000 sufferers from cancer received injections of the Coffey-Humber gland extract over the week-end, about two-thirds of that number being treated at the clinc conducted yesterday and Saturday at the Pacific Electric Club, 627 South Los Angeles street, and the others receiving their treatment at various hospitals where they are patients. About 1500 separate treatments were given, some patients receiving injections of the extract on both Saturday and Sunday.

All of the treatments were administered by Dr. John M. Humber, who, with Dr. Walter B. Coffey, developed the extract, and Mrs. Humber. About 500 of the treatments each day were given at the clinic and the remainder at the hospitals. Physicians who had come from distant points, including one who came here from Spain to investigate the new cancer treatment, were interested observers at the clinic on both days.

Dr. Russell W. Starr, who is in charge of the clinic, said that the treatments will be continued next week-end, the clinic hours being 10 a.m. on Saturday and noon on Sunday.

Sky Students End Long Tour

Completing a 1000-mile cross-country training flight that began last Monday, eight advanced students of the Los Angeles school of Curtiss-Wright Flying Service landed their planes at Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday at 11:30 a.m. The squadron was headed by Capt. Peyton Gibson, chief instructor, while Roy Harding of the Union Oil Company, and William Wagner in a tenth plane acted as pathfinders.

The week's aerial tour took the students first to Sacramento where they witnessed the Army air maneuvers, then to San Francisco and from there to a dozen intermediate cities on the coast and in the valley.

Application has been made by the Playground and Recreation Commission to the Park Board for the use of 8.04 acres in Victory Park No. 1 for development of a playground.

PARK LAW TEST DUE THIS WEEK

Way Paved for Mandamus Action Ruling

Two Legal Obstacles Balk State Land Purchase

High Court Decision Sought to Clarify Case

The test case to determine whether the county can deed beach land to the State, thus paving the way for the State joining with the county in the purchase of such lands for recreational purposes, probably will be launched in the State Supreme Court this week, according to County Counsel Mattoon.

The State was prevented from joining in the recent purchase by the county of $825,000 worth of beach lands by two legal obstacles. One is an interpretation of the State law that the State cannot participate in the purchase of such lands in incorporated communities, and the other is the absence of a ruling granting the county authority to deed its interests in lands to the State.

Under the original plan, it was proposed that the State and county each pay half the purchase price of the beach tracts, that the county then deed its interest to the State and that the State operate the beaches as State parks.

In order to clarify the law in the case, County Councel Mattoon suggested that the Board of Supervisors vote to deed two parcels of land, one in unincorporated territory, the other in Manhattan Beach, to the State. Then, according to Mattoon, the refusal of Chairman McClellan to execute the deeds would pave the way for filing of mandamus proceedings in Supreme Court, which body would be asked to give a final opinion on the legal points.

If the proposed test case fails to obviate the present legal obstacles, it is planned to seek an amendment of the law at the next session of the Legislature, which will permit the State to join in the purchases.

It is understood at the Hall of Records that Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors has agreed to decline to execute the deeds to the State, and that the pleadings in the test case will be filed in Supreme Court in Sacramento Wednesday.

BEACH LAND LEASE SUIT BEING TRIED

Los Angeles Athletic Club Sues Harbor Board, City to Have Title Quieted

Considerable interest is centered in the contest of the Los Angeles Athletic Club against the Board of Harbor Commissioners and the city of Los Angeles over a water-front leasehold at Wilmington, which started Friday and will be resumed at 9:45 a.m. today before Superior Judge Yankwich.

The club asks that the court quiet the title to the leasehold and fix damages.

According to the plaintiff the Board of Harbor Commissioners and the city failed to live up to the terms of the lease, made in 1920 to run for a period of thirty years. The property was leased for a yacht clubhouse site.

The defendants assert that under the terms of the lease the club was to begin the erection of a clubhouse within ninety days after it was signed, which, they contend, the club failed to do.

The club asserts that the board adopted a resolution on February 6, 1929, forfeiting the lease.

The outcome of the case will be watched with interest by many leaseholders of tidewater land who have leases similar to the one held by the club.

Army Officers to Address Club

Sam Browne belts and silver and gold insignia of rank will glisten in the Biltmore ballroom tomorrow when the Advertising Club holds its luncheon meeting.

There will be two speakers, Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines will speak on "The Reserve Officer," while Maj. G. C. Ringole, president of the Department of California, Reserve Officers' Association, will have the topic, "National Defense and What It Means to the Business Man."

Maj. Russell M. MacLennan, Quartermaster Reserve, will be chairman of the day, while the entertainment will be furnished by the Ad Club's own glee club.

Inasmuch as the national convention of Reserve Army Officers is gathering in the city this week, those who arranged the meeting have asked that all members of the club who belong to the Reserve Corps appear in uniform.

Dancers to Step for State Title

Leading fox-trotters and waltzers from all parts of California will compete in contests slated to determine the State championship tomorrow and Wednesday evenings at El Patio Ballroom, Third street and Vermont avenue.

The fox-trot finals will be danced tomorrow and the waltz Wednesday, after which the winning couples in each division will compete for the Agua Caliente gold cup emblematic of the title. Sixty-four couples are entered.

The judging committee is headed by Ernest Ryan, president of the Dancing Masters' Association of California.

ARRIVAL OF HOUSEH GOODS SHOWS INC

More than twice as many persons are moving their household effects into Los Angeles county from southern and western States this year as there were a year ago, it is declared in a report from the office of County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan.

Basing his calculations on figures covering a four-month period ending March 31, last, Deputy Agriculture Commissioner Gorton, in charge of plant quarantine work, stated that during this period his men inspected more than 3800 shipments of household goods from southern and western States as compared to 1500 a year previous. Shipments from the southern States are inspected as a precaution against the boll weevil and pink bollworm sometimes found in the material used to pack the household articles. Western State shipments are inspected as a preventative measure against the alfalfa

BLOSSOM WILL TALK ON ELECTRIC PLANT

Walter G. Blossom, superintendent of education, Southern California Edison Company, will speak on "Thomas Edison's Contribution to California" at the meeting of the Electric Club in the Biltmore today noon. Mr. Blossom will illustrate his talk with a motion picture showing the contrast in conditions before electric power was known in California and present-day methods. R. A. Buckby will be chairman.

SIXTY TOWNS PETITION FOR LIQUID GAS SERVICE

Sixty California towns have made application to the State Railroad Commission for liquefied natural-gas service, Claude C. Brown, gas administrator for the commission, said yesterday.

"This new service, if it proves feasible and economical and if it can be rendered at reasonable rates," said Administrator Brown, "will do much to bring some of the advantages of the larger cities to the smaller, isolated communities."

Brown explained that all of the towns have been without gas service of any kind, either of artificial gas or of natural gas, and that the utilities appearing in the applications claim that they will be able to serve the liquefied natural gas at reasonable rates.

Liquefied gas is shipped in tank cars or trucks. It is kept under pressure in the liquid state and is gasified by allowing the pressure to fall through a vaporizer.

directors and special committees also are slated for presentation.

An address on "Children's Symphonies" by Wheeler Beckett of San Francisco, who directs the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra in a series of programs for juvenile audiences, will be a feature of the afternoon session.

WELCOMING LUNCHEON

A welcoming luncheon at the hotel is to be presided over by Tindall. A reception at night to officers, delegates and guests of honor at the Hollywood Woman's Club by the Hollywood Opera Reading Club and its president, Mrs. Louis H. Jacques, will complete the first full day of activities.

Election of State officers is scheduled for tomorrow. Among other highlights for tomorrow there will be a round-table luncheon at the First Methodist Church of Hollywood, attendance at the weekly community sing of Hollywood, on invitation of Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, president of the organization, and the past presidents' frolic in the main dining-room of the Roosevelt Hotel afterward.

Chinese Start Forced Journey Back to Orient

Sixty-one alien Chinese, ordered deported to China, were on their way yesterday for San Francisco to board a steamer for the Orient. The party left Los Angeles yesterday on the steamer Emma Alexander. One was sent from Los Angeles, eight from San Diego; twenty-two from the Santa Ana County Jail; twenty from the San Bernardino County Jail and ten from Riverside.

The party is in charge of Immigration Inspector Dunn.

CENTENARIAN FILLS OUT OWN CENSUS REPORT

SANTA ANA, April 20. — When "Father Abraham" called for volunteers to defend the Union, Frederick Williams answered the call as his patriotic duty and in the prime of life entered the Union forces. Today, still motivated by patriotic duty, he filled out a census blank and, despite his 102 years, took it down to Census Supervisor Stanley Goode so that he might be counted among Uncle Sam's children. At the census headquarters, it was confirmed that Williams had turned in his blank properly filled out. He lives at 502 West Fifth street, and cooks his own meals.

Williams, believed to be the oldest man in Orange county, explained that he kept his health by abstaining from liquor, coffee, tea, and tobacco and by maintaining an uncompromisingly misogynic attitude.

Commenting on the fact that he had never married, he remarked: "No woman ever got me, and none ever will. I don't like 'em."

He can't tolerate radios, either, he said.

Williams is debating whether he should make a trip to Egypt, although his friends have advised against it. He believes he has a number of years left before him, inasmuch as his father and mother both lived to be 112.

Williams was a staunch admirer of Henry Clay.

CHINESE WANT NOTHING TO DO WITH "BOOK AGENTS"

ALHAMBRA, April 20. (Exclusive) An enumerator of the Alhambra census district, according to Field Representative E. M. Dighton, reported that a small colony of Chinese had refused to answer any questions or to have anything to do with the census men. Police assistance was requested and proclamations were tried, but even literature in their own language failed to have any effect.

Finally an interpreter was called in. The questions were answered without any hesitation.

"What was the trouble?" asked the enumerator.

"Nothing," said the interpreter. "They just thought you were book agents."

Glider Tangles in Power Line

Fouling on high-tension electric wires as it crossed Beverly Boulevard near Santa Monica, a glider yesterday caused a short circuit that threatened the life of the pilot, called out the fire department and provided a pyrotechnical display for hundreds of holiday motorists. The pilot, Dick Smith, escaped miraculously by climbing from the cabin, sliding down the dangling tail and dropping eighteen feet to the ground.

Smith took off in the glider, a product of the Bowlus factory, from a high knoll above Santa Ynez Canyon. Unfavorable winds robbed him of the altitude required to clear Beverly Boulevard, with the resulting tangle in the wires. Engine Company No. 59 from Pacific Palisades arrived as the power department shut off the current and saved the glider from destruction. Smith says the craft can be repaired.

ACTOR'S ABANDONED SNAPSHOT RETURNED

Lucien Littlefield, film comedian, has received from France a snapshot which he had abandoned with some personal effects twelve years ago when Germans bombarded Bois de Belleu. Littlefield was serving in the American ambulance service when he had to abandon his effects. The picture was found by a French soldier, Henri Diderot, now a resident of Berlin. Diderot sent the letter to Littlefield at First National Studios, writing that he recently viewed a screen play in which he recognized the original of the snapshot.

Kay Marsh and Katherine De Mille are one and the same person in Hollywood. In private life Katherine De Mille is the daughter of Cecil B. De Mille, president of the Association of Motion Picture Producers and producer-director at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. In films she is Kay Marsh. Miss De Mille graduated last year from an exclusive Santa Barbara private school and more recently attended a dramatic school with a career in acting in view.

"PEG O' MY HEART" TO BE REVIVED TOMORROW

J. Hartley Manners's famous stage success, "Peg o' My Heart," will be revived for Angelenos when Carlisle Tupper, formerly with Maurice Brown productions, will present it in the form of a dramatic recital tomorrow in the May Company Exposition Hall at 2 p.m. The dramatic recital of "The Whispering Boy" scheduled to be given Wednesday by Mrs. James Van Arsdale, prominent recitalist, in the May Company Exposition Hall, has been postponed indefinitely in order to permit the preparation of special stage settings in keeping with the importance of Mrs. Van Arsdale's production. Announcement of the exact date of her recital will be made shortly.

COURT CLERKS WILL HOLD BANQUET AT INN

Former and present clerks of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county will hold their third annual banquet in the New Paris Inn, Market and Los Angeles streets, at 6 p.m. today. E. E. Ekkdale is program chairman.

Kamp Case Will Continue Today

Taking of testimony in the contested divorce suit of Jacob Kamp, wealthy Los Angeles builder and contractor, and his wife, Mrs. Lillian Kamp, which began last week, will be resumed at 9:45 a.m. today before Superior Judge Tryon.

When court took a recess Friday afternoon Kamp was in the midst of testimony relative to the couple's community property asserted to be valued at $194,000.

Kamp accuses his wife of cruelty, asserting that she frequently, during the thirty-one years of their married life, called him a nit-wit and half a man. In her cross-complaint the wife asserts that her husband forced her to make property settlements against her will.

Kamp is represented in court by Attorney Lester Roth. Attorney John M. Dvorin is counsel for the wife.

JUDGES TO SPEAK

Superior Judge Hardy and Municipal Judge Baird will be the speakers Wednesday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Square Deal Republican League, it was announced yesterday by the entertainment committee.

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Miss Jane Plumb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Plub, will become the bride of Graeme Stewart Doane, son of Dr. and Mrs. Philip Schuyler Doane of Oak Knoll Center this evening at 8:30 o'clock. The ceremony, with Rev. C. Rankin Barnes officiating, will be conducted in St. James Church, South Pasadena, with relatives and friends in attendance.

Miss Plumb has selected Mrs. Miler Hubbard (Helen Stewart Doane,) sister of the bridegroom, to assist as matron of honor, other attendants including Miss Phylis Doane, Miss Helen Hillman, Miss Jane Lord and Mrs. Frank Darling. Preston Plumb, Jr., will serve as best man and Edward Plumb, Austin Jones, Jerome Holland Bishop and Miles Hubbard are to usher.

A reception for the bridal party, relatives and a very few close friends at the home of the bride's parents, 2041 Ashburton Drive, will follow the ceremony. After a motor honeymoon trip through the north Mr. Doane will take his bride to make their future home in San Francisco.

Numerous affairs have been given in honor of the bride-elect since the announcement of her engagement several weeks ago. Among the very recent hostesses was Miss Hillman, one of the bridal entourage, who entertained Friday afternoon with a luncheon and miscellaneous shower at the Wilshire Country Clubhouse.

A green and silver color scheme featured the clubhouse decorations. Unique place cards marked the covers for Miss Plumb, Mrs. Preston Plumb, Mrs. Harry Hillman, Mrs. George Coffin, Mrs. Robert Jahns, Miss Jane Lord, Mrs. Paul McDonald, Mrs. Kemper Smith, Mrs. Harriet Darling, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. James Jones and the hostess.

Wedding in Italy

Another wedding of the day of more than usual interest here as well as in San Francisco is that of Miss Louise Winston and Sig. Vittorio Riviara, scheduled to take place at the villa of Capt. and Mrs. Randolph Huntington Minor, cousins of the bride, at Santa Margherita, Italy. A reception and wedding breakfast will follow the ceremony.

Miss Winston, who has been studying in Europe for the past six years, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Winston, and since her parents' death, has made her home with her aunt and uncle, Miss Louisa Bradbury and Lewis Bradbury in Duarte, until she left for abroad. Another aunt, Miss Carrie Winston, and Miss Rosario Winston left with Miss Bradbury for New York March 27, last, sailing the 31st, aboard the Berengaria for Italy to attend the wedding. Miss Winston was graduated from the Convent of the Sacred Heart of Menlo Park.

Sig. Rivaria, a member of one of the old families of Italy, has a villa on the Italian Riviera where he and his bride will make their future home. During her stay abroad Miss Winston has passed a great deal of her time visiting with her cousins, Capt. and Mrs. Minor, both at their home in Paris as well as Villa Margherita in Italy.

Gone East

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allen Phillips of Berkeley Square and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parsons left last week for an extended trip to New York, where they will visit for several weeks.

Felicitations

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Munger Eaton of Stanley avenue are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter, born Thursday morning at the California Lutheran Hospital. Mrs. Eaton will be remembered as Miss Genevieve Henneberger. The maternal gradparents of the little newcomer are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Henneberger, while her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Eaton of Los Feliz Heights.

Dinner-Dance

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mortimer Davis of Hancock Park entertained at the Jonathan Club last week with an elaborate dinner-dance honoring Judge and Mrs. E. D. Reiter, whose wedding was an event of recent date.

Spring flowers and silver were combined in the decorations of the table and rooms of the clubhouse and among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tevis Braithwaite, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Reidsman, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Van Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Leon R. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. David Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gans, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Swift, Senator and Mrs. Stransky.

House Party

A house party was given during the Easter week holidays by Cadet Wesley Loverin of Urban Military Academy, a number of fellow-students being his guests at his home near Sequoia National Park, the site of Urban Academy summer camp. Capt. Edward Fuller of the academy faculty accompanied the boys and will conduct the games and lion hunt in which Mr. Loverin's pack of hounds will be utilized.

Among those included in the outing are Cadets Roger Williams, Enrique Astiazaron, Robert Berry and Theodore Stemple, all returning to Urban after their week of vacation.

Church Wedding

The marriage of Miss Ethel Natalie Beck, daughter of Mrs. J. T. Beck of Marathan street, to James W. Cooper was solemnized last Wednesday, the ceremony taking place in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Glendale, with Dr. James Hamilton Lash officiating.

The bride wore an ensemble of yellow chiffon with small hat of yellow lace and carried yellow roses and white sweet peas. Mrs. Ethel Saunders, in pale blue chiffon with hat of lace to match, was matron of honor. Miss Ethel Cooper, in jade green chiffon, and Miss Etheo Stuart, in peach chiffon, were bridesmaids. All carried arm showers of white sweet peas. Little Emma Jean Bird, in pale blue with an armful of pink rose buds, was the flower girl.

Dr. Charles W. Dean gave his niece in marriage. Roy Cecil Herrick served as best man and A. L. Joel, Harry M. Clark, James Saunders and Edward Saunders ushered.

Lenore Powell Herrick presided at the organ and played the wedding music. Catherine Jackson, harpist, gave a program of old love songs as the guests were assembling.

The bride formerly made her home in Montgomery, Ala.

After their return from the wedding trip to San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will make their home in West Hollywood.

VALUE OF JELLIES AND JAMS OFTEN OVERLOOKED

They Make Balanced Meals More Appealing to the Appetite

The continuous appearance of fresh fruit in the markets during the summer season gives every housewife the opportunity to put up those which appeal to her family at a most reasonable cost. However, if it is not convenient to do preserving at home, there is always a delicious variety offered in grocery stores everywhere.

Jellies, jams and canned fruits, whether put up at home or purchased, should be included in the diet. Their flavor appeals to the appetite and their fruit content is healthful.

Aside from eating jelly or jam with bread or toast, they are a delicious accompaniment for roast meats. And a spoonful used to top rice or bread puddings makes these nourishing desserts more taste-appealing. Of course, canned fruits by themselves, are a most appropriate dessert for young and old.

As sugar plays an important part in preserving, so can it be equally essential in the preparation of every-day meals. Sugar when used to season canned or fresh vegetables improves their flavor, thereby making them more enjoyable to the taste. Doctors and dietitians approve this use of sugar as a flavor. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

SURPRISE MARKS BIRTHDAY

Parents Give Daughter Dinner Dance

[Ray Huff studios]

Miss Elizabeth McCollum

One of the affairs of recent date was a surprise dinner-dance with which Dr. and Mrs. B. B. McCollum entertained in honor of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth McCollum on her birthday anniversary. Decorations carried out a spring-time motif. Those included were Misses Esther Sparks, Joyce Lowry, Helen Herron, Margaret Ann Kendall, Patricia Van Trees, Jewel Romano, Gertrude Antink, Elizabeth Xhequer, Roberta Persinger, Kathryn Schell, Marian Ferris, Jessamine McCollum, Kathryn Keeler, Eugenia Van Clece, Jane Harris, Nancy Ulmer and their escorts, Dana Johnson, Wiley Lowrey, Wesley Wilson, Bill Herron, Alfred Day, George Badger, Paul Butler, Elton Woolpert, Richard Justice, John Roe, Jack Nutt, Dan McKinnan, Albert Harris, Wilton Main, Charles Off, Arthur Hurt, Wallace Worsley and the honor-guest.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

BELCHING AND GASTRITIS

Many patients complaint of belching large quantities of gas from the stomach. Sometimes this occurs after eating, and in some cases when the stomach becomes empty. This is especially likely to occur in nervous patients who watch their symptoms closely.

In many cases the belching of air after a meal does not indicate any serious condition, as it is natural for most people to swallow a small amount of air when eating, especially with foods of a rather porous nature. Often, too, the mixture of foods used may produce some gas in the stomach.

When I first began to examine patients under the fluoroscope of the X-ray, I was surprised to see in many cases that the patient actually began to belch when there was no gas present in the stomach, and after belching for a few minutes, a large quantity of gas was shown in the stomach. Whenever these nervous patients feel solid substances in the stomach, they feel uncomfortable and go through an elaborate system of belching, evidently for the purpose of getting rid of the gas, but the X-ray shows that while they are endeavoring to belch, they are really swallowing air each time until the stomach contains quite a large amount.

When patients endeavor to relieve the gas pressure in the stomach they often resort to the use of soda. The soda combines with the hydrocholiric acid of the stomach and releases large quantities of carbon-dioxide which may in turn be belched up, giving the patient in turn the impression that the soda is relieving the stomach of large quantities of gas when it is in fact producing more. The relief which occurs after the use of soda is because the soda neutralizes the hydrochloric acid, and in those cases where distress is felt, there will practically always be found an inflammation of the stomach which is irritated still more by the hydrochloric acid.

Belching may also be caused by a return of some of the alkaline contents of the small intestines back into the stomach. When the alkaline secretions of the intestines mix with the acid secretions of the stomach, gas is usually formed. This is most likely to occur with those who are suffering with some form of liver or gall bladder trouble. The cure of belching in these cases depends upon the cure of the real cause.

By far the greater number of cases of belching are of the nervous type, however, and patients who are affected in this way must make conscientious effort to understand the condition and control the nervous impulse to belch.

Patients who feel distress in the stomach and gas will practically always be found to have stomach inflammation or gastritis and the best treatment for a permanent cure seems to be to use only a liquid diet until the inflammation has subsided. The milk diet serves well for this purpose, as the milk and cream seem to form a sort of salve on the inflamed lining of the stomach. I will be glad to send the instructions for taking the milk diet to anyone who is interested who will write to me in care of this paper and inclose a large self-addressed envelope.

Where there is an inflammation of the stomach, anything that produces an added irritation may cause this belching desire. Among the more frequent causes are ice water and cold foods, fibrous vegetables, and the acid fruits. This occurs as long as the inflammation exists, even though fruits and vegetables are wholesome foods.

In tomorrow's article I will explain some of the common causes of flatulence.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, April 20. (Exclusive) The reawakening year calls you to buy a new wardrobe. The revivified wardrobe demands new accessories. And the fashion itself this year calls for a greater variety of those enchanting things which make or unmake a costume as surely as the dress itself. Femininity has brought in its wake all sorts of charming customs, which we had feared were gone for all time. For example, the fan is back. There is nothing more graceful in itself and in its enhancement of hands. These are not the stiff, formalized fans of quills which we have seen in past seasons, but the ostrich cascades of a century past. I saw a magnificent one of seven plumes, the two outer ones uncurled so that they dripped long, five inner ones curled. The plumes themselves were alternately white and pale lavender, the sticks of a transparent composition, yellowish, were perfectly simple.

Bigger and Brighter Handkerchiefs

The line between scarfs and handkerchiefs is increasingly hard to distinguish. Enormous chiffon kerchiefs for evening may be worn knotted about the shoulders. In a Vionnet dress the kerchief, in the color of the evening dress, is worn tied loosely around the neck to hang in front like a cowl. If you are not fond of lace for the evening, a solid color center is often bordered with a wide, as much as two-inch, double hem of white or a contrasting shade. This is particularly appropriate for the informal dinner dress. If you choose to have the "little dressmaker" of your choice make your chiffon summer frocks, have her make a matching scarf-kerchief, picoting the edges or adding a hem of one of the colors of the print. Daytime ones have evinced the same tendency as to size. Very fine linen, as thin as batiste, does not become unduly bulky when used in a large square, its edge hand-rolled, and such handkerchiefs are printed the nicest of pastel shades.

Pearls of Great Size

Evening jewelry seems to have caught the spirit of growth that has pervaded the kerchief field. I saw, a few days ago, a necklace imported from Paris which had in the center of the front, eight or ten of the biggest imitation pearls I have ever seen. They were graded and literally were the size of the strings of graduated pearl perfume bottles that we are all familiar with. These were a freak, certainly very few women in the world could wear them, but they were entertaining and truly stunning and they do signify a trend. Great ropes of crystal, the rose crystal is one of the most becoming things I have seen as it is used in an exotic Lelong string, and chokers of indescribable tinsel-effect compositions look delicious enough to eat.

Crystal is, of course, no longer news, but its popularity seems to be growing all the time as it is more and more subtly used. It is carved and frosted and sometimes looks like white jade. It is one of the most adaptable materials ever devised for costume jewelry. Coral, resurrect your grandmother's lovely sets, or buy the fascinating modern ones, is startlingly effective with black, and lovely with a print that includes a coral shade. Seed pearls in flat little bracelets with jeweled clasps are very young, but they are frail, so proceed gently with them.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Sure Cleaner

Kerosene and warm water will clean woodwork and hardwood floors beautifully no matter how dirty they may be.

In the Spring

When you get out the garden hose this spring and find it has a few tiny leaks in it, try painting it on the outside with pliable roofing paint and see if it won't last this season anyway.

In Readiness

If you do a great deal of preserving and jelly making you will enjoy a 10-cent pan to be used for melting paraffin. As the jelly is used wash the paraffin cover and place it in the saucepan for future use. When needed the pan is put on the stove and enough melted to cover the jelly just completed.

Keeps White

If last year's white silk dress is too soiled to be worn without laundering when you wash it dissolve a teapoonful of powdered borax in enough cold water to cover the article and let it soak for an hour. Then wash in the usual lukewarm water and white suds and your silk will not turn yellow. Always avoid extreme heat in water or iron when laundering silks of all sorts.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR

It sounds absurd, yet it is clear,
We may be far and yet be near.
—Mrs. Quack.

While he was there he went poking about, this way and that way

Mrs. Quack had fooled Unc' Billy Possum very nicely that night when he had discovered her in the Smiling Pool. She had slipped away into the blackest of the black shadows, where the Laughing Brook leaves the Smiling Pool, and had hidden between two tussocks of grass. She had guessed that Unc' Billy would take it for granted that her nest was in that direction. You know, that is just what Unc' Billy had done and had gone off down the Laughing Brook, looking for Mrs. Quack and her nest. Meanwhile Mrs. Quack had crossed the Smiling Pool and gone to her nest in the little swamp on the other side.

Mrs. Quack chuckled as she settled herself on those beautiful eggs. When she had left them to go get something to eat, she had carefully covered them with the soft feathers with which her nest was lined—feathers she had pulled from her own breast. Now she had carefully uncovered them before settling herself on them.

Though she was chuckling, Mrs. Quack was somewhat worried. Yes, sir, she was somewhat worried. "As if there were not enough enemies around here without Unc' Billy Possum taking it into his head to come down here," said she. "That old rascal loves eggs and now that he has seen me, he won't be able to get eggs out of his head. He'll think eggs and dream eggs and spend a good part of his time hunting for eggs. That is what he is doing right now. I know it just as well as if I were down there watching him. Well, I just fooled him once and I guess I can fool him again when he comes around; for come around he will. He'll come up this way on his way back to the Green Forest."

Mrs. Quack was quite right. It was along about dusk of the next evening that Unc' Billy reached that little swamp. It had been too light for him to wait over there on the bank of the Smiling Pool for Mrs. Quack to come and get her dinner; so he had decided to hide in that little swamp until it got darker. While he was there he went poking about this way and that way. It is a habit with Unc' Billy Possum to poke about this way and that way. He finds many things to eat just poking about. You see, Unc' Billy isn't very particular about what he puts in his stomach. Anything that is not too large and that can walk, hop, fly, swim, jump, crawl or wiggle suits Unc' Billy Possum.

Unc' Billy had caught and eaten a young water snake on the bank of the Laughing Brook and was looking for another when he heard light footsteps approaching. He guessed that Reddy Fox was not far away and Unc' Billy promptly took to the nearest tree. Now, it just happened that that tree was very near another tree, a branch of which was above the very place where Mrs. Quack and her nest were hidden under the broad leaf of a skunk cabbage plant. Having climbed the tree, Unc' Billy remained there a while. Then, instead of going down the trunk of that tree, he crossed over squirrel fashion to the next tree, using branches of the two trees as a bridge. In the same way he crossed a third tree, and in doing this he passed right above Mrs. Quack.

How surprised Unc' Billy would have been could he have known that he was so near to Mrs. Quack and those eggs he so desired. But not knowing it he might just as well have been a long, long distance away. He was so near and yet, for lack of knowledge, so far. Mrs. Quack saw him when he crossed. Perhaps you can guess how she felt.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

MOCHA CAKE

Beat the yolks of four eggs to a cream, and beat into them, a half a cupful of sifted sugar, and beat for two minutes. Sift one-half a cupful of flour with half a cupful of cornstarch, and one level teaspoonful of baking powder, and beat into the egg and sugar mixture. Add half a teaspoonful of vanilla and two tablespoonfuls of strong, black coffee. Then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the four eggs, pour into oiled and floured layer cake tins, and bake in a moderate oven, place on a wire rack to cool, and fill with the coffee cream. Cover with a coffee icing, sprinkled with grated cocoanut.

COFFEE CREAM

Sift together one-half a cupful of flour, one-half a cupful of sugar, and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, stir into this, one and one-half cupfuls of strong black coffee. Place in a double boiler and stir and cook until thick and smooth. Add two well-beaten eggs, stir and cook for two minutes longer, do not boil, add one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, cool, and use.

COFFEE ICING

Beat the white of one egg to a stiff froth, and gradually beat into it one and one-half cupfuls of sifted XXXX sugar, two tablespoonfuls of strong black coffee and one tablespoonful of melted butter.

VEAL HEARTS, MEXICAN

Take one cupful of fine dry bread crumbs and mix with it one-third of a cupful of finely chopped salt pork, one-third of a cupful of finely chopped celery, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, and one-third of a cupful of finely chopped onion, and place in a saucepan, three tablespoonfuls of chopped fresh pork fat, and cook until lightly browned, skim out the pieces of fat, add one chopped stalk of celery, four slices of carrot, half of a bay leaf, one tablespoonful of parsley, two whole cloves and six peppercorns. Stuff the veal hearts with the cracker-crumb mixture. Tie them tightly, roll in flour, that has been seasoned with salt, paprika and brown them in the fat and vegetables. Lift out, place in a casserole dish, add to the fat and the vegetables, two cupfuls of tomato puree, one chopped onion, one chopped pepper, one chopped pimiento, one cupful of water and one tablespoonful of Spanish seasoning. Bring the mixture to a boil, pour over the hearts, cover the casserole and bake slowly for one and one-half hours. Lift out the heat onto a hot platter and pour around it the sauce.

NIGHTLY TRIPS TO BATHROOM CAN BE MADE PLEASANT

Making it easy for a child to get up in the night to help him keep his bed dry has been discussed several times through this department. We have suggested that a flashlight be given the child so that going to the bathroom won't be such a dark, spooky business. This has worked well with some children who get enough excitement out of flashing on the light at night to make them forget the other disagreeable duty. Mrs. H. writes in to make another suggestion about this and says:

"I have read where it is helpful to give a child a flashlight to put in his pajama pocket or under his pillow so that it will be handy at night when he needs it. The flashlight under the pillow is apt to slip out of place and in the pocket the child might be sleeping on the hard bump all night. I worked it this way. The light in the children's room is from the center and pulls on with a chain. I tied a string to the light chain and tied the other end to the bedpost within reach of her hand. I tied it tightly enough so that a slight pull would turn on the light. We called it a fairy light that waked up little tots to get out of bed and so keep warm and dry.

DISLODGING FOREIGN PARTICLES FROM NOSE

"I also want to tell you about a method recommended by a doctor for dislodging particles from a child's nose. A neighbor's son pushed a small screw up his nose and when she called the doctor he said: 'Don't wait for me to come—make the child open his mouth, put your mouth to it and blow your breath as hard as you can.' BEN-HUR DRIP COFFEE

Are YOU enjoying this Permanent COFFEE SATISFACTION!

NOTE what people say who are experiencing permanent coffee satisfaction. The following are but a few excerpts from many thousands of letters received by us.

"Not until I started using BEN-HUR Drip Coffee was it possible to get coffee satisfaction; and any true lover of good coffee realizes the full meaning of such a statement." A. Pohlman, 1515 S. 3rd St., Alhambra, Calif.

"When a neighbor informed me she had used Ben-Hur Coffee with the drip method of making for a long time, and that her family was unanimous in declaring it superior to any they had ever used, I tried it and found that Ben-Hur Coffee, made by the drip method, retains the true bouquet and fine taste with absolutely no harmful after effects." Frank Willey, 2440 East Seventh Street, Long Beach, California.

"—I believe we were among the first to purchase one of your healthful coffee-makers; and we certainly have not used anything but Ben-Hur Drip Coffee since its first appearance on the market." E. Lilly Cramer, 6747 4th Avenue, Los Angeles.

"I bought my first can of Ben-Hur Drip Coffee more than a year ago. And Ben-Hur still has a place in my cupboard and always will be the favorite with my family." Mrs. Maud Thomas, 259½ West 42nd Place, Los Angeles.

PLANT OF FORD TO OPEN TODAY

Civic Leaders Will Attend Long Beach Fete

Luncheon and Inspection of Factory Scheduled

Arrival of First Ship to be Signal for Noise

LONG BEACH, April 20.—Civic and business leaders of Southern California will join today with hundreds of other representative citizens in the formal opening of the new Ford assembly plant at Long Beach Harbor. The celebration will start at noon with a luncheon and continue the remainder of the day at the plant.

Six hundred prominent men of the Southland and some from a distance are expected at the luncheon to be held at the Pacific Coast Club in Long Beach. Among those on the speakers' list are Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Mayor Porter of Los Angeles, Mayor Hauge of Long Beach, F. W. Robinson of Omaha, vice-president in charge of traffic for the Union Pacific Railway; Don C. Fohl, president of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, and L. C. Mott, president of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce. John C. Austin, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will be toastmaster.

WILL GREET SHIP

After luncheon the guests will be taken to the assembly plant to witness the arrival of the Ford steamship Oneida, bringing the first cargo of Fort parts from the Ford factory at Chester, Pa. The ship's appearance will be the signal for a noisy welcome from the whistles and bells on other harbor craft and industrial plants in that district.

The visitors will inspect the dock and warehouse and will see how the ships are unloaded directly into the warehouse. Later they will inspect the assembly plant while it is in full operation, turning out cars at the rate of 300 daily.

BROADCAST EVENT

Many thousands will listen to a word picture of the events which will be broadcast by radio. Motion pictures will be taken.

As the plant is located opposite Terminal Island on the Union Pacific industrial tract, officials of that company are much interested. In addition to Vice-President Robinson, others who will be present representing the railroad are W. S. Bassinger, traffic manager, of Omaha; F. H. Knickerbocker, general manager, and R. B. Robinson, assistant traffic manager of Los Angeles.

The Long Beach plant is the newest of thirty-five Ford assembly plants throughout the United Sates. There also are eight in Canada, ten in Europe, others in Australia, Mexico, Cuba, South America, Japan and China. In this array of assembly plants there is 100 per cent interchangeability of parts.

HUGE BUILDING

The plant occupies forty acres. The main building, one story high is 920 feet long by 387 feet wide, with floor space of 362,266 square feet. The dock is 500 feet long, having a space for 35,961 square feet.

Two ships can berth alongside at one time. All unloading will be done by two ten-ton cranes directly from the ships into the warehouse where the parts will be handled by six five-ton overhead traveling cranes. The warehouse is 440 feet by 86 feet, two stories high and has 61,600 feet of floor space.

FIVE-DAY WEEK

At the plant approximately 7500 carloads of automobile parts, paints, oil and other materials used in making cars, will be used yearly. Freight charges in parts shipped in and finished cars shipped out will amount to about $5,000,000 yearly, officials stated. The employees numbering about 2200 work five days weekly under the Ford plan and the minimum wage is $7 a day.

The plant is served by three railroad tracks with a capacity of sixty freight cars. Ships will arrive from the East with material every two weeks, the journey via the Panama Canal requiring about twenty-two days.

The main assembly line in the plant is 360 feet long and has a speed of 105 inches per minute. A car is completely assembled in sixty-one minutes. The assembly line capacity is forty-seven cars and 370 can be completed in eight hours.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

Beginning tomorrow open house will be observed and the public is invited to inspect the plant while in full operation. Guides will conduct all throughout the building and explain every operation. The visiting hours are from 1 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 6 to 10 o'clock in the evening, including Saturday.

The company will show a full line of Ford cars and a special exhibition of Lincoln cars will be seen. Many of these will be equipped with custom bodies representing the finest coachwork in motordom, it was stated.

CITY FUNDS GREATEST IN HISTORY

San Diego Treasury Never So Full as at Present; Total $9,126,488.82

SAN DIEGO, April 20.—San Diego's city treasury is filled almost to the bursting point with the greatest amount of cash and negotiable securities it has held in the history of the city, it was announced today on completion of the annual check-up by the city auditing committee. A total of $9,126,488.82 was found in the treasury in the check-up, which was made by Mayor Clark, Auditor C. K. Strout, Deputy Auditor G. F. Waterbury and Deputy City Attorney Harry S. Clark.

When the auditing committee completed its check-up it signed a statement declaring that the city treasury, which is under the direction of Treasurer Jack Millan, checked and balanced to the penny. The audit showed that the treasury has in cash and deposits in local banks $4,031,365.91. In addition there are $4,579,500 in bonds held as security for city deposits. Bonds purchased for investment for the police, fire department and city employees' pension and retirement funds total $515,622.91, making a grand total of $9,126,488.82.

The check shows that the special trust funds, such as the fire, police and employees' funds and the cemetery fund are growing each year, the amounts now on hand being the largest ever held.

The city's huge treasury balance, however, is not available for general municipal purposes. The trust funds have their special uses and a considerable portion of the money on hand was realized from bond sales.

Family Out of Burning Home; Sacrifice Vain

LONG BEACH, April 20.—Bravely entering a burning dwelling where he believed the lives of his wife and children were endangered, L. U. Whitson, 34 years of age, 6254 Cherry avenue, this afternoon received burns which may cost him his life.

Leaving his home for a few minutes to go to a grocery store, he returned to see the house enveloped in flames. Believing the family were inside he rushed to their rescue. He was trapped by flames in the bathroom, however, but managed to break a window and get partly out where he was rescued by firemen.

He was taken to the Community Hospital where it was said by doctors that second and third-degree burns about the head, face and throat would probably cause his death. The family had escaped before he returned. The origin of the fire is attributed to a gas explosion.

VALLEY POOL TO REOPEN

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, April 20. According to announcement made here by C. P. Nichols of the Los Angeles playground department, the North Hollywood Park plunge will reopen on May 1. Scores of San Fernando Valley boys and girls who have been waiting for the pool to resume activities will receive the announcement with joy.

ROMANTIC AREA DEVELOPED

Huge Acreage at Base of Palomar Mountain to Be Made Into Avocado and Citrus Groves Soon

SAN DIEGO, April 20.—Development of more than 800 acres of rolling land at the base of Palomar Mountain was begun last week by a group of Long Beach men who plan to prepare the area for avocado and citrus groves. Already fifty acres have been placed in readiness for tree planting, and plans are being made to speed clearing, cultivation and irrigation, so that all land will be bearing crops within the shortest possible time.

The new development is twenty-five miles from the historic Mission San Luis Rey, and six miles from the village of Pala, founded 114 years ago by the Franciscan padres. It is a land of romance made famous by Peter B. Kyne in his book, "The Pride of Palomar."

None of the California missions has so closely clung to its old-time picturesqueness as has Palomar, which today, as it was in the days when the monks were pushing their way northward through the State, has an Indian village close by tenanted by aborigines evicted from the Warner ranch.

HIGH SCHOOL COACH RESIGNS HIS POSITION

ALHAMBRA, April 20.—Claude L. Turley, coach and gymnasium instructor at Alhambra High School, has resigned, effective at the close of the school year. Turley developed a boys' gym club while here, coached track and swimming, and was assistant football coach. He is an Occidental College graduate and served in the Marine Corps during the war. He came to A.H.S. in the fall of 1928.

OLD SPANISH DAYS COMING

Santa Barbara Sets Dates in August for Its Seventh Annual Fiesta of Romantic Alta California

SANTA BARBARA, April 20.—Santa Barbara will hold its seventh annual "Old Spanish Days Fiesta" August 7, 8 and 9. On the 6th, however, the Fiesta will really begin, when at twilight the mission bells will ring and the fathers will come forth from the church to welcome visitors and bid them join in the festivities—just as they did in the old days.

The Fiesta, so eloquently portraying the romantic days of old Santa Barbara, its struggles, its triumphs, its sadness and its gayeties, is free from any thought of commercialism. It is a celebration conceived by altruistic citizens who have a true reverence for the history of early California.

It is marvelous to note how citizens and visitors alike enter into the merry mood of the Fiesta and respond to its romantic appeal. Everyone dons Spanish costume and participates in the songs, dances and pageants, or in some way becomes a part of the brilliant picture. Every hour of the three days has its own special program. The parade of the first day, which incidentally is growing larger each year, shows episodes in Santa Barbara's history from the time the Chumash Indians lived in this part of the country, to the present day.

Floats and marchers will depict Indian scenes; the landing of Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, the discoverer of Alta California, and who entered Santa Barbara Harbor October 14, 1542. It will portray such highlights in Santa Barbara's history as the coming of the English navigator, Francis Drake; the arrival of Gov. Gaspar De Portola, who with his famous aides and soldiers camped near the site of the present Courthouse; the founding of the Presidio April 12, 1782, by Father Junipero Serra; the founding of the Mission on December 4, 1786; episodes will show the gay social life at the old De La Guerra house and the coming of Col. John C. Fremont and his soldiers in 1846. All these and many more.

The tableaux and episodes describing the pioneer days with their miners, cowboys, trappers, old stage coaches and emigrant wagons will be vivid reminders of the old days.

During the Fiesta numerous clubs keep open house; receptions and teas are given everywhere. Historic plays are performed at the beautiful Lobero Theater and Peabody Stadium. Garden tours, affording visitors an opportunity to stroll through gorgeous Montecito estates seldom opened to the public, are arranged.

There is also a local regatta in which the sailing and motor craft in the harbor take part.

These events and many, many more, together with other things of interest that usually intrigue the visitor to Santa Barbara, make the Old Spanish Days Fiesta an occasion that will always live in the visitor's memory, it is declared here.

HEARINGS ON SUITS TO BE HEARD TODAY

VENTURA, April 20.—Fifteen of the suits brought against the Southern California Edison Company for the Sulphur Mountain fire of last September 16, which total more than $250,000, will have hearings in Superior Court here Monday on demurrers, motions to strike out portions of the allegations in the complaints, and their procedures. Further hearing to consolidate the fifteen actions into one will be heard. Last Monday the defense objected to this while the plaintiffs favored consolidating the claims into three groups, oil field damages, timber losses and general claims. The cases have been set for trial on May 6.

Move Made to Return Freytag to Former Job

PASADENA, April 20. — Efforts to restore Frank Freytag, Jr., to his former position of Police Court clerk, as the result of his being found not guilty on charges of appropriating bail funds, are being fostered by the East Pasadena Business Men's Association, it was learned here.

Motion to petition City Manager R. V. Orbison to put Freytag's name back on the city pay roll was made by E. P. Lutes and seconded. The motion will be voted upon by business men at their regular meeting this week.

Freytag has maintained his complete innocence since his arrest and now that he has been found innocent by a jury in Superior Court, he feels that he deserves formal vindication.

Youth Claims Hitch-Hike Mark

ALHAMBRA, April 20.—Claiming the world's record for hitch-hiking, Irving Kenneth Brushel, 18 years of age, set out yesterday in an effort to beat his own time on a hitch-hiking trip from Alhambra to New York. The youth arrived here in February from that city, having crossed the continent in seven days with an expenditure of $4.85.

Brushel's home is in West Virginia. He has been staying with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Graver of 1617 South Raymond avenue. His trip westward was made over the southern route. He secured only nine rides, two of which carried him more than 750 miles each. He is going back by the way of Kansas City and the northern States.

SITE PICKED FOR POSTOFFICE

Government Authorizes Deal for Purchase of Lot in Long Beach

LONG BEACH, April 20.—The way has been paved for the building of a new postoffice here, it was stated yesterday by Asst. U. S. Atty. Parker, who has received authorization from the Attorney General for the purchase of property adjacent to the present postoffice site. The property to be bought by the government fronts on American avenue, between Almo Court and the present postoffice building.

The purchase is to be made within a few days, it was stated, the price to be $105,000. The purchase has been held up for some time by a legal technicality.

PRINCIPALS IN RAMONA PLAY TOLD

Citizens of Hemet and San Jacinto to Support Leads in Colorful Pageant

HEMET, April 20. — Entire cast of principals who will re-enact episodes in the lives of their ancestors in the colorful Ramona Pageant, opening on Saturday afternoon at Hemet, was announced in advices received today from Phil Whiting, the director.

Presenting the title role for the seventh consecutive year, will be Dorise Schukow, with Herbert Heyes to portray the part of the hero, Alessandro. Edward Poorman, president and manager of the pageant association, will portray the part of Juan Canito, the old overseer, for the eighth year.

Those in important dramatic roles also include Adelaide Clarke, Senora Moreno; Nancy Miller, Marda; Frank D. Felt, Father Salvadiera; Archie O'Loan, Luigo; Belle Mitchell, Margarita; Bertram Grassby, Felipe; Betty Warren, Isabella Haske Naswood, tribal chief; Kenneth Randall, expositor; James A. Hall, Frank Hayton; M. B. Rideout, Dr. Morong; Burdette Raynor, Father Gaspara; Helen Wilhelm, Mara; Mrs. H. B. Jones, Aunt Ri Hyer; Kenneth Slaybaugh, Joe; Maure Hurt, Jim Farrar; Oliver P. Ensley, Jake, and J. W. McCann, Merrill.

Prominent citizens of this city and of San Jacinto, Cahuilla Indians and school children will support the principals in the spectacular play which is enlivened with gay fiesta scenes and thrilling episodes featuring horsemen.

The play is presented as a community non-profit enterprise by the residents of the twin cities, without the use of artificial properties of any kind. Reserved seats in the Ramona Bowl, a concrete theater seating 6000, may be obtained at the Owl Drug Store, Sixth and Broadway, leading department stores and branches of the Lloyd Mitchell agency in Los Angeles and near-by cities.

Oil Companies Seek Sites for Their Stations

REDLANDS, April 20.—Maybe there are more gasoline stations in Southern California than you can count but the big oil companies are still willing to take a chance.

Since the new tourist hotel for East State street has become virtually assured, representatives of corporations with gasoline to sell have been angling for desirable corners in that neighborhood.

Both south corners at Beacon and Citrus and a corner at Seventh and State streets have been sought. The unwillingness of the Y.M.C.A. to sell its triangular strip at Beacon and Citrus has blocked plans of several companies to put a station there.

When the site for the new Y.M.C.A. was acquired, Arthur Gregory bought the corner strip for less than $1000, then deeded it to the Y.M.C.A. so that "ice cream cones," gasoline stations, and other structures which might not harmonize with the new building would be barred. Since then the association officials have been approached with offers to buy the strip at a much larger price than it cost Gregory.

A gasoline station is now being built in the triangle at the junction of the Yucaipa and Beaumont roads.

DANCERS IN REHEARSAL ON STRAND

Mistress of Terpsichorean Art Brings Coterie of Her Artists to Santa Monica

SANTA MONICA, April 20.—Plans for a huge marine ballet to be staged in a forthcoming motion-picture production were revealed today when Albertina Rasch, internationally known mistress of the dance, brought a coterie of her artists here for preliminary rehearsals on the strand.

Extensive tests were made by sound cameras to determine the effect of the roar of the surf as an atmospheric accompaniment to the evolutions of the dancers. The ballet artists, who are appearing in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer productions, are proteges of Miss Rasch's new international studio of the dance in Hollywood.

The maestra of the dance, who is internationally famed as the creator of the American ballet, states that she is enthusiastic over the inspiration provided by seashore as an open-air training location.

Southern California girls, by reason of the physical development through living outdoors, have been outstanding members of the troupes of dancers she has employed in productions for Florenz Ziegfeld and other stage impresarios. Several girls from the West Bay beaches are numbered in the most promising proteges of her new Hollywood studio.

Choosing Mayor Awaits Recall

HAWTHORNE, April 20.—Possibility that the choice of a Mayor and changes which are understood to be contemplated in the City Hall force may not take place until after the recall election of Tuesday was expressed here today. Taking office on the City Council tomorrow night are F. A. Jones, J. S. Mackey and A. J. McGee, all representatives of the Taxpayers' Protective Association.

The association which successfully defended Councilman William P. Reese in a recall action a few weeks ago has a candidate for a place on the Council in Tuesday's recall, directed against Councilman Fraser, and is expected to await the outcome of that poll before setting a course of action.

Mayor Robert Ramage and City Councilman Frank Breen, whose terms of office will be completed tomorrow night, are also named in the recall action, their names appearing on the ballot.

Reese, said to be favored for the office of Mayor, has already served in that capacity having been succeeded by Mayor Ramage in a majority vote of the City Council last December.

Harry Edwards Named Director of Veterans' Aid

SANTA ANA, April 20.—Harry Edwards of this city, former State adjutant of the Disabled Veterans of the World War, today was preparing to assume his duties as director of veterans' welfare in Orange county, a post created by the county Supervisors in a resolution which also created a veterans' welfare fund to be administered by Edwards under county supervision.

Appointment of Edwards fulfilled plans of the veterans' organizations of the county, which laid the proposal before the Supervisors some months ago through its welfare committee, Dr. Glen Curtis of Brea; Mrs. F. L. Chapline of Orange, Wilbur Getty and George E. Hubbard of this city. Details of the exact plan by which a veterans' department could be added to the county welfare department under Aid Commissioner W. S. Gregg were worked out at a recent meeting. Edwards will act as a deputy aid commissioner.

The fund which he will administer will be recruited from contributions from veterans' organizations, who will henceforth divert their welfare finances to this agency; also all other donations and bequests, the resolution provides. Expenditures from this fund, because of the official status of the department, must be made through the usual county channels, with the authority of the County Auditor and Treasurer.

Edwards, who has been welfare director for the Santa Ana veterans' organizations for several years, will assume his new duties May 1, at a salary of $150 per month.

HOSPITAL HEAD ON JOB

SAN FERNANDO, April 20.—Dr. D. C. Farnsworth, new head of the United States Veterans' Hospital, has arrived here and has taken up his duties. He succeeds Dr. S. H. James, who has departed with his family for Tucson, Ariz., where Dr. James will be in charge of the Veterans' Hospital there.

ESTRANGED WIFE SLAIN BY SPOUSE

Santa Barbara Waitress Killed by Husband Who Then Ends Own Life

SANTA BARBARA, April 20. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Marie Bates, 25 years of age, waitress in a Coast Highway inn on the outskirts of this city, was shot dead early today by her estranged husband, Earl E. Bates, who then turned the gun on himself and committed suicide. The double tragedy took place in the lobby of the hotel where Mrs. Bates was employed.

According to John E. McDaniel, night clerk who witnessed the slaying, Bates had evidently slipped into the hotel lobby unseen and had secreted himself behind a staircase. Mrs. Bates, returning from an automobile ride, stopped to chat with the clerk and was confronted by her husband, who pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired four bullets into the woman's body. Bates then threatened the clerk but apparently changed his mind and fired one shot into his own brain.

Mrs. Bates was said to have come to Santa Barbara from San Francisco several weeks ago following a quarrel with her husband. The latter, a mechanic, discovered her whereabouts and trailed her to Santa Barbara, arriving last night.

Anaheim Seems Bewildering to Some Motorists

ANAHEIM, April 20.—Anaheim is growing, in fact, it has become a city of bewildering size to some persons, according to evidence in possession of Harry Warton, police desk sergeant.

A. A. Grouch of Cypress called at the police station with a report that his automobile had been stolen from a parking place on North Los Angeles street. The police sergeant immediately notified police departments of neighboring cities. Fifteen minutes later the Anaheim police had found the Grouch car right where the Cypress man had left it.

But stronger proof of Anaheim's stature and claim to being a big city came from A. R. Selver of Anaheim. He appeared at the police station with a report that his machine had been spirited away while he was doing some shopping. The desk sergeant immediately went through the routine of notifying neighboring departments. Just as he finished the task one of the patrolmen on the street telephoned in with a report that he had found the Selver car where its owner had left it a half-block from the police station—and in it Mrs. Selver was patiently awaiting the return of her husband.

LONG BEACH'S FIRST DROWNING REPORTED

LONG BEACH, April 20.—The first drowning of the summer season here was recorded today when Bert Falconer, 19 years of age, of Belvedere Gardens, sank to his death in the surf off the west beach. Other youths with whom he had camped on the beach last night heard his cries and saw him go down as cramps seized him while he was swimming. They summoned life guards who went out and brought the body to shore. A fire department inhalator was used without avail in an effort at resuscitation. The body is at the Comer mortuary.

WIDER BOULEVARD SOUGHT

VAN NUYS, April 20.—For some time it has been proposed to make Van Nuys Boulevard, from the south edge of town to Ventura Boulevard, a distance of two miles, a boulevard 100 feet in width. A special meeting of all property owners on the thoroughfare will be held tomorrow night at the Chamber of Commerce, for a discussion of the improvement. It is now believed plans are soon to start to bring the project to completion.

Don't Attempt Overtaking Any Speeding Friend

ALHAMBRA, April 20.—If you see a friend exceeding the speed limit don't try to overtake him to tell him the news. You both may suffer.

Jesus Arana and Robert Beal, both of Los Angeles, are the two friends whose story points the moral. They were before Police Judge H. S. Farrell in traffic court, charged with going fifty-eight and fifty-nine miles an hour, respectively, on Valley Boulevard.

Arana's sister was with him in the car, it was disclosed. She suddenly remembered she had left the fire burning under the tamales at home. So Arana whirled his car around and started back for Los Angeles to the rescue of the tamales.

Beal was following Arana. So when the later turned, he followed suit and when he realized how fast his friend was traveling he tried to overtake him to tell him to slow down. At least that was the excuse rerelated to the court.

Each was fined $25. The fate of the tamales was not revealed.

Have you realized the ambitions, dreams of your youth? Are you the success you then anticipated? Have you a plan that will carry you to the goal of those dreams or are you destined to join that great 90% of all humanity who reach the age of 65 without a competence and are dependent upon friends or charity? Do you know that wealth is unlimited? Do you know there is a law governing success and failure that is as positive as the law of mathematics. This law is used by all successful men either consciously or unconsciously. We can teach you to use it consciously, successfully. We will give you this knowledge. We will show you how to use a natural law that has taken thousands of hopeless men and women and elevated them to positions of wealth and power. This knowledge can gain for you what no other earthly power can do. You have much that you could do with it, plans, ideals, hopes, dreams you want to make real. Things you will never be satisfied without. This knowledge means success in all its forms. It means all things to all men. When you have acquired this knowledge we will help you make more money than you ever thought possible. Time is ever working against you. Make this your red letter day. Free to both sexes.

IDAHO ORATORY WINNER NAMED

Youth Travels to Contest by Use of Dogsled

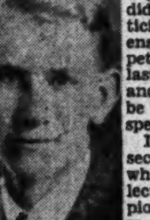
Arizona's Representative in Finals Also Selected

Ventura County's Victor Lad of Remarkable Traits

La Von Sorenson, an 18-year-old senior, in the Madison High School, Roxburg, Idaho, will represent that State in the Pacific Coast finals to be held at Seattle May 9.

FRANK REAL

The contest in Idaho, conducted by the Idaho Educational Association, was a most successful one, in spite of the fact that the earlier elimination meetings were held under adverse weather conditions. In the first competition, in which Sorenson participated, he had to travel to the meeting on a dog sled, as did other participants. Sorenson has competed for the last three years and is said to be a powerful speaker.



ALFRED BAUGHN

Idaho is the second State which has selected its champion. The first was Florida, which is to be represented by Miss Margaret Louise Royall, of the De Land High School. She will participate in the zone finals that will be held at Pittsburgh.

Reports from the State of Alabama, where the contest is sponsored by the Birmingham Age-Herald and Birmingham News, say "The competition is the closest we have ever had. This year practically all the contestants reaching the semifinal stage have been participating for two or three years. Of the ten State finalists, two are girls and eight boys."

ARIZONA'S CHAMPION

Alfred Baughn is the champion high-school orator for the State of Arizona. He was given the unanimous decision by the five judges. His poise, pleasant naturalness of voice and convincing logic swept away all opposition. Baughn was winner of his school contest last year and was placed third in the State meet. He showed himself apt in extemporaneous speaking. Alan Nichols, director of The Times contest bureau, addressed the large audience on the purpose and results of the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution.

Reports from the Hawaiian Islands indicate that the contest is creating more interest there this year than ever before. The crowds have been so large. The Honolulu Star-Bulletin, which sponsors the contest in the islands, has had to provide checkers to see that the number of persons entering the auditorium does not exceed the maximum allowed under the fire regulations for the islands.

REMARKABLE STUDENT

Frank Real, winner in Ventura county, came to this country from Spain about seven years ago. He is the sole support of a mother, sister and brother. After school, he works as a janitor in one of the Ojai schools; caddies on Saturday and works at a grocery store in the summer. Still Frank maintains an average "B" in his studies. He has been president of his class three years and has held an office in the Agriculture Club of the school.

The Times recently described his activities in the poultry business, being one of the most successful amateurs in the State. With all his extra work, young Real found time and had the ambition to participate in the contest and won against a half dozen other schools.

Thomas F. Farrell has just retired after serving as registrar of Hull County Court, in England, for fifty years.

Miss Marion Wigren

"Tons of Money," English comedy, is the vehicle chosen by the dramatic clubs of Loyola University and Immaculate Heart College for their first joint theatrical offering Monday and Tuesday evenings, the 28th and 29th inst., in the little theater of the Hollywood college, under direction of Jerome R. Kelly, head of the department of dramatics.

The cast, students of both schools, includes William Rasch, Bernard Kearney, Wilfred Mead, Edward Krueger, Tom Carroll, Traber Feitshans, Marion Wigren, Victoria Bassi, Charlynne Gates and Marie De Rochie. Between-acts features will be presented by Walter O'Malley and Cutrina Coffey.

RESCUER AT FIRE LANDS IN HOSPITAL

Arm Severely Gashed as He Beats on Window to Awaken Sleepers

His arm severely lacerated when a window broke as he was attempting to arouse occupants of a four-family flat at 170 Toluca street early yesterday while the roof of the structure was in flames, E. A. Basset, 170½ Toluca street, was removed to the Georgia-street Hospital for treatment by police.

Basset was awakened by the crackle of flames and ran to the street to find the roof of the building in flames. He awakened other occupants of the house and as he beat against a first-floor window to arouse a resident the glass shattered and he was badly cut.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than two hours before it was brought under control. The loss will exceed $2000, officials report.

Tree-Climbing Fatal to Child

Climbing a tree proved a fatal amusement yesterday morning for Raymond E. Evans, 5 years of age, of 340 Sunset avenue, Venice. When his feet slipped from a branch the lad fell about fifteen feet, one leg caught in the crotch of another limb, and his head struck the tree trunk.

He died a few minutes later in the emergency hospital at the Venice Police Station. The body was removed to the Kirkelie, Bernard & Peek undertaking establishment in Ocean Park.

GLENDALE MAN INJURED IN FALL FROM TREE

E. M. Burnett, 28 years of age, of 804 Elk street, Glendale, with a party of friends, visited Big Tujunga Canyon yesterday. Among things he did was to climb a tree. He fell and broke his left leg in two places. Officer Lambert of the Tujunga police department took him to the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital at Glendale for treatment.

Talker's Victim Asks Ordinance

When a man walks into a room where he doesn't belong and puts in a telephone call to New York, running up a bill of $34, what recourse has the owner of the room, who has to foot the bill?

None at all, says John Armitage, the victim of just such an incident. He respectfully requests the City Council to adopt legislation which will permit him to take action against the long-distance speaker.

The Council referred the problem to its legislative committee.

WAR NURSE WILL RECEIVE CITATIONS ON HONEYMO

A wedding to precede a honeymoon trip to England, where the bride will receive decorations from Queen Mary for her activities as a World War nurse, will be celebrated today at 8 a.m. in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather at Forest Lawn Memorial Park when Miss Catherine Leishman of Scotland and Charles C. L. Leslie of Los Angeles are united in marriage.

Miss Leishman, member of a Scottish family of historic lineage, was one of the founders of the nurses' organization of the British army early in the war, and was at the head of a base hospital close to the front for many months during the conflict. For distinctive services in that capacity, she was awarded several decorations of
